Viet vet who threatened jump termed ‘angry guy’

By ELLIE ROSENBLUM

A Vietnam veteran who threatened to leap from a fire escape onto the street outside the Veterans Administration Hospital in Mamaroneck at the end of last week was described as an ‘angry guy’ by the police. The veteran, a 36-year-old man, told officers that he was ‘very angry’ with the hospital staff and was planning to jump from the window of his room. He was detained by officers and taken to the hospital for evaluation.

Policeman exonerated in shooting

By WILL DAVID

Staff Writer

A Westchester County grand jury probing the March 11 shooting death of a Yonkers man has decided not to charge the officer involved in the shooting, according to sources. The officer, who shot the man in self-defense, was not named. The shooting occurred during a traffic stop in the town of Mount Kisco.

Man dies after Surgical procedure

By WILL DAVID

A 53-year-old Yonkers man was fatally shot down in broad daylight on a street in South Yonkers Thursday afternoon by one of four men who were rummaging through a parked car.

Murder ends city drug deal

By WILL DAVID

A 47-year-old Yonkers man was shot and killed in broad daylight on a city street in Yonkers Thursday afternoon.

CBers wired for Nodine Hill fire

On Friday evening, Neil and Alana McGrath, who live at 66 Van Cortlandt Avenue and are known as Cinderella and Wolfman, and also the Capozzi dog, Damon, a German shepherd, were sitting in their kitchen when they heard a noise.

THRU WAY ACCIDENT

A 24-year-old Yonkers man, shot in the chest in a July 4 shooting, was released from Jacobi Hospital on Wednesday.

Polish terrorists extend deadline

Rome, Aug. 11—Polish terrorists have extended their deadline for a war of nerves over the 15-year-old West Berlin hostage crisis.

Longo still drives 1982 city car

By BRIAN TUMILTY

A 38-year-old Yonkers man was killed in a motorcycle accident on a city street on Thursday afternoon. The man, who was a Yonkers Police Department officer, was riding his motorcycle when he was struck by a car.

D.A. to drop LaBorde charges

By GEORGE M. WALSH

Yonkers police have decided to drop charges against seven suspects involved in a recent hostage crisis.

In a motion filed Tuesday morning, Yonkers Assistant District Attorney Vincent J. Capozza, said that the D.A. has decided not to proceed with the charges against the suspects.

THRU WAY ACCIDENT

A 24-year-old Yonkers man, shot in the chest in a July 4 shooting, was released from Jacobi Hospital on Wednesday.

Inside

Fair, cool, tonight

Fair but cool tonight. Low to 56. Morning will bring possible showers, but the fair weather will continue as the week proceeds.

YONKERS

By Terri Hall

In the last 10 years, the Yonkers Housing Authority has been involved in numerous court battles and lawsuits. In recent years, the authority has sought to address some of these issues.

POLICE

A Yonkers police officer was injured in a shooting incident on Thursday night.

SPORTS

The Yonkers High School girls’ soccer team won their first game of the season with a 2-0 victory over Hyde Park High School.

Yonkers Today

A Yonkers Today, a new weekly newspaper, has begun publishing.

For home delivery call 472-2902