City of Fulton, as: I hereby certify that the above resolutions were duly adopted at a meeting of the common council of the city of Fulton, held at the city hall, on the 1st day of Feb., 1921. M. C. Woodbury, City Clerk. Approved this 1st day of Feb., 1921. John W. Stevenson, Mayor.

CITY BOND SITUATION. At the last meeting of the common council Mayor Stevenson informed the members that the bonds the city wishes to sell—$125,000—have been called down by Attorney J. H. Caldwell of New York city, the bond expert, who says the charter is off on the bond question. The mayor stated he had requested Attorney Caldwell to draft a bill for passage by the legislature that will make the bonds legal. The bill, the mayor stated, was in the hands of the bill drafting department at Albany and will soon be returned to the common council for review. It is thought the tangle will be straightened out in a few weeks and the bonds will be again offered for sale. Two Bills Introduced. Last Wednesday Senator Pitcher introduced two bills in the senate to make the bond issues legal. One bill legalizes the bonds for the city fire fund, police fund and poor fund. The other legalizes the issue for the improvement of South First, South Fourth, Hannibal and West First streets and the Bowers Corners road.

THE STATE GRANGE. Over 1,000 delegates registered at the annual session of the State Grange, held at Utica last week, and the sessions were unusually interesting. The experience of the past year, the tumbling of prices, inability to sell their products and other handicaps, brought the members of the organization to a greater realization of the value of co-operation and closer organization as their only hope of salvation. Among the prominent speakers were National Grange Master Lowell, State Grange Master Giles and President Beam of the Grange League Federation. Grange League Federation. The report of General Manager Richard Hall was a story of most gratifying accomplishment. Sales made through the exchange from June 2 to Dec. 31, 1920, reached a total of $914,517.70. Sales added during the month of January had brought the total up to $1,396,849.20. That the farmers are realizing more and more the value of selecting good seed is shown by the fact that during the past six months $280,000 of the total sales was seed. The more universal use of spray in combating disease is made apparent in the fact that $100,000 of the business was for spray materials. These orders will be tripled, Mr. Hall declared. In the matter of supplying the farmers with materials, President Hall said that the exchange has been able to get its patrons greater results than would otherwise be obtained through co-operation with the state agricultural society. Seed, fertilizer and spray adapted for the particular locality where it is to be used has proved a great benefit to the farmers, he said. In his financial report, Secretary E. C. Weatherby stated that about $700,000 of the authorized capital of $1,000,000 has been subscribed and that there is every reason to believe that the balance will be subscribed by the last of June. The following directors for this year were elected: Raymond Hitchings, Onondaga Valley, representing the New York State Grange; Harry Bull of Campbell Hall, for the Fairview Grange; Fred Porter of Crown Point, representing the New York State Federation of Farm Bureau associations.

State Grange Increase. The state grange added 4,464 new members in 1920, and 17 new subordinate and one new Pomona granges, according to the report of F. J. Riley of Seneca, secretary. It now has a total of 134,430 members. W. L. Bean of McGraw, treasurer, said expenses during 1920 amounted to $41,928.61, and balance on hand is $39,443.91. Resolutions were passed condemning the daylight savings law and a committee was appointed to go to the legislature, representing 134,000 grangers, demanding its repeal; against the St. Lawrence river route; criticizing the Conservation commission for favoring sportsmen in place of the people; opposing single-tax plans; urging continuation of support to the farm and markets council, and the formation of a definite state agricultural policy, and pointing out the reclamation projects; French "truth in fabric" bill needed to protect the sheep industry, and the telephone rate situation, rural schools, health centers and immigrations as matters needing the best thought of the association. Indorsed the governor's economy program, and Betts' bill to prohibit hunters trespassing on farms without owners' permits, greater protection on wool and other farm products; election or appointment of practical farmers to public offices; more intelligent representation in dealing with agricultural interests; favored putting the state barge canal on a better business basis for the benefit of the people of the state. Oswego county sent a delegation of over 50 representatives to the state grange. In the closing session the organization went on record as approving of the good work done by the state troopers and urging an increase in the members. It also stood for the continuance of the primary law, and for the abolition of the state excise department. The feeling against hunters trespassing without a permit was strongly in evidence. The question of raising funds for the starving people in foreign countries was taken up and several hundred dollars raised. When the delegates reach home the 900 subordinate and Pomona granges will take up the relief work. The 1921 session of the state grange is said to have been the best annual ever held in the history of the organization.

NEARING HIS CENTURY. On March 28th at his home at Clifton Springs, Rev. Edward Lord will celebrate his 100th birthday anniversary. The older residents of Fulton will remember Rev. Edward Lord as a former pastor of this city, where he resided for years with his family, and on March 29th Chester S. Lord and his sons will join Mrs. Anna Celinda Lord Merritt, Royal M. Merritt of Clifton Springs, Mrs. Gerald Merritt MacMillan of Boston, and Mrs. Anna Merritt Brock, also of Boston, for the birthday party. The elder Lord was born on a farm near Ithaca, March 29, 1821, studied for the ministry and was graduated from Williams college in 1843, and today is the oldest living alumnus. Later he entered the Auburn Theological seminary, then took a charge at Romulus, this state, and afterwards came to Fulton; from here he went to Adams. In the Civil war he was chaplain in the 116th regiment. He was in the campaign of General Banks and was at the siege of Port Hudson on the Mississippi river. His grandfather fought in the Revolutionary war, his father held a commission as lieutenant-colonel in the War of 1812, and his grandson, Edward Merritt, made the supreme sacrifice in the World war. Mr. Lord is still hale and hearty and would pass for a man in his seventies. He keeps well posted on current events, enjoys hunting and fishing, and in his 98th year went fishing with his son, Chester, and showed skill in handling the rod. His only trouble is a slight affection of rheumatism. His son, Chester S. Lord, who started in the printing business in Fulton, became a reporter on Oswego Times, and later became managing editor of the leading New York papers, has the following to say of his honored father: "The blue laws are old friends of his. He grew up with them. We did, too, for that matter. For years it was a heinous offense to leave our own yard on the Sabbath, to dance, or to invite the presence of the devil by playing cards. In the last few years, though, he has 'thawed out' a bit, and regards some of the modern pastimes with more leniency than formerly." Mr. Lord's old-time friends congratulate him on his attaining the golden age of a centurian and wish him prolonged health and happiness, which are better than fleeting riches.

STAMPING OUT TUBERCULOSIS. Efforts to stamp out tuberculosis from the dairy herds in Oswego county are being made through the Farm Bureau association. At a recent meeting of representative breeders a committee was appointed to formulate plans for the campaign. This committee will set forth its plans soon, it is expected. It is expected that the committee will recommend the employment of a veterinarian, to have his headquarters at the Farm Bureau office. The salary and traveling expenses of the doctor will be paid out of the fund created by the attaching of a fee per cow from each dairyman who joins the movement to have his herd tested at regular intervals. It is pointed out that by a careful and thorough inspection the disease can be stamped out. The committee to make plans for the work is as follows: Dr. L. Hollis of Lacona, Hugh Whitney of Pulaski, E. J. Lomis of Hannibal, George Chebro of Pennellville, and H. W. Hess of Phoenix. —Bank by mail with the Oswego County Trust Company. It is convenient and safe.

ARCOLA keeps house like Cousin Milt's. Wife and I went to New York to visit Cousin Milt. He lives in one of those apartment houses. I says to wife: "The only thing I envy Milt is his heat." "There's no sense being cold," she answers. "We're just as good as Milt. Go look up that ARCOLA chap who was out to set us." "Now we've got a nice warm bungalow with hot-water heat. And we're saving coal." The IDEAL-ARCOLA gives low-cost, healthful warmth through hot-water radiators, to the small home, store or school. Places the radiator, with or without ceiling, on the heating plane of the first floor in the land. Replaces stove, heats no coal gas, wastes no heat up chimneys. Heats all rooms on one fuel, has a stove required for one room. Complete system, installed by your local dealer, costs but little more than a stove for each room and far less than old expense for a hot-water heating system. "Son, when I was a Lad—" "WHEN we rolled into town on the old stage coach the sight of a tobacco shop was the journey's brightest spot to us lads—because it meant more good 'Old Warnick.' We smoked it then—before those soft, steam-heated days. We smoke it now—because we've always known the joy of a pure tobacco. And 'Old Warnick' is pure—best good old blended Burley without frills or extras." L. WARNICK BROWN & CO., UTICA, N.Y. If your taste demands a Superior tobacco, try "PALMY DAYS." WARNICK & BROWN—No. 1.
