FULTON, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19, 1919

Vol. 63; No. 12

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Republican Electors of Oswego County:
I wish to announce my candidacy for the Republican designation at the coming primary election, for the office of County Treasurer of Oswego county, and respectfully solicit your support in my behalf.

George H. Fuller.

Fulton has never been accorded the honor of having one of its citizens elected to this important office. I have always been a member of the Republican party since arriving at my majority and have worked to the best of my ability to assist in the election of Republicans throughout the county to the several offices to which they have been nominated. I have served the county as a member of the Board of Supervisors as the representative of the Fourth and Fifth wards of the city of Fulton for the past five terms, and at the annual session last December I was unanimously elected chairman of the board.

If nominated and elected to the office of County Treasurer I shall endeavor to conduct the affairs of this office to the best of my ability, and trust I may have the support of the Republicans of Oswego county in the primaries.

Very truly yours,
George H. Fuller.
Fulton, N. Y., March 15, 1919.

FULTON'S CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY TREASURER

It is with pleasure that The Fulton Patriot this week announces the candidacy of Supervisor George H. Fuller of this city for the Republican designation at the coming primary election for the office of county treasurer.

It is the first time in the history of the county that Fulton has presented a candidate for this important office, but the Republicans of this city—one of the strongholds of Republicanism of Oswego county—feel that in presenting the name of Mr. Fuller for the consideration and approval of the Republican party of Oswego county for this important office, they are certainly offering to the voters of this county a candidate who is one of the most active workers for the best interests of the county, and one who has demonstrated that he possesses the necessary qualifications to conduct the duties of the office of county treasurer with satisfaction to the people of the county and with credit to himself.

Mr. Fuller was born in Fulton and has always made this city his home. In 1909 he was nominated by the Republicans for supervisor for the district composed of the Fourth and Fifth wards and was elected by a handsome majority. He has been re-elected each succeeding term and is now completing his fifth consecutive term. As a member of the board of supervisors he has served on many important committees and his painstaking, efficient service accounts for his increasing popularity. The members of the board had such confidence in his ability that on Nov. 11, 1918, he was unanimously elected chairman of the board and served with satisfaction.

Mr. Fuller is one of the leaders among the business men of Fulton. He has been for several years associated with Whitaker & Bogardus, Inc., in the insurance and real estate business and is holding the position of secretary in this corporation.

At a recent meeting of the Fulton Republican city committee the following resolutions were unanimously passed endorsing Mr. Fuller's candidacy:

Whereas, the City of Fulton gives one of the largest majorities for the Republican ticket at nearly every county election, and said city has not had a Republican for a number of years, and the Republicans of this city feel that Fulton is entitled to recognition from the party in Oswego county in this regard; and

Whereas, the members of the Republican city committee of Fulton believe that the designation of George H. Fuller for the office of county treasurer at the coming primaries would add untold strength to the ticket, and at the same time assure the election of one of the most competent and popular members of the Republican party in Oswego county; therefore,

Resolved, That the Republican city committee of Fulton, at a meeting of its members held this day of February, 1919, respectfully endorses the candidacy of Supervisor George H. Fuller for the office of county treasurer and pledges its undivided support and assistance towards securing his designation for the office of county treasurer on the Republican ticket at the coming primaries.

Resolved, further, That this committee in endorsing the candidacy of George H. Fuller does so in recognition of his valuable services as a member of the Board of Supervisors for the past ten years and as chairman of said board, and also as a consistent worker in the Republican party.

EMPIRE THEATRE, SYRACUSE.

With Julia Sanderson and Joseph Cawthorn—America's most successful and most popular musical comedy star combination—in its principal roles, supported by the cast of celebrities associated with them during the remarkable run of the piece just ended at the Globe theatre in New York, "The Canary," Charles Dillingham's most recent contribution to the musical comedy stage, will be shown at the Empire for three nights and a Saturday matinee commencing Thursday, March 20th.

A quarter of a million persons who saw "The Canary" during its stay on Broadway found it to be the most humorous, the most melodious as well as the most beautiful medium for the unusual talents of Miss Sanderson and Mr. Cawthorn that has yet been devised. Coming to Syracuse with such a reputation, added to the prestige of being a characteristic Dillingham production, and taking into account the local popularity of the stellar players and of their able associates, there is every reason for looking forward to this engagement as one of the most appreciable events of the season.

Sam B. Hardy, Doyle and Dixon and Maud Plunge are perhaps the most notable of the Sanderson-Cawthorn assistants. The first is remembered by reason of his visits to Syracuse as the incumbent of the principal male role, first of "The Princess Pat" and later of "The Riviera Girl." Doyle and Dixon, who were featured last season in "Chin-Chin," have been called the best dancing team in America. Maud Plunge, well known as a character comedienne, is making her first appearance in musical comedy and incidentally achieving an enviable success. Others of the company are Louis Harrison, Edna Bates, George Egan, Gordon and Thomas and Marie Callahan.

Ivan Carpil and Irving Berlin, exponents of different, but equally popular schools of music, provided the score for "The Canary." There are 33 musical numbers. A humorous and stirring story, of exceptional beauty, such as constitute a feature of every Dillingham production, earned for itself characterization from New York's most conservative newspaper as a "chorus of romping loveliness."

FULTON'S CHARTER CHANGES.

Mayor Lewis was in Albany last week looking after the city's interests in the matter of amendments to the city charter. He was informed by Alderman Edward C. Stevens, who is in Albany, that he had better come to Albany and look after some of the legislation. The mayor hurried to the capitol and found that some changes had been made that were not desirable.

The charter amendment providing for the abolishing of the board of public works and investing its duties in the common council had been presented making the superintendent of public works the only authority in public works proceedings. Mayor Lewis succeeded in having this changed so that the superintendent will be under the direction of the common council.

Mayor Lewis also found that the chairman of the cities committee was objecting to the amendment to make the tenure of office of the city chamberlain continuous during good behavior. The chairman of the cities committee thought the office should go with other appointive officers, whose terms expire with that of the mayor.

Mayor Lewis pointed out that the cities committee chairman's argument was good only so far as the affairs of a large city are concerned, where the treasurer's office contains a large force maintained year after year, among the personnel of such an office force being usually a deputy who is kept continuously. In this city, however, the mayor pointed out, the office of the city chamberlain has been left each two years, under the old method, without the services of anyone experienced in the affairs of the office.

When the matter was placed before him the chairman of the cities committee saw the situation in a new light and withdrew his objections.

It is fortunate that Mr. Stevens made these discoveries so that they could be corrected before the passage of the bill. Mayor Lewis is also entitled to the thanks of the people for his painstaking efforts.

Two Victory specials, the demonstration train, with Mrs. Brewer in charge, will be in Oswego county the first week in April, making it possible for people of the county to avail themselves of the opportunity of having them in four different communities. Central Square has also expressed a desire for the car to visit there.

G. W. Whitney of Cornell university, will return to Oswego county this week for "community sings." Wednesday afternoon and evening at Central Square and Fenwood; Thursday afternoon and evening at Orwell and Lacona; Friday afternoon at Mt. Pleasant and Friday evening at Fulton.

Those who went from here and trained at Camp Dix before going overseas, are Corporal C. Clyde Ingamells, Herbert E. Groth, Frank Hollenbeck, Claude McCarthy, Mason B. Sherman, James Stevens and Francis Wallace. Among the battles they participated in, according to the letter just received, were St. Mihiel, Sept. 12th to 16th; Limy sector, Sept. 17th to Oct. 5th; Meuse-Argonne, Oct. 11th to Nov. 6th.

After serving with the transport service since Aug. 1, 1917, Leon Dexter, ship's cook, first class, has been relieved from active duty with the naval militia and has returned to his home in Fulton. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Dexter of 230 Cayuga street. His entire service was spent on the U. S. S. FOR GOODS ROADS.

It has been authoritatively stated, based on experience, that good roads are savings banks for the taxpayers, and history has demonstrated this assertion is correct in numerous instances.

The progressive residents of the town of Volney will hold a special election tomorrow, Thursday, March 20th, to vote on the proposition of appropriating $5,000 for the improvement of the roads in that town. The required petition for such an election has been filed with Town Clerk Coles and the election will be held at the town hall, the polls being open from 9 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

V. V. Vant, supervisor of the town, states that there are many roads under consideration and among them are the Emory, North Volney, one running south from Volney Center and the Swamp road in the southern part of the town; the latter road is a great deal, as it is the leading highway from Fulton to Penningtonville and Central Square. It is used in drawing the products of the muck farms near Ingalls Crossing to market. It is said the movement will be almost unanimously supported in the southern part of the town. A preliminary canvass of the taxpayers of the town, indicates the proposition will be carried by a handsome majority.

The town of Volney is one of the largest and most prosperous in the county and its residents are practical, progressive and successful tillers of the soil.

The fact that good roads save time and enable the produce raisers to draw heavier loads to market, makes the investment one that will pay large dividends to the town—in short, the savings by having good roads will be sufficient in a few years to pay the cost of construction and upkeep of the roads.

There is also the patriotic side to the question. The construction of these roads will furnish employment to many of the soldier boys just returning from overseas and camp life. All through the nation the spirit of highway improvement is gaining favor. The country never was so prosperous. Good roads will make it more so for those residing along the highways. The town of Volney is keeping step in this new era of town, city and national development.

NEW PAVING PLANS.

The board of public works met on Monday evening to consider the matter of new pavements in the city.

It was decided to start paving work on Phillips, Worth, South Fourth, North Sixth and Park streets and City Engineer Hill was instructed to prepare specifications and advertise for bids.

The board reconsidered its intention to pave South Fourth street from Buffalo to Oneida, Academy street from Third to Fourth, Pratt street from Fourth to Seventh and North Seventh from Oneida to Ontario.

Petitions were received for paving of West Second street from Phillips to Hart and Hart street from West First to Second.

I. Alderman requested the board to lay a 24-foot pavement on West Third street from Schuyler to Gansevoort, and Schuyler street from First to Fourth. Hearings were announced for April 2d.

Lands Return to Indians.

Federal Judge Ray last week handed down a decision in the U. S. court, that 1,100 acres in Oneida, taken on foreclosure in 1916, in state courts, must be returned to the Oneida Indians.

The case centers on 32 acres, held by Julia Boylan and Anna Mayer, who secured it after a foreclosure and partition action in the state courts, following the giving of a mortgage of $500 by Indians, but is a test case that covers 1,100 acres in the city of Oneida.

Judge Ray holds that the United States and the Oneida Indians still maintain and occupy toward each other the relation of guardian and ward; that the partition action, judgment and decree of sale made by the state courts is void as far as the United States and the Oneida Indians are concerned, and the Indians were wrongfully ejected and removed from the lands.

WASHINGTON MONUMENT FOR FRANCE

George Harvey, in a recent issue of his patriotic publication, "The Weekly," says: "What more fitting memorial to the gallant sons of America who fought and died abroad could be devised than an exact reproduction of the Washington monument, to be erected, through voluntary contributions by our whole people, upon the famous battlefield in France."

Mr. Harvey maintains that there could be no better memorial erected on the battlefield of France than the second Washington monument, as it typifies the character of the father of our republic, who put aside the proffered crown. That it would be a constant reminder of the undying gratitude of America to France and of the freshly stirred appreciation by France of the service now rendered in return by America. Together with the memories that would be surrounding such a monument would be the lasting inspiration to both.

As to the feasibility of the plan, the writer holds that it can be executed for $3,000,000. More than three million Americans were engaged in the war; that the cost would be about $1 each. But there are many who would want to contribute more to such an undertaking and there is no doubt the amount could be raised in a few days after the inauguration of such a campaign. No free-will offering from the people of America to the people of France could be devised. All that real live Americans are waiting for is the official announcement that such a campaign is on. Mr. Harvey is entitled to the thanks of the entire country for his timely and patriotic suggestion. That it may develop into a nation-wide movement at an early date, is the wish of all our people.

Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, after reading Mr. Harvey's suggestion, made the following statement:

"I am particularly impressed with this suggestion. This seems to me a really splendid idea, both to have this particular monument and to have it paid for in the way he suggests. The Washington monument, in its simplicity and in its magnificence, typifies the spirit of America which we all recognize as the spirit of America regardless of any cross-currents which have ever existed. It can inspire the patriotic thrill that an exact replica of this monument would give to visitors in France from this country in all future years; what a reminder, and indeed a warning, it would be to all the peoples of Europe of the power for righteousness which is this country; and especially what a fitting tribute to our soldiers who died there. The idea grows tremendously."
