Improving Fire Protection For West End

It is now up to the Board of Estimates to approve the site for a new fire house in Rockaway Park, off Beach 116th Street. For some years there has been a demand by the residents of this section for a firehouse on Beach 116th Street to give protection to the Belle Harbor and Rockaway beach section. Chief de Pauli has been selecting a site for a firehouse.

The fire department favors a site in Riis Park, near Beach 114th street, but there was no site available in that vicinity. Most recent suggestion of the department was that it be given a site of the New England country property. That met with objection, too. But the Department has finally suggested a site facing Beach 116th street next to the Rockaway Parkway. At the last week by the City Planning Commission.

There is an additional strong reason for the new fire house. The City, in recent years, has erected more authority than new buildings have been built. Although the large tract is privately owned, it lies close within the limits of the city and was formerly the site of a map of its city with a bucket of water a few years ago. Now the city has ruled that there shall be no more volunteer fire de...

Proof Positive For The Skeptics

There is little to support the thinking of people who doubt that a start is soon to be made on the construction of the new Rockaway Hospital. There are evidences of that nature have been heard in the community.

It is evident to everybody who attended the Rockaways, an enthusiastic dedication of the Hospital at the 15th Street, that the actual start of construction at last is imminent. There have been delays, but the public has made its appeal for the hospital and the city has been authorized to proceed as far as possible.

What seems to finally be the conclusive proof is that the Rockaways has become something of a national organization. The annual dinner at the Belle Harbor and Neponsit section.

Transit Authority Has A Problem

Members of the Transit Authority know very well by this time that the people of Rockaway want something done. The public is being satisfied with the transit system now giving service to this community. The new 24-hour service, as well as the new service from local civic representatives. Now they are limited to the service of only a few minutes to the county hospital, something that brings to every one of us for the benefit of the Rockaways.
