Auburn Daily Bulletin.

22. AUBURN, NEW YORK, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 1. 1876. NUMBER 1755

Auburn Daily Bulletin,

PUBLISHED

Cor. Clark and Green Sts.,

AUBURN, N. Y.

K. VAIL & CO., Editors & Proprietors.

Terms.

IN ADVANCE—15 cents a week; 60 cents per month.

Rates of Advertising.

FOR ONE SQUARE—ONE SQUARE INCH.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| One day | $0.75 | One week | 2.00 |
| Two days | 1.00 | Two weeks | 3.00 |
| Three days | 1.25 | One month | 5.00 |

DISSOLUTION.

THE copartnership heretofore existing under the firm name of Pearson, White & Howland is this day dissolved by mutual consent.—Auburn, January 27th, 1876.

MARY A. PEARSON, Executrix.
WM. A. WHITE.
J. H. HOWLAND.

The business will be conducted hereafter by the undersigned, at the same place, under the firm name of WHITE & HOWLAND, who will settle the liabilities of the old firm and collect all accounts due and owing to the same. All parties owing the old firm will please call and settle the same.

WM. A. WHITE.
J. H. HOWLAND.
jan28slm

For Sale

AT A BARGAIN,

GOOD HOUSE and large lot, No. 25 LOGAN St., north side. Possession May 1st next. Enquire of JOHN S. CLARY, or T. M. POMEROY.
jan8tf

WE ARE HERE! WHERE!

AT THE

Old Prison Boot and Shoe Store!

95 Genesee street,

WHERE we will sell you goods, and no shoddy, at the following prices for cash:

| | |
|---|---|
| Men's Rubber Boots at | $2 40 |
| " Kip (not split) B ots | 2 75 |
| " Calf Boot, double sole | 2 75 |
| " " " tap sole | 3 50 |
| " French Calf, Hand Made, Congress | 6 50 |
| " Buckle Artics (Wales' patent) | 1 50 |
| Ladies' French Kid Button | 4 00 |
| " Serge Button | 1 50 |
| " Polish | .90 |
| " Pebble | 1 40 |

and everything usually found in a first class boot and shoe store at very low prices.

dec15wkdtf LOUNSBURY & FIERO

KEROSENE

OR

FAMILY SAFETY OIL.

155 Fire Test!

For sale by

JOSEPH OSBORN.

KEROSENE

OR

FAMILY SAFETY OIL.

155 Fire Test!

For sale by

JOSEPH OSBORN.

KEROSENE

OR

FAMILY SAFETY OIL.

155 Fire Test!

For sale by

JOSEPH OSBORN.

KEROSENE

OR

FAMILY SAFETY OIL.

155 Fire Test!

For sale by

JOSEPH OSBORN.

jan21stmarch4

J. C. KOBER,

DEALER IN

BEEF, MUTTON, LAMB,

Veal, Pork, Hams and Bacon

At 125 State-st.,

MANUFACTURERS all kinds of sausages, bologna and pork sausages—the best in the city, at lowest market prices.

Sausage meat chopped to order on short notice. Patronage respectfully solicited.
nov6dlm

C. H. EDDY,

PRACTICAL MACHINIST,

Model Maker, and Manufacturer of All Kinds of Machinery.

Sewing Machines Repaired.
Jobbing of all kinds promptly done,
And on Reasonable Terms. Also Manufacturer of Small Stationary and Yacht Engines, at my Machine Shop, No. 26 Market st. aug4dtf

WESTMINSTER HOTEL,

ON THE

EUROPEAN PLAN

Corner Irving Place and 16th St., New York. One Block from Union Square and Broadway.

THE most central, and yet quietest location in the city. Convenient to the great stores, theatre, and churches. Elevator, and all modern improvements. Easy access to all parts of the city by street cars and stages. C. B. FERRIN, sep23dtf Proprietor.

Auburn Bulletin.

Largest Daily Circulation in City & County

How the Cuban War is Prolonged.

Among the correspondence recently transmitted by the President to the House of Representatives, is a letter from Mr. Cushing, United States Minister to Madrid, to Secretary of State Fish, in which he calls notice to one cause of the prolongation of the civil war in Cuba, which is beginning to occupy considerable attention at Madrid. This is the clandestine aid which the insurgents receive from the citizens and property owners in the cities and towns of Cuba, as well as from the plantations. It is said that the insurgents have, for a long time received large supplies of ammunition and subsistence stores directly from Havana.

The manner in which these supplies have been conveyed to the insurgents is said to be no secret at the capital of Cuba. The goods are purchased in Havana nominally for the purpose of supplying outposts of the Spanish army, and are sent to their destination, near the line which divides the districts held by the insurgents from that held by the Spaniards, accompanied by a strong escort. They are then left with a very small guard, and with the perfect understanding that the insurgents are to make a raid and capture them. This guard is purposely made too weak to defend the posts if it was disposed to do so, and in most cases the commandants of it have been informed in advance, or at least understand that they are not to prevent the capture of the goods.

If all this were done purely through sympathy with the cause of Cuban liberty, it would not be strange, and might be strongly commended. But it is declared to be notorious at Havana, that these supplies, which are intended for the insurgents, are paid for by those who pretend to be loyal to the Spanish Government. Their object is to prolong the insurrection, in order to prevent the abolition of slavery in the Island. Should the war cease there would no longer be any excuse for Spain to maintain this institution in Cuba, and for that reason those most interested it have adopted this method to prevent its abolition.

If this is the true state of things, it is an additional reason for wishing that the war in Cuba might speedily end, even though it be in the subjection of the insurgents to the Spanish crown.

Crime Organised Into a System.

General Chamberlain, the Warden of the Massachusetts State Prison, in testifying before the Prison Committee of the Massachu- Legislature last Friday, made the following astounding statement:

"I know from my own knowledge that there exists in the city of Boston a regularly organized society of criminals, with a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. This society has a regular form of admitting members. The prison a member has graduated from, his offence, with information in regard to the prison, are all duly recorded. The society discuss the most approved plans for burglary, tools, equipments, etc.; they also keep a regular register of the best criminal lawyers in the country, and of the judges of the courts, and they know at once what the prospects are for a brother criminal. If his case come before what they call 'a hard judge,' they raise the money to secure a postponement of the case. They also have a fund for mutual support and protection, and through this source they are often able to send delicacies to their brethren when sick in the prison hospital."

That is getting the profession of crime organized into a pretty thorough system. There would seem to be a fine field for an investigation in Boston.

The Turkish Debt.

John Bull has had his "dander" aroused by the action of the Sultan of Turkey. John Bull's subjects hold a large amount of Turkish bonds, which have turned out to be a bad investment. In fact, the "Sick Man" is so "hard up" that the Turkish Government recently issued a circular stating that it would pay only half of the coupons due on the first of January, 1876—thus virtually repudiating one-half of the Turkish debt.

But it appears that His Highness, the Sultan of Turkey, personally holds some £8,000,000, or about $40,000,000 of the bonds of Turkey, and self-preservation being the first instinct, the Sultan, as supreme ruler of the Ottoman Empire, has overriden that regulation so far as concerns his personal interests, and has exacted the payment of his coupons in full. John Bull thinks this is an outrageous swindle, and declares that if the interest was to be scaled, it should have affected every creditor alike. Johnny can't do anything about it, but he will doubtless try to get even with the Turk, when the everlasting "Eastern question" gives him a chance.

—Turkey has fifteen immense ships of war, which cost nearly $2,000,000, apiece. They lie idle in the Bosphorus all summer, their only use being to fire salutes every Friday when the sultan goes to mosque. They never go to sea, and if they did they would be likely to founder in the first gale, for they are very unwieldy, and the Turks are miserable sailors. The only voyages they make are when in the spring they are taken out of the Golden Horn and anchored in the Bosphorous, a distance of about two miles; and when in the fall they are taken back to their winter quarters in the Golden Horn.

Florida Oranges.

In various parts of Florida, south of lat. 30°, especially along the St. John's and Indian Rivers, there are immense groves of wild oranges; Bartram, in his "Travels," mentions having seen in 1763, near Mosquito Inlet, a ridge about half a mile wide and forty miles long, which was one dense orange grove, interspersed with magnolias and a few other trees. So thoroughly established is the tree, and so generally is it distributed, that many have supposed it to be indigenous; but botanists who have investigated the matter regard it as an instance of remarkable naturalization, and the trees as having descended from those which are known to have been introduced by the early Spanish colonists. This wild orange is bitter, often called in Florida the bitter-sweet, and so exceedingly fruitful that a tree in full bearing is an object of great beauty; the wild orange furnishes stocks on which to bud other varieties, and the fruit is used to make marmalade.

In Florida there are three methods of establishing an orange-grove; to clear up a wild grove, removing all trees not needed, and budding with sweet fruit those that remain; to take up young wild trees and set them in prepared ground, and there bud them, and to raise stocks from seed, bud them in nursery rows, and when of sufficient size set them in the plantation, as is practised with other fruit. Each method has its advocates, but it is probable that the last named, though apparently slower, gives ultimately better results.—Appleton's American Cyclopædia, revised edition, article, "Orange."

Lighthouse Building Under Difficulties.

(Major George H. Elliot, U. S. A., in VanNostrand's Eclectic Magazine for February.)

A celebrated French lighthouse is that of Fleaux de Brehat, a recent erection, based upon a huge and treacherous porphyry rock, for ages the terror of every seaman who approached the Brittany coast. Its architect had to encounter every species of obstacle during his work, but, above all, incessant races and eddies of the sea among the neighboring sandbanks. The foundations had to be far beneath low-water; an artificial port had to be created; the necessary stonework was hewn and shaped on the island of Brehat, seven miles distant. Even when the foundations had appeared above the water the lower wall of the lower story were submerged twice a day, leaving heavy deposits of marine plants, shells and seaweed. The workmen lived in huts upon a reef, to which they retired when the tide rose; and thus they pushed on their labors, quarrying and squaring at one time, arranging and fixing at another. Theirs was a masonry almost without mortar. The blocks were grooved and literally dovetailed together, the course being connected, as it were, by cogs, so that every part relied upon every other, the result being, as nearly as possible, an absolute cohesion. In spite of this happy issue the reporting architects would not recommend similar experiments in the future.

—There are fewer distilleries now running in any of the large corn-raising counties of Central Kentucky than in any past year.

Special Correspondence to Auburn Daily Bulletin.

The Attempted Robbery of a U. S. Express Car on the L. S. & M. S. Railroad.

A WELL LAID PLAN FRUSTRATED—THE PLOT DISCOVERED—DESPERATE FIGHT ON THE PLATFORM, IN THE DARK—ALL THE DESPERADOES SECURED.

TOLEDO, Jan. 28, 1876.

One of the best laid plans for robbing the U. S. Express Company, was foiled, and the robbers caught in the very act yesterday morning, within a few miles of here, on the Lake Shore Road.

A few days ago the officers of the company here were informed, (through a woman,) that a robbery of one of their cars was contemplated, and they immediately consulted Capt. Purdy, of the police force, of this city, and together they perfected plans for entrapping the rascals.

The train which is due here at two o'clock in the morning was the one, (owing to a knowledge that it usually carried large sums of money, the lateness of the hour, &c.,) on which the robbers decided to prey. Their plans were to bore through the door of the car, loosen the fastenings, gag, tie, or perhaps kill the messenger, secure the keys, and, as the train slowed up at a crossing not far from here, to throw the safe overboard, where they undoubtedly had confederates to take charge of it, and then jump the train, return to the safe and divide the spoils. Had they succeeded, they would have had a "good haul," as the safe contained over $400,000 in bullion and currency.

As was expected, four men got on the train at Wauseon and secreted themselves by climbing on the roof of the car.

Captain Purdy and one of his Sergeants, (Nobl) with Detectives Cavanagh and Tibbits, had secreted themselves in the baggage car, ready for action. The messenger, feigning sleep, lay stretched out on the floor of his car, while two of the Company's officers stationed themselves at either side of the door.

The night was favorable for the rogues, being terribly dark, while the rain fell in torrents.

After "taking in" the surroundings, one of the gang descended, and with an auger bored through the door of the car and took observations.

Satisfied with appearances, he proceeded with his auger and a panel saw to cut a hole in the door, large enough to allow him to get his arm through to unlock the doors. This done, his accomplices descended and took up their positions on the platform, with revolvers cocked and ready for action.

Cautiously and breathlessly the desperado put his arm through the opening. No sooner was enough of his arm exposed, than he was given the "grip" by one, and a signal given the officers in the baggage car, by the other door-guard. The baggage car door was flung open, and its inmates rushed upon the rascals, somewhat surprising them, but not taking them off their guard. A fearful struggle between the pursued, (mostly notorious characters) determined to evade justice, and their courageous pursuers, followed.

Detective Cavanagh was only saved from being thrown from the train with his antagonist, by twining his leg around the band rail and dealing his man a crushing and effective blow from his "Billy." Sergeant Nobl was in the same predicament, but was assisted by the timely aid of Capt. Purdy.

What a terrible and thrilling sight could have been seen had there been light enough. Think of eight men armed cap-a-pie, struggling for freedom and life on the narrow platform of a car, rendered slippery by the heavy rain, and add to your imagination the fact of the train running at a speed of forty miles an hour. Had the gang had the slightest chance, or been allowed the least opportunity they would have fought till death. The rush upon them was so instantaneous as to overwhelm them, and all four were brought to this city and lodged in jail.

One of the gang has a wide reputation of being able to handle, with ease, any two men, and is an outlaw from Texas, from whence he derives his name, "Texas Bill."

At the preliminary examination this morning they waived it, and were committed to jail in default of $2,000 bail each. T

IF the Republicans of France have not a clear majority of the new Senate, they at least come so near it as, with their opponents hopelessly divided, to give them the control of it. The Paris Journal des Debats classifies the Senators elected Sunday as follows: Conservative Republicans 100; Radicals 10; Monarchists 70; Bonapartists 41. The Siecle has this classification; Republicans 100; Legitimatists 78; Bonapartists 45. The Journal makes it: Republicans 87; Bonapartist Conservatives 47; Legitimist and Orleanist Conservatives 66; Governmental candidates 23. The Republicans have to add to the above allowance 40 life Senators chosen by the late Assembly. The Republique Francaise, Gambetta's organ, claims 167 Constitutional Republicans in all—a majority of 17. It is expected that the colonies, yet to hear from, will elect all Republicans. The victory evidently belongs to the Republicans.

—A telegraph repairer in Truckee, Cal., had a memorable experience the other day. He set out on snowshoes to repair a broken wire, and upon reaching the spot removed his shoes and went about his work, but he had scarcely begun when an avalanche of snow fell upon him, pushing him to the foot of the mountain, and rendering it doubtful whether he would escape alive. He luckily came out on top, and climbed up again for his snowshoes, but the track was so steep and slippery that he was half a day in reaching them, though it had required only a few seconds to reach the bottom of the slide.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

Exempt Hose Ball.

LADIES wishing their Hair Dressed, and Gentlemen desiring Character Wigs for Feb. 8th will please leave orders before the 7th.
G. A. WILLIAMS.
Auburn, Jan. 31st. 2t

House to Rent

ON Spring street, near Wall.
H. A. CADY, 19 Wall st., or ABIJAH FITCH.
jan31eod2t

Auburn Savings Bank.

Condition Jan. 1st, 1876.

ASSETS.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Bonds and mortgages | $536,172 61 | |
| United States Gov't bonds, market value | 241,413 87 | |
| New York State " " " | 16,480 00 | |
| New York City " " " | 175,770 00 | |
| Syracuse City " " " | 104,000 00 | |
| Auburn City " " " | 120,896 00 | |
| Onondaga County Bonds | 22,000 00 | |
| Other Municipal " | 3,170 00 | |
| Call loans on stocks, bonds and mort'ges | 215,615 79 | |
| Bank building | 100,000 00 | |
| Vaults, safes and furniture | 20,000 00 | |
| Other real estate | 29,924 80 | |
| Certificates of other banks, on interest | 45,507 69 | |
| Interest on loans—accrued | 30,238 47 | |
| Cash on deposit in Auburn banks | 76,400 00 | |
| Cash on deposit in 1st Nat'l Bank New York | 35,759 61 | |
| Cash on hand | 1,036 39 | |
| | | $2,052,264 43 |

LIABILITIES.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Due depositors | $1,917,912 81 | |
| Surplus | 134,351 62 | $2,052,264 43 |
| Amount deposited in 1875 | | $1,725,892 59 |
| " withdrawn in 1875 | | 1,597,696 62 |
| Increase in 1875 | | $128,195 97 |
| No. of open accounts, Jan. 1, 1876, 6,508 | | |
| " " " Jan. 1, 1875, 6,209 | | |
| Gain in No. of acc'ts in 1875, 299 | | |
| Average amount due each depositor | | $294 70 |

Interest Paid to Depositors during 1875,

$109,958 93.

jan31m&w3m3t

CLOSING OUT SALE

OF

HIRAM GIBBONS' STOCK

7 Exchange Street.

THIS stock consists of Ladies' Underwear, Gloves, Hosiery, Guipure Laces, and the usual stock of Fancy Goods. At private sale during the day, at prices to meet views of buyers.

AUCTION SALES will commence Monday Evening, Jan. 31st, and continue until the entire stock is closed out. A rare chance to get good bargains. Ladies are invited to attend the sales. F. M. SMITH, Auctioneer.
jan28tf

Store to Rent.

STORE No. 45 North street, Columbian Block, one of the oldest established business stands in the city. The fixtures and stock of same to be sold at a bargain. Enquire at No. 5 Franklin street.
jan29d3t

Miss G. A. Williams,

over 75 Genesee-st., Between North and State.

ARTIST IN HAIR.

LADIES' and children's heads cured for by the month. Terms reasonable. Special attention given to parties and weddings. nov1stf

Dr. H. S. & Mrs. PHILLIPS,

Clairvoyant & Magnetic Physicians

No. 26 Dill street, Auburn, N. Y.
P. O. Box 1998.

PIANOS AND ORGANS

TWENTY different makes, including the unrivaled AMION (warranted to keep in tune longer than any other) and all the standard instruments. From five to ten different makes of Organs always in stock to select from. Prices low, and terms easy.

R. H. WILLIAMS & Co.,
jan1stf 47 State-st., Auburn.

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that the co-partnership heretofore existing between HAIGHT & WYER has this day been dissolved by mutual consent.—The business will be carried on at the old stand, by

J. W. HAIGHT,

who will settle the liabilities of the old firm and collect all amounts due and owing to the same.—Dated Auburn, Feb. 17, 1875. eb22stf

RE-OPENING

OF THE

99 CENT STORE!

At 119 Genesee-st.

I WOULD inform the people of Auburn and vicinity that the 99 cent business will be conducted in the same manner as heretofore, by Mr. T. H. Pratt. We have a well selected stock of goods, consisting in part of Lamps, Dolls, Bird Cages, Wall Pockets, Brackets, Hats, Caps, Jewelry and Silver Plated Ware, etc.

We do not stop to enumerate articles, but ask you all to come in and see our goods. No trouble to show goods, and no one urged to buy. The store will be open Thursday, Jan. 27 1876.

Picture framing a specialty.
99 CENT STORE, 119 Genesee-st., jan26slm D. O. HENRY, Prop'r.

THE NEW

American Cook

FOR 1875,

Still Takes the Lead.

A fact appreciated by

NEARLY 600 FAMILIES,

IN and about Auburn. It embodies all the improvements of the day, among which are the

Clinkerless Grate

AND

Illuminated Front.

WE STILL KEEP THE

ARGAND BASE BURNER!

The best stove made, with the Base Heating Flue!

Illuminated Ash Pit,

AND THE

Clinkerless Grate.

IN RANGES

We have

The Belmont!

Which is by far the finest Range made.

Franklin Heaters, Parlor Cooks

&c., &c.

I am also sole agent, in Auburn, for the

BOYNTON FURNACE

the only gas tight furnace made.

Our Stock of

SHELF AND HEAVY HARDWARE

as complete as can be found in any First Class store, in Central New York.

Call and examine, at 73 Genesee-St.

W. M. WILLIAMS,

LATE CHEDELL & CO.

Auburn, Oct. 14 12 75. mf

GREAT REDUCTION

IN

Prices

OF

Clothing!

To make room for Spring Stock.

Twenty Per Cent.

DISCOUNT

FROM OUR REGULAR PRICES,

Which are marked in plain figures on every garment. The ## Greatest Bargains!

In the city can now be had at

KINGSLEY'S

GREAT WARDROBE

Call and examine our stock and prices before purchasing elsewhere.

We are Never Undersold.

CHARLES C. KINGSLEY,
94 Genesee-st., Auburn, dec1stf Seward Block.

Amusements.

CENTENNIAL FAIR

AND

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT, AT

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

Tuesday & Wednesday Evenings, Feb. 1st & 2d.

UNDER the auspices of the Auburn Division S. of T. They have engaged for the occasion

M'lle LEON.

The Jewish Prima Donna, of Western New York supported by a company of first-class musical artists.

COL. SPECK,

The Smallest and lightest man in the world, will positively be present and give an exhibition of his fine musical talent. Do not fail to see him.

Prof. White, of this city, will preside at the organ. Miss Brown, Misses May and Ella Benton, and Mr. G. W. Salisbury have consented to sing.

Articles both useful and ornamental will be on sale each evening, at low prices.

PUBLIC DINNER on Wednesday from 12 M. to 2 P. M.

All are cordially invited to come and get a square meal for the small sum of 35 cents. An

Old-fashioned New England Dinner

Will be served on Wednesday from 5 to 9 P. M.—Dinner and supper tickets can be had at the door.

Tickets to the fair and musical entertainment 1 cents. Change of programme each evening.

By order of Chairman of Committee.
jan29d2t A. B. WHEELER, W. P.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC,

Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Feb. 3d, 4th and 5th.

McGILL & STRONG'S

EMERALD MINSTRELS,

COMEDY COMPANY!!

AND

MIRROR OF IRELAND.

Entire New Entertainment

8 DISTINCT COMBINATIONS 8

Admission 35 cents. Reserved seats 50 cents which may be had at Powell's drug store.

Grand Family Matinee Saturday afternoon, at 2:30. Admission—children 15 cents.—Adults 25 cents. feb1m&wit

MATHEWS'

ICE CREAM

AND

DINING ROOMS,

135 Genesee Street,

MANUFACTURER AND DEALER in

FINE CONFECTIONERY!

FANCY CAKE,

Pyramids, De Russe, Jellies, Water Ice, Maccaroons, Lady Fingers, Cocoanut Balls, Kisses, &c., &c., &c.

WEDDINGS, BALLS, and PARTIES furnished on short notice.

The Mammoth Soda Fountain

with sixteen kinds of Syrup.

Oswego Deep Rock Mineral Water on draught, by the glass or measure.

ICE CREAM put up in half pint, Pint and Quart Boxes my7stf

THE

NATIONAL COLLEGE

OF

BUSINESS,

New Haven, Conn.

FOR THE

MERCANTILE TRAINING

OF

YOUNG MEN.

CHARLES R. WELLS, President.
HENRY L. HILL, Secretary.

ESTABLISHED IN 1864.

THE most extensive, thorough and complete institution of the kind in the world.

Eight Thousand Graduates

of this college now in successful business in principal cities and towns of the United States.

The Right Kind of Education

For Young Men.

Magnificent Granite Building, with elegantly fitted and furnished apartments for the application of and carrying out of our novel and systematic methods of BUSINESS TRAINING!!

Young men who contemplate a business life, and parents having sons to educate, are particularly are requested to relating to the college, which give full information as to terms, conditions of entrance, etc. Address, CHARLES R. WELLS, President, sep30d&w New Haven, Conn.

SEND FOR DOCUMENTS