Mayor Thomas has appointed George Brooks a special policeman and assigned him to duty.
Two arrivals of convicts at the prison to-day, from Batavia, for assault with intent to kill, and larceny.

It was not Abe Halsted who was drowned at Montezuma last week, but a stranger, supposed to be a boatman from Geneva.
Since Saturday morning, New York trains have been several hours late, owing to the carrying away of a bridge on the Hudson River road.

Mr. Director Post, of the Committee of the Southern Central, to raise means, has gone to Mauch Chunk to confer with the Lehigh Valley people in reference to another loan.
Susan B. Anthony, the Rochester female voter, is allowed her liberty by Deputy U. S. Marshal Keeney, and is attending the Woman's National Convention at Washington, when, according to the Herald's special, she made her appearance "by the kindness of the Marshal of the Auburn Prison." Slightly mixed.

PRISON APPOINTMENTS.—Heads continue to fall at the prison, and new officials to be detailed to duty under Copper John.
The following are the latest sworn in:
Keepers.
George E. Sheldon, Sennett.
Morton Hooford, Throop.
Mathias Ockenfels, Auburn.
Thomas Doyle, Auburn.
Richard Adams, Auburn.
Guards.
Jesse F. Coulter, Sennett.
Frank Hubner, Auburn.
Trooper.
Henry Simms, Auburn.

Not So.—Mr. Ed. Baldwin, City Clerk, informs us most positively that he has neither sought nor received any appointment as Deputy Clerk in the Assembly. He will consequently decline to furnish any benches or cigars to any mistaken individual whatever who may elect to secure the usual compliments of the season on the strength of such summation.
That man down in the Seventh Ward, especially, is notified to keep away, together with all harbor masters, clerks, assessors from down east, etc.

STOLE A WATCH.—Thomas Doyle, of Camillus, a brevet convict, was arrested by officer Daniels on Friday night, for intoxication, and spent the night in the station house. After being discharged on Saturday, Mr. William Thompson, a hotel keeper from Camillus, made complaint that Doyle had stolen a gold watch and chain from him, at Camillus, valued at $125. Doyle was re-arrested on the charge by officer Moore and was taken to Camillus in irons this morning, by Mr. Thompson, for examination. He had pawned the property for five dollars, but it was recovered.

WHEN GAME MAY BE TAKEN AND SOLD.—As it may be of importance to many, we present the following compiled synopsis of the game laws of the State, showing when to expose and sell different descriptions of game: Deer, moose, elk, caribou and wild deer may be killed and exposed for sale from September 1 to November 10, except in the counties of Suffolk, Kings and Queens, in which counties the killing of the above animals is prohibited by law for five years from 1871. All descriptions of wild duck and wild geese are in season from September 1 until May 1; woodcock from July 3 until January 1; quail from October 20 until January 1; ruffed grouse or partridge, pennated grouse, or prairie chicken from September 1 until January 1; brown thrashers, meadow larks or starting from August 1 to January 1.

SAFE ROBBED.—On Saturday night, the Central railroad ticket office in Rochester was entered and robbed of some $800. Telegrams were sent in all directions, and parties were examined in this city on suspicion, but released, and as no proof was found to exist against the same, we withhold the name.—Syracuse Courier.

LECTURE.—The next lecture in the Young Men's course is announced for Wednesday evening next, by Prof. E. S. Morse. Subject, with blackboard illustrations—"How Animals Move."

SOCIABLE.—A sociable for the benefit of the orphan asylum, will be held Tuesday evening, Jan. 21st, at the residence of H. N. Lockwood, 55 South street. All are cordially invited.

Another Wave on Lake Ontario
In a brief dispatch from Charlotte, on Friday, the Rochester Union announced that Lake Ontario had thrown another great wave upon its shore and into the Genesee River to the surprise of all who witnessed the phenomenon. The occurrence took place about half-past eleven A. M. The river was closed with solid ice below the upper docks and man and teams were on the ice cutting and hauling for storage. Without a moment's warning or indication that any movement of water was to take place in the Lake, the water began to rise and the ice toward the mouth of the harbor began to rise and crack, as if great waves were rolling under it. In less than four minutes water, ice and all, had risen over three feet and a half. Of course the ice was more or less flooded. The men employed in gathering ice fled to the shores lest they be overwhelmed. This advance of water receded in a short time and the lake and river became tranquil.

This is not the first phenomenon of the kind that has been noticed on the lake. Sometime last year the lake rose suddenly both at Charlotte and Oswego and all along the south shore.
This phenomenon can be accounted for upon no principle known to those who observe the effect of the wind upon the waters. It is hours rather than minutes before a heavy gale can cause such an agitation in the waters of the lake.

BUSINESS ON THE CENTRAL.—The editor of the Onondaga Union has been counting the trains and number of cars on the Central Road which pass his window every twenty-four hours. Here is the result, but we think it falls short the average number of cars of freight:
"We have ascertained that nineteen passenger trains pass Onondaga over the Central Railroad daily, with an average of six coaches each, including the baggage and express cars. The freight trains will average forty-six cars each, making 1,150 freight cars, which, added to the 114 coaches, make 1,264 cars that pass over the Central on an average every twenty-four hours, besides the 65 engines with their tenders. Now allowing (which is correct) the freight cars to be 28 feet in length, the coaches 35 feet, and the engines with their tenders 46 feet, they make an aggregate of 44,860 feet of rolling stock, which, together, would form one solid line of eight and one-half miles."

"SPORT" AT SING SING.—They have races at Sing Sing, described thus:
Another prisoner escaped Tuesday. He struck the Hudson river, and the guard followed, first emptying his gun, but not hitting the fugitive. The guard was a better runner than the prisoner and gained rapidly, but the latter took off his shoes and made a slight gain for a time, but was finally secured. The affair occurred in broad daylight, and prisoners and keepers gathered on the walls, to watch the race. Whenever the runners seemed to gain, the prisoners cheered, and when the guard made a point the keepers exultingly hurrahed. There was some danger of a row between the rival parties, but the prisoners finally decided that, if they broke up the prison, they would have to support themselves, so they did not punish the nominal rulers of the place.

THE LAST STRUGGLE.—One of our exchanges gives the following, which we take to be the last and greatest effort of some aspiring but disappointed, would-be local editor:
"We are in the midst of the season for parties, dancing, sleigh-riding, mirth and festivity. The resined hair of the pale horses travels merrily over the attenuated intestines of the agile cat, evoking music to which the impatient feet trip gaily upon the floor; while the jingle of the sleigh bells and the voices of the sleighed belles are still on every breeze."

The New York, West Side, and Chicago Railroad Company are making great preparations to rapidly prosecute their work at the opening of spring. It is expected that the road will cost at the rate of $62,000 per mile. It will be constructed in the most durable manner, supplied with the best masonry, iron bridges and a double track with steel rails.

An advertisement, properly worded, tends to make a name a fashion. It is spoken from one to another, and like all phrases which are much used, gets trimmed down into an easily spoken household word. For this reason some advertisers, instead of using the full firm name, will advertise their establishments as "Stewart's," "Tiffany's," &c.

Messrs. N. Hamblin and D. W. Barnes arrived home from New York on Sunday morning. The former went down on business—the latter to look at "the elephant."

DISTRIBUTION OF THE LITERATURE FUND.
At a meeting of the regents of the university, held on the tenth day of January, 1873, the distribution of $40,000 of the income of the literature fund, for the last year, was made among the several academies entitled to participate therein.
The following are the institutions in Western New York benefited by the distribution:
Auburn academic high school, $442 31
Cayuga lake academy, 41 47
Central New York conference, 808 60
Seminary, 18 82
Friends' academy,
Moravia union school, academy department, 110 58
Port Byron free school and academy, 76 03
Instruction of Teachers.
The regents apportioned to the following academies, the sums of money set opposite their names, for the support of instruction of common school teachers:
Auburn academic high school, 200 00
Port Byron free school and academy, 110 00
D. R. C.—The Dramatic Reading Club is still in active being, and "reading up" on a few farces. The rehearsals of the Club are kept up, and attention is now being paid to Tom Taylor's domestic drama, entitled "A Sheep in Wolf's Clothing," in which we are pleased to see that Mrs. Coe, Mrs. McNeil and Miss Julia Ferris take prominent parts, and Messrs. Towne, Kirby, J. Lewis and Herbert Grant will be welcomed by our people on its presentation at (we trust) no distant day.
It is expected, by the numerous friends of the D. R. C., that their next "bill" will be one to fully maintain if not greatly excel their previous successful efforts.

MARK TWAIN SAYS that the native average of the Sandwich Islands is so terrific that mere whiskey is foolishness to do it. It turns a man's skin to white fish-scales that are so tough a dog might bite him, and he would not know it till he read about it in the papers.
An Omaha burglar, aged seven, secreted himself and a revolver in a doctor's office, the other day, intending to blow the head of the medical man, ride his licentious jar and decamp, but the desperado's mother spanked him out of the idea.

PRISON.—Michael Bourke, of Owasco, was on Saturday last sworn in as a keeper in the prison.
The Sunday temperance meeting of the Rechabites was well attended yesterday. The address of Rev. A. B. Chamberlain was one of the most valuable and interesting of the series.
The annual meeting and election of the New York State Agricultural Society will be held at the capitol in Albany on Wednesday, (the 22d), at noon. The meeting will be continued as usual during the Thursday following.

All the farmers about Elmira are indignant because the merchants of that city threaten to pull up their hitching posts. An indignation convention will be held. The farmers, in retaliation, threaten to give the streets of Elmira a "Sunday aspect that knows no breaking."
Billy McKinzie, a tramp from Liverpool, was a lodger at the station house last night. Our reporter is under obligations to Mr. for an invitation to visit him at his residence, and "stay five years, without costing a cent." The invitation was only declined with reluctance on the score that the reporter's keeping must cost something to make it any wise comfortable.

SOMETHING WRONG.—The telegraph of Saturday night relates a Washington incident, in which an unknown Auburn mysteriously figures. The dispatch, dated on Saturday, says: "An anonymous letter was received at the Treasury Department this morning, from Auburn, N. Y., containing a coupon of a Union Pacific Railroad bond, of thirty five dollars in value. No explanation accompanied the letter. The amount was passed into the Treasury account."
VACCINATION.—A theory, which is not altogether a new one, has recently been revived publicly by Dr. D. S. Woodworth, of Fort Wayne, one of the oldest and most eminent physicians of Indiana. In a letter to the American Practitioner, he says that for thirty-four years he has held to the plan of vaccination by tartar emetic as fully as good a preventative of small pox as perfect vaccination. He adds that the fact is familiar to physicians, that there is an almost exact resemblance between tartar emetic pustules and vaccina, not only at their full development, but during the successive stages. He asks the question—why this artificial pustulation may not be "just as good a preventative as vaccination, since the same process has been gone through with and the same molecular changes?" and suggests that experiments be made in hospitals to prove this theory.

The Firemen.
Firemen are invited by President Towne, of the State Association, to meet at the Court House this evening, on business of importance.
Ex-Foreman Joe. Morris, late of Neptune Hose, was presented on Friday last with an elegantly framed photographic view of his old company and apparatus, by his former comrades of that organization. Walter Bray, of the Hooks, was similarly remembered.

COURT RECORD.
Circuit Court and Over and Terminer.
Hon. CHAS. C. DWIGHT, Presiding. ROLAND D. WARD and MICHAEL REED, Justices for Sessions.
Court convened at 11 o'clock A. M.
The breach of promise case is still on trial to-day.
The following criminal business is noted:
The people vs. Joshua W. Ketchum. Indicted for violation of excise law, in the town of Brutus. Plead not guilty and gave bail to Sessions.
The people vs. James Sturge. Indicted for similar offence. Plead guilty. Fined $50 or two months imprisonment.
The people vs. John Gage. Indicted for similar offence. Plead not guilty. Bail to sessions.
The people vs. Edward C. Gilson. Indicted for assault; and battery on John Horace Hall, in Brutus. Plead not guilty. Bail to Sessions.
The people vs. Lyman Whiting. Indicted for similar offence. Same disposal.
