Rev. Wm. Searle goes to Waterville, Onondaga county, on Thursday, to deliver an oration at the dedication of a Masonic Hall in that village.

A further stay of proceedings was granted to Coleman yesterday, at Rochester. It will continue until Saturday, by which time it is believed that the bill of exceptions in his case will be settled.

Sanders, the flour freight thief, has been admitted to bail, in Syracuse. There are four indictments against him, one for grand larceny and three for petit larceny. He has been released in $500 bail on the first, and on his own recognizance on the others.

The annual convocation of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of the State of New York, will commence in Albany, on Tuesday, February 23d, and on the evening of that day a grand reception will be given the members at Martin Opera House.

The New York World says: "A Madison county couple started on a train for Auburn to get married the other night. They made a mistake somewhere and landed in Rochester. After three hours of running, a minister was found and the knot was tied. They took a lot of trouble to get united and seemed satisfied with the result. But those who have been frequently married assert that if they have an ordinary run of luck they'll take even more trouble, if need be, to undo the ruin wrought by their parasitism."

CHANGE IN CENTRAL RAILROAD MANAGEMENT.—The report comes to us from what claims to be reliable authority, that at the next election of directors of the Central & Hudson River road the Vanderbilt party will be ousted. The new combination which, it is said, will obtain control of the road is headed by Erasmus Corning, Jay Gould and William G. Fargo. It is said that Mr. Corning, who has been some time in Europe, has secured control of all the stock held in Europe.

PAPER MILL BURNED.—Loss of LIFE.—The telegraph announces that the paper mill of Mr. Dobilinski, at Phelps, was burned on Sunday night. The loss is $25,000; insured for $12,000. The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. Dobilinski perished in the flames, and a workman named Pat Connors was badly burned.

It is supposed the proprietor had been engaged for some time in making repairs in the mill, when the fire broke out and all means of exit were cut off. Mr. Dobilinski came from Baltimore and purchased the mill in which he met his death, in November last. He was regarded as a very industrious and active business man. He leaves a wife and family.

It is estimated that the pecuniary loss attending the sad occurrence cannot be less than $40,000.

DONAHUE AND EGGLER.

Their Application Denied.

A telegram to the District Attorney, this afternoon, announces that the verdict in the cases of Donahue and Egger is affirmed, and a new trial denied by the General Term at Syracuse.

We are informed that Donahue's friends will carry his case to the Court of Appeals, and no doubt, the friends of Egger will take similar action.

The Firemen.

Presentation to Chief Battams.

A delegation of some twenty gentlemen, representing the various organizations in the Fire Department, made a call last evening, at the residence of their worthy Chief Engineer, Mr. Geo. H. Battams, for the purpose of testifying the esteem in which he is held by the entire Department, and their regret at his disengagement of any further official honors as its head.

After being made welcome to his always hospitable home, the Chief was addressed by First Assistant Engineer Joe. H. Morris, who, in explanation of his visit, read the following testimonial:

Chief Engineer Geo. H. Battams: Your many friends of the Fire Department, and others not connected therewith, have learned, with regret, your determination to withdraw from active duty as Chief Engineer. They wish to assure you of their kindly esteem, and appreciation of your long and valuable services. While working for the public good as a Fireman, during the past twenty-five years, you have arisen through every grade of the service, from that of torch-bearer in 1849, when our former townman, Aurelian Conklin, was Foreman of old "Goose-neck" No. 1, to the various offices of trust and honor in the department, until your occupancy, for four successive years, of the station of Chief Engineer.

For the faithful discharge of your official duties, and as a mark of the good fellowship in which you are held by the department, and friends, I am delegated by them to offer you this slight token of their remembrance.

Mr. Morris then uncovered an elegant silver water set, ice pitcher, goblets, salver and slop-bowl, all in satin finish, artistically engraved by Mr. H. D. Clough, with the inscription: "Presented by Auburn Fire Department to Chief Engineer Geo. H. Battams, Jan. 19th 1874." The set was purchased for the occasion of Messrs. Haight & Weyer.

A testimonial from friends, accompanied the gift, beautifully engrossed in ornamental penmanship by Mr. W. H. Yates, bears the following names as a border:

J. H. Morris, W. D. Baldwin, W. Hudson, C. Delano, D. Toohill, W. Bray, G. W. Wilson, H. D. Peck, T. B. Foley, E. D. Woodruff, T. W. Meachem, J. H. Pearson, M. M. Clark, M. Brick, J. Cornell, C. Margison, L. D. Wilder, C. Q. Day, J. Havens, E. L. Leonard, E. Fleming, S. W. Milk, H. C. Mann, C. N. Tallowday, N. H. Kennedy, H. D. Clough, F. Porter, G. W. Salisbury, I. W. Haight, B. J. Milk, C. Clavette.

Mr. L. D. Wilder, President of Cayuga Hose No. 4, responded in fitting terms for Mr. Battams, in acknowledgment of the high compliment, and the guests sat down to a sumptuous repast which indicated that Mrs. Battams is just as good Chief Engineer of the Kitchen Department as George is of the Fire Department—and our reporter can vouch for the fact by actual demonstration.

The silver was selected with much good taste and judgment by Clarence Q. Day, whose efforts toward the success of the affair are highly creditable to him. To say that Mr. Battams was taken entirely by surprise, is not the whole truth. He was not let into the secret until summoned to the parlor to greet "company," whom his wife had expected. She had prepared a collation and requested her husband to be at home in the evening, to assist her in waiting upon her guests, and hence was "George" captured by the well-planned surprise.

In taking leave of their hosts, the boys returned their hearty thanks to Mrs. Battams and Miss Sophia Battams, for their generous hospitality.

The silver may be seen on exhibition at the jewelry store of Messrs. Haight & Weyer.

The Grand Rapids Forgery Case.

A writ of habeas corpus was sued out last evening, by Mr. P. Deering, as counsel for Crowley, demanding that the prisoner be brought before Judge Dwight; but as there was nobody to be found, upon whom the service could be made effectual, there seemed to be a doubt as to whether the paper could be made to "lie" in season to get the prisoner out of durance before the arrival of Deputy Sheriff Thomas from Grand Rapids, to identify him.

It was supposed that Crowley was in jail; but it was also thought he had been removed to the station house to await the officer from the west. So the writ was directed to Sheriff Hosmer, to officers Moore and Kirkpatrick, who had arrested Crowley, and also to officer Bennett, in charge of headquarters for the night. The latter, however, knew nothing of the man; had never seen Crowley, and had no authority to deliver up any prisoner in his charge. Officer Moore was not to be found, except under a disguise which destroyed his identity, and it looked very much as if the police were bound not to be "beaten" out of their prize before the arrival of the train bringing the Sheriff.

And they were not. He arrived from Canada, where he was on track of the gang, coming via Syracuse at 9:25 P. M. and bringing photographs of Crowley which at once established his identity. So the writ can do no damage at last, as, of course, the Court would now hold the prisoner until a requisition can be procured from Gov. Dix, in order to transfer the man to Michigan.

It is reported by Sheriff Haynes, that Crowley visited Grand Rapids in December last, where he opened a "Commission House," and proceeded to make a business splanche which gave him, by the aid of confederates an opportunity to forge the names of numerous dealers, to checks amounting to thousands of dollars. In this way he managed to raise, from three of the banks, $6,700, with which he "dusted out" in just two weeks from the time he opened business there.

The game was well played, but the arrest of a confederate, who "squealed" on the bogus merchant, was the means of his final capture. The case was skillfully worked up by officers Moore and Kirkpatrick.

It is hoped an extensive gang of forgers and thieves will be broken up by this action.

Court Record.

Circuit Court and Gray and Terminus.

Hon. C. C. Bryant presiding.

The jury in the case of Stark vs. Van Auker, for slander, after being out for four hours, came in with a verdict of three cents damages for plaintiff.

The District Attorney moved the indictment of Edward Flynn. The regular panel was exhausted in getting ten jurors, and by direction of the Court the sheriff drew from the bystanders for the remaining two, the following are the jurors:

Henry O. Warrick, Springfield. Zenas T. Miner, Ledyard. John A. Hunt, Ira Charles B. Lyon, Scipio, Ebenezer Young, Ira John M. Brinkerhoff, Niles Henry French, Scipio John R. Rappahugh, Ledyard Theodore Hoyt, Cairo John Terwilliger, Victory Henry B. Ficen, Auburn Orrie McCarty, Auburn.

William B. Mills and P. Deering, Esqs., are counsel for the prisoner. The Flynn Murder Trial Opened. Dr. Benedict testifies:—Live in Weedsport; know the prisoner; know his wife by sight; was called to attend, before she died, on the 26th of November, 1873, between 10 and 11 o'clock in the evening. The first floor of the house they lived in, was a saloon; they lived on the second floor; I found her lying on the bed; saw the daughter; the prisoner was not there; made an examination. The left side of the head felt soft; a sort of pulpy feeling; found two wounds on the right side of the head, one about half an inch in length, the other 1 inch. Placed my finger in the larger wound, and found the bone fractured.

I went there the next morning, found the door of the saloon locked; I went away and returned the next night; found Mrs. Flynn on a couch in the kitchen. I asked her how she felt, and she tried to answer, but seemed to be unable to; we moved her to the bedroom and put her on a bed. I left medicine, and the next morning (Saturday) I went again. She seemed to be gradually sinking during the day, and died at night. I saw Flynn in the saloon on Friday night; I was present at the post mortem examination; we found a fracture on right side of the head, commencing just behind the ear and extending down to the back of the neck. We also found a fracture on the left side of the head, just behind the ear, about an inch in length. It would have required three blows to have produced the fractures. We found inflammation and compression of the brain produced death. It caused by violence, and the wounds were sufficient to cause death. Flynn told me he was in bed; he heard some one coming in; he put out his hand; a knife came in contact with a knife; he took up his bow and struck one; it was dark, and he could see who it was.

Cross-examined by Mr. Mi have known Flynn for about year; the bedroom was on northeast corner of the kitchen; the bed was in the north-east corner of the room; there was two feet between the bed and door to the room; I think was a light in the saloon when went in. Mrs. Flynn was intoxicated; she was bleeding a very little I first saw her; she was around the shoulders; and he was clotted with blood; showed me the wound on his made as he said, by coming in contact with the knife.
