LATE NEWS.

CHARLIE ROSS FOUND.

Put on a Boat at Demarara and sent to Baltimore by a Woman.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 20.—A sensation prevailed here yesterday upon the statement being placarded that Charlie Ross had reached Baltimore from Demarara on the brig "Potomac" employed by William Perot, of this city, in the sugar importing trade. Crowds of men, women and children flocked to the pier where the bark was lying, and plied the officers and crew for particulars.

Capt. Wilson explained that the boy had been placed on his vessel at Georgetown, Demarara, by A. H. Perot, who resides there, with instructions to have him brought to Baltimore. He had been deserted by a woman who claimed to be his mother, and Perot became interested in his welfare. The woman represented that she was a mulatto, and formerly lived in Boston. The child, she said, was the fruit of her union with a man named Crawford whom she married in Philadelphia. The boy has been in Demarara about four years, and is now about the age that the missing Charley would be, and is said to resemble him in some particulars.

Perot communicated with Mr. Ross upon learning that the boy called himself Charles Ross and received a description which much resembles that of the boy.

The vaccination mark on his right arm was one of the features establishing the identity.

Perot then decided to send him in one of his vessels to a port where Mr. Ross can make a personal examination. His arrival here was telegraphed to Mr. Ross. If he should not prove to be the missing boy he will be placed under the fostering care of a charitable institution here.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Northern Pacific Arguments Receive a Hearing.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The house committee on the Pacific railroad met to-day to hear arguments on the Northern Pacific railroad bill. Arguments were made by the attorney of the company in advocacy of the proposed extension of time for the completion of the main line and its branches. Delegate Jacobs and J. McGilvis of Washington territory, were heard in opposition to the extension so far as it relates to a branch across the Cascade mountains. The Oregon delegation were all present. Senator Mitchell stated that he could not agree to the bill offered by the Northern Pacific company for reasons. First, that it did not give proper protection to the rights of settlers. Second, it did not compel the commencement of work on the Pacific coast for the next nine years, and, third, because it wholly ignored the Salt Lake railroad enterprise. The chairman of the committee stated that no bill or amendment had yet been introduced in the house, or was before the committee, making provision for the local interests thus indicated, and he requested Mr. Mitchell to offer an amendment to meet his views. He replied that he expected his colleague, Mr. Williams, to offer such an amendment, but as Mr. Williams did not do so the committee adjourned until Thursday for a further hearing. During the session of the committee, Mr. Mitchell referred to some newspaper reports attributing to him the authorship of the joint resolution concerning the Northern Pacific land grants, introduced in the house by Mr. Thompson, of Pennsylvania, recently, and stated that Mr. Thompson had never spoken to him on the subject nor he to Mr. Thompson, nor had he any knowledge that such a resolution was contemplated. Furthermore, he (Mitchell) was unqualifiedly opposed to it.

Another Railroad Bill to be Introduced.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Representative Chalmers of Mississippi, a member of the Texas Pacific railroad committee, on Monday introduces a bill providing for a trunk line to Vicksburg with connections to St. Louis, Memphis and New Orleans. The new feature of the bill is that the Memphis connection will be made by the Memphis and Vicksburg road down the Mississippi valley thereby avoiding the objection raised by the Iron Mountain road to the Memphis connection. It will provide further, that the government shall issue greenbacks receivable for all dues except interest on the public debt and allow $20,000 per mile to the respective roads to be built on the bonds of the roads payable in United States currency in fifty years and bearing five per cent. interest secured by first mortgage bonds on the respective roads and all their property and earnings and for the sinking fund to be invested in United States bonds to be held by the secretary of the treasury to meet the bonds of said roads.

Matthews' Resolution to get a Vote To-day.

The impression prevails that the senate will vote upon Matthews' resolution before the adjournment to-morrow, though the session may be continued until into the night, as a number of senators are in favor of remaining in session in order to reach a vote and several desire to speak upon it before a final vote is taken. Friends of the measure claim it will be passed without the amendment and it will then go to the house for concurrence. The only senators now absent are Messrs. Patterson, Sharon, Ingalls and Garland. Senator Patterson is sick and Senator Sharon has not been in attendance this session. Senators Ingalls and Garland have been absent from the city recently but may return before the vote is taken. The pending question is on the motion by Senator Conkling to make it a joint resolution instead of a concurrent one, so it must receive the approval of the president to become a law. After that amendment shall have been disposed of the amendments of Senators Edmunds and Morrill, heretofore published will be voted upon in the order named. The Bland silver bill will then be taken up. This bill was reported from the committee on finance the 21st of November. On the 6th of December it was made a special order for the 11th, but before that date Senator Matthews submitted his resolution. When the Bland silver bill was called up, December 11th, the senate decided to proceed with Senator Matthews' resolution until disposed of and then take up the silver bill. Several senators who have spoken upon Senator Matthews' resolution confined their remarks to the right of the government to pay its bonds in silver and will again speak as to the expediency of remonetizing silver.

A New Design for a Historical Monument.

A design for a national historical Washington monument has been circulated among members of congress and others which is designed to supersede that of the present unfinished structure. The pedestal is divided into three sections or stories, representing three great epochs in the history of our country:—First, The discovery of this country in its rude wild state; Second, The dawn of civilization; Third, The great revolutionary period. The third story is in full relief. Washington's generals are of colossal size. Eight of them are mounted on horseback, two at each of the four corners, the rest being in groups between, so arranged as to fill the space, making a good composition. One of the groups is in consultation, another holding a council of war, etc. There will be, in all, twenty-five colossal statues, nine equestrian and sixteen pedestrian. There will also be six panels in high relief figures and ten in low relief. The whole structure is to be purely American and eighty-two feet in height, surmounted by a colossal equestrian statue of Washington as he appeared at the battle of Princeton. The estimated cost is $344,000.

Navy Department Expenditures.

The committee on expenditures of the navy department had a meeting yesterday and examined some of Robeson's contracts in the past, of construction and repair. Attention was particularly directed to certain contracts for iron clads suspended last March. Attached to these contracts was an opinion from Attorney-General Taft pronouncing them within the power of the secretary of the navy and a step further to declare them both expedient and proper. Examination was conducted by the committee and will probably lead to severe criticism, both of the original execution of those contracts and of this opinion. The committee will next direct their attention to the bureau of steam engineering.

Attempt to Make Utah a State.

An attempt is to be made this winter to pass a bill through the house admitting Utah as a state. Cannon, delegate from the territory, is pushing the matter and the gentile population will send representatives in their behalf to oppose the proposed admission.

To Inquire into Schurz' Action.

The investigation of the Freedmen's hospital and Secretary Schurz' action in setting aside the report of the committee, basing his action upon the testimony taken, is likely to bring on an interesting discussion and lead to further investigation by congress, or otherwise, which will involve the administration of Howard university as well as the hospital. Chairman Willis of the naval investigating committee says no definite charges of any kind have been made. The committee, at present, are examining accounts.

Honoring Italy's Dead King.

On Thursday requiem mass will be sung for the repose of the soul of Victor Emanuel, the Italian ministers having removed the impression from the mind of the clergy that the dead king was not entitled to the fullest ecclesiastical honors. The Italian legation will extend formal invitation to all members of diplomatic corps to attend the services which are to be rendered according to the solemn ceremonial of the church. Besides foreign ministers and members of the legation, the distinguished invited guests will include the president and members of the cabinet and others prominent in the service of the government. Italian consuls from a number of leading cities are also expected.

Change in Postoffice Law to be Recommended.

The third assistant postmaster-general has prepared, for consideration by congress, a bill proposing an important change in the law regulating the compensation of fourth class postmasters, or all whose annual compensation is less than $1,000. It provides that hereafter the basis of their compensation shall be the face value of stamps cancelled in their respective offices instead of the value of stamps owned by them. It also imposes severe penalties for making false returns and for trafficking in stamps. The present mode of adjusting salaries of postmasters appointed by the president will be left substantially unchanged. The bill embodies recommendations made by the postmaster-general in his last annual report and will be by him transmitted to congress at an early day.

Indians Protests to Becoming Citizens.

The Cherokee delegation have submitted to congress the objections of the Cherokee nation to the senate bill enabling Indians to become citizens. The effect of any such measure, they say would be to dismember, demoralize, pauperize and destroy sooner or later, every Indian nationality within the scope of its operation. The bill conflicts with treaty obligations and the acts of congress and with the long established and well defined public policy of the government in dealing with Indians and especially with civilized nations.

Gold and Silver in Peru.

The United States minister in Peru reports the legal ratio between gold and silver, formerly from one to fifteen and one-half, but gold has been demonetized and silver no longer circulates, owing to the suspension of specie payments. In 1876 gold was at 96 premium and silver at 56. The national gold coin pays three per cent export duty and the exportation of national silver coin is prohibited. Silver coin is accordingly melted and exported in bars. The government coins all gold and silver free. The prices have nearly doubled on account of the premium on gold.

Gen. Pope on the Army Bill.

The house military affairs committee has received a communication from Gen. Pope. He suggests that the committee should limit itself to determining what regular force should be maintained and whether it shall consist of complete and compact organization or whether it shall be divided up into skeleton organizations capable of large expansion of the enlisted force without an increase of officers. He expresses the opinion that 25,000 men is too small a force for the needs of the country. The committee, in order to properly determine the question of a staff organization, say that the administration should provide for a thorough investigation by a board of officers of rank and great experience. He says that when troops are concentrated in large bodies in districts abounding in the supplies for them, as is the case in Europe, we will need comparatively a small number of staff officers, but the conditions in our service are almost precisely opposite of this. Our troops are scattered about in small posts or small detachments in field over half of the great continent in the regions sparsely settled or not settled at all, where the question of supplying them is very difficult and surrounded with circumstances and necessities wholly unknown to the armies of Europe. Necessity of buying in distant markets and transporting thousands of miles by rail and river and in wagons, the supplies needed for each one of these small posts and detachments, requires more agents and involves more freight and calculation than fall within the experience of any other country. The number of staff officers for such service cannot be fixed by adopting the standard of other armies placed in widely different conditions, but is a question of practical knowledge and experience and can only be determined by those familiar with all the circumstances. The general invites attention to the propriety of adopting a military system in harmony with the spirit of our government and feelings and habits of our people.

FROM THE METROPOLIS.

Spaniards Defeated by Patriot Cubans.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The Evening Telegram says that news was received to-day from Cuba that an engagement lately took place near Remedios, in which the Spaniards were defeated by the patriot Cubans, and forced to flight. The Spaniards lost a captain, a lieutenant, an ensign, and ten troops were killed and thirty wounded. This occurred in a part of Cuba where the prime minister of Spain, Candras de Castello, maintains there is no revolution. Here, also, is the district of Cinco Villas, where all Cuban prisoners are to be shot according to the barbarous secret order of General Martinez Campos. The authenticity of this order was denied in Cuba, but is admitted to be true by the prime minister, Castello, for he says the Cubans are not patriots, but bandits. Lieut-Colonel Cos, nephew and adjutant of the Spanish General in Cuba, has been killed by the troops of Francisco Siminez near Sancto Esperito.

Jay Gould Before the Courts.

An application was made to-day in the superior court on behalf of Jay Gould in a suit brought against him by Nathaniel Berry and Henry Heister, to have certain property exempted as a lien by force of judgment for $395,681, recently recovered by the plaintiffs. The affidavit upon which the motion is based states that Gould is of ample responsibility to pay the judgment, independent of any real estate owned by him; that he has appealed has given an undertaking, executed by William Belden and Sidney Dillon, which has been approved by the court. The defendant, as is further stated, desires the lien of said judgment to be suspended, so as to enable him to convey such real estate from the same. The judge granted an order exempting all the real property and chattels of defendant, upon which judgment there is a lien pending appeal.

Voorhees O'ersteps Himself.

The Post's Washington special says: A prominent western senator, a strong silver man, said to-day that Voorhees speech has hurt the silver bill, and that senators who entertained no definite opinion on the silver question, but who had been inclined to support the Bland bill, have become alarmed at the commonistic ideas advanced by Voorhees, and now hesitate about voting for the pending measure.

Watterson suggests a Silver Meeting.

There is a rumor that the silver meeting announced to be held here soon was suggested by Henry Watterson through persons in Washington, who think the success of the Bland bill depends on some demonstration to offset the position taken by our commercial bodies.

GOLD OR SILVER.

The Charleston Chamber of Commerce on the Financial Question

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 19.—A special meeting of the chamber of commerce to day, to consider the financial measures now before congress, was attended by leading bankers and merchants. The following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, Vital home issues, now happily settled, have heretofore diverted public attention in this community from those questions of national policy which underlie the measures now pending in congress; and

WHEREAS, It is proper that in all matters affecting the honor of the government and the general welfare of the country, the ancient city of Charleston should take an interest and ask a hearing: therefore

Resolved, That the efforts now being made to remonetize silver and postpone resumption appear to be reactionary in spirit and designed to reverse the action taken at a time when the intelligence and wealth of the south were not represented in congress, but when her material interests were peculiarly exposed to depreciation.

Resolved, That, without being responsible for the monetary experiments and financial legislation preceding the present conjuncture, the south was the first section that felt the depression and shrinkage produced by the laws now in force; and, having already experienced the full effect of resumption in accepting specie prices for her produce without getting specie value in return, she now needs stability and tranquility in financial matters, in order that her industries may revive and her resources be developed.

Resolved, That in the opinion of the meeting, the requisite condition of stability and tranquility is unobtainable without resumption, and inseparable from the maintenance of national, commercial and personal honor in the highest and widest sense.

Resolved, It cannot possibly be honest for the government after what has passed, to pay its notes or bonds in anything but gold, and that it is shameful to permit by law, and even to encourage by national legislation, the payment of public, corporate and private debts in a debased coinage, specially and avowedly created for that purpose.

Resolved, That a copy of the proceedings of this meeting be sent to Senator Butler, with a respectful request that this preamble and resolutions be presented to the senate.

THE EASTERN WAR.

General News from the Seat of War.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—A dispatch from Adrianople says: "Russian scouts are in sight and are expected every minute to enter the town. The garrison with their arms and baggage are retiring toward Constantinople. The old Serail is burning. Musselmans have fled. The Greek patriarch and the Rabbi maintain order."

An official Turkish telegram, dated this morning, enlarges upon the means of defence still possessed by the Turks and says: "Suleiman Pasha's army is concentrated at Drama, south of Adrianople railway." A later dispatch however, says that nothing has transpired concerning Suleiman Pasha's whereabouts.

BELGRADE, Jan. 20.—The Servian government is summoning every available man to the army for the purpose of occupying Prischtina and Novi Bazar. The Servian forces are now converging on the Novi Bazar.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 20.—The Agence Russe and Journal de St. Petersburg states that nothing is known at St. Petersburg of the appearance of Russian parlementaire at Sournd Sondlar, announcing the suspension of hostilities in Bulgaria as reported in a despatch from Layard, Jan. 14th, published in the British Blue Book.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 20.—Moukhtar Pasha has been appointed to command the army to be formed along the line of defence before Constantinople. The exodus of refugees from Roumelia is assuming colossal proportions. Before leaving Adrianople the Turks burned their provisions and blew up their ammunition. The British consul at Adrianople telegraphed, Sunday morning, that deputations of the inhabitants had gone to meet the Russians. No news of Russian entry has, however, been received. Layard denies that he has asked authorization for the British fleet to enter the Bosphorus.

No news has been received of Suleiman Pasha.

An Irade has been issued ordering the enrollment of all free males.

Bulgarians massacred the inhabitants of the villages of Gueanik and Teharkeli near Kezanlik.

ATHENS, Jan. 21.—An insurrection has broken out in Thessaly. Five hundred insurgents are concentrated midway between the villages of Vizitza and Pinecotes, near Volo. The Turks have taken refuge in the fortress of Volo.

Two hundred Christian families have arrived here.

The insurrection in Thessaly is spreading. The insurgents, who fight under the Greek flag, and who have been joined by many Thessalonians residing in Greece, have been enthusiastically received in several districts. The insurrection has also broken out in several parts of Macedonia.

Mexican Border Troubles

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 20.—After throwing all manner of obstacles in the way of delivering up the murderer Cordova, the Mexican authorities at Piedras Negras have at last turned him over to the American officer. Cordova is one of the band of highway robbers supposed to have killed six persons in this county. The Mexicans at Piedras Negras are much excited over it and it is thought a rescue will be attempted. Information was received last night that the Indians were raiding in large numbers through Wasson and Llano counties. Two men had been killed by them and a lot of horses had been stolen. Troops at McKavett are notified of the raid and are in pursuit of the reds. This raid is thought, will be a disastrous one, though hopes are entertained that the raiders will be brought to grief.

The Tilden Income Tax Suit.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The Tilden income tax case came up before Judge Blatchford in the U. S. district court to-day. Aaron J. Vanderpool appeared for Tilden and District Attorney Woodford for the United States. There are nine counts, to all of which a demurrer is made on the ground of technicality.

It was decided to take up each count separately. The first count charges $3,000 tax for the fiscal years of 1861 and '62. Vanderpool claimed that the laws passed about that time were recognized as necessary to war measures and annulled the law requiring payment of income tax in that year.

Judge Blatchford sustained the demurrer giving Tilden the first victory.

Picking a Healed Wound

PITTSFIELD, Jan. 19—A warrant was issued last night for the arrest of Thomas Judd of Lee, for forgery. Judd was a member of the Massachusetts legislature when the forgeries were committed, three years ago. The affair was settled then by Judd paying all the forged notes, which were afterwards destroyed. The present prosecution is said to arise from personal and political reasons.

Jewelry Robbers in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 20.—The jewelry store of Simon Rodberg was entered by burglars last night, the safe door wrenched off and the safe robbed of a number of gold and silver watches and diamond rings. Rodberg estimates his loss at from $15,000 to $20,000. The burglars left about seventy-five silver watches in the safe. The jewelry in the cases on the counter was not disturbed.

A Twenty-Six Inch Telescope.

BOSTON, Jan. 20.—A twenty-six inch telescope is being constructed here for Cyrus McCormick and intended as a gift to the Washington and Lee university of Virginia. It has not been given as yet through a failure of the university to provide an observatory. Other institutions are now striving to obtain the grant for the observatory from the Virginia legislature, and it is understood that the instrument will be given to the institution which first possesses an observatory.

What a Keg of Beer Does for Serenading Party.

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Jan. 20.—A party of young people who charivaried a young married couple, twenty miles from here got asorder for a keg of beer on Kember, a neighboring saloon keeper. They consumed the beer and demanded more which the saloon keeper refused, whereupon they attacked him with stones beat his wife and children and literally tore his house to pieces. Kember was fatally injured. Two step-sons of the bride were of the party. Warrants are out for all of the parties and one of them has been captured.

A Beautiful Holiday Gift.

"Ensenore should be held as a classic every where along the banks of the Mohawk and the Oswego.—[N. Y. Church Journal.

"ENSENORE" has two claims to favor aside from its intrinsic excellence. It is American in conception and feeling, and it pictures without a fault, the scenery of one of the loveliest of "——the seven fair lakes that lie

Like mirrors neath the summer sky."
—Alb. Eve. Journal.

Sir Walter Scott was evidently Mr. Myers' model and the older bard need not be ashamed of his pupil.—[N. Y. Christian Union (H. W. Beecher.)]

It is entitled to rank with some of the best productions of the author of the "Lady of the Lake."—Auburn Advertiser.

It should grace every Library and speak to every heart.—Cor. Chicago Tribune.

A high order of merit—full of interest—it has been a rare treat—Correspondence Albany Argus.

The beauties of this poem are manifold.—[N. Y. Standard.

Price reduced to suit the times. $1.25.
