United Way extends campaign

Greater Fulton United Way Drive Chairperson Iva Miller today announced an extension of the 1979 campaign, and urged local residents to support the fundraising drive.

"It's not too late to give your fair share," Mrs. Miller urged. "We still need additional pledges to meet our goal of $160,000."

Mrs. Miller issued an appeal to area residents who had not been reached, or who received pledge cards and did not return them, to send their contributions to the United Way office in the First Trust Bank Building in Fulton. She added that donors may also call the office at 593-1900 to arrange for volunteers to pick up their contributions.

"Because of their past histories of giving, we believe there are many people in the community who would want to contribute to the United Way, and we urge them to take advantage of this extension of the campaign to do so," Mrs. Miller said.

The Greater Fulton United Way helps support the operations of eleven non-profit agencies in the City of Fulton, village of Phoenix, and towns of Granby, Palermo, Schroeppel and Volney.

Red Cross can help

When trouble strikes, the local Red Cross Chapter is a helpful resource, whether it's a blood donation, disaster relief, or simply the use of a wheelchair when a member of the family is ill or disabled.

The Fulton Red Cross Chapter is an active assistance organization and currently needs donations from the community of wheelchairs, commodes and walkers to replenish a completely bare loan closet at this time, according to Executive Secretary Janet Lewis who runs the chapter office in the Key Bank on South Second Street in Fulton.

"Every last piece of hospital equipment is in use by some area patient," Mrs. Lewis stated. "We hate to have to refuse anyone and hope that we can some how restock our loan closet from contributions from the community. If anyone has something in the way of equipment for the disabled, particularly wheelchairs, commodes and walkers, please call me at the Red Cross office, 593-8336. We'll arrange to pick it up promptly," Mrs. Lewis stated, stressing that a gift of this kind would be tax deductible.

The Fulton Red Cross is a member of the United Way of Greater Fulton.
