BEN-HUR America's Finest

farm and home freezer

When buying meats, I buy in bulk quantities — sides or quarters. When buying vegetables, I buy by the crate, bushel, or hamper. And I do the buying "in-season" when prices are lower, quality higher. And I freeze them all in my BEN-HUR. It's the 12.5 cubic foot size and holds up to 625 lbs. of frozen foods.

But cutting food costs isn't the only reason I'm sold on a BEN-HUR. It cuts meal preparation time considerably. I can cook several meals at a time — freeze them in the BEN-HUR for quick warm-up at serving time. And there are so many more conveniences my BEN-HUR affords me.
