At the Academy.

W. E. Sheridan's impersonation of De Lavigne's "Louis XI," which will be given at the Academy to-night, is admitted to be something which verges on the marvelous and in which he has no rival. Indeed, but two other actors, Charles Kean and Henry Irving, have ever attempted it and the latter did it to no extent. To perfect himself in the single death scene at the close of the play, Sheridan studied the manners of fifty dying patients in hospitals. Aside from its intenseness and exciting features, the play has a sort of grim humor running through it which aptly sustains and varies the interest. A large cast is necessary to produce the play and this Mr. Sheridan has carefully selected.

The sale of "Mikado" seats for to-morrow night has been most gratifying and the large house which the talented company thoroughly deserves is well assured. The operatic event of to-morrow night will be found fully in keeping with the high standard of to-night's dramatic treat.

Death of Thomas Reed.

Fulton's Ice Gorge.

The Flats Still Flooded and the Dam Increasing Although the Thermometer Marks Forty Below Zero.

United Press Dispatch.

SYRACUSE, Jan. 12.—The situation on the Oswego river, at Fulton, to-day is practically unchanged. The water has receded a trifle, but the gorge remains firm, and is constantly strengthening. The thermometer is 20 degrees below zero and heavy ice is forming over the flooded districts. The business of the town is at a stand still and fully 1,500 employes of mills and factories are idle. Should the gorge go out suddenly an immense amount of damage would be done as many houses and some of the mills would be swept away. The overflowed district comprises an area two miles long and half a mile wide and the water is from 5 to 10 feet deep. It is claimed that the whole damage has been caused by the state authorities raising the dam at Battle Island, so the canal could be supplied with water. It is probable, that the state will have to defend several suits for damages. Engineer Whitford, of the State Engineers office, looked the situation over to-day and gave as his opinion that nothing could be done until the ice went out of its own accord. The damage will be very heavy, but it is impossible to even estimate it at present, as the manufactories and mills cannot be entered. The town authorities are caring for the families driven out by the flood.

Commissioner Reed's Death.

It Follows Yesterday's Stroke of Full Dimensions—A Brief Biography.

The stroke of apoplexy which, as announced in the BULLETIN of yesterday, fell upon Thomas Reed, of 46 South street, terminated fatally shortly after two o'clock this afternoon. The critical condition in which the attack placed him continued from the first, and although he got so that he was able to write a little about his wishes, his power of speech did not return. His eldest son, Joseph O. Reed, was summoned from his medical studies in New York, whither he had scarcely returned from a holiday vacation, and was at his bedside when he died.

Mr. Reed was born on a farm near Mardana, on Skaneateles Lake, April 22, 1825, and came to Auburn about twenty years ago. In the city he went into the ice and fish business in partnership with D. H. Schoonmaker and he has been in that business ever since, though Carl Conger and E. Y. Robinson have since successively entered into the place first held in the firm by Mr. Schoonmaker. In 1875-6, under the old charter and the seven wards, Mr. Reed represented the fifth ward as alderman, first with Albert Garrett and then with Daniel Shapcott as associate representative. In the fall of '77 he was elected sheriff of Cayuga county, and for his full three years term performed the duties most satisfactorily. His latest office, the one he held at his death, was that of a commissioner of charities and police—one of the boards created by the new city charter. Mr. Reed's politics were Democratic, but he never allowed them to interfere with official duty or personal friendship.

The deceased had been twice married. His first wife was a Miss Van Etten of Niles, and by her he had three sons, who survive him—Joseph, Frank and Fred, the two latter being twins. His second marriage was to Mrs. Tompkins, nee Benson, and in contracting it he became the stepfather of Frank Tompkins, of the firm of Thompkins and Horton. The second Mrs. Reed survives her husband. Mr. Reed met early in life with the misfortune which deprived him of one leg, the limb being taken off by an old fashioned horse power thresher at the farm by the lakeside, where he was born. He was a man of warm heart and genial nature, perfectly upright in his dealings with men and leaves many steadfast friends. He was a member of Cayuga Lodge, Knights of Pythias, the members of which will mourn the loss of a valued brother knight.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Miss Ellen Judge and Misses Lizzie and Alice Hanlon left last night to visit friends in Bay City, Michigan.

The pipe supplying the steam heating company's boilers with city water froze up early this morning, and caused temporary inconvenience, but no serious trouble.

Another Big Fire.

United Press Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—At 3 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the upper floors of the Continental warehouse, a five story brick building located at 161 and 173 North Water street. The fire soon had gained such headway that the firemen could do nothing but protect adjoining property. The first floor was occupied by Cobb & Adams, commission merchants; the second floor by A. D. Forey, dealer in bran and corn, and G. K. Stevens, dealer in rags and woolen goods. Samuel Boyles, manufacturer of brooms, occupied the third floor. The fourth and fifth floors were occupied by several firms, but largely by Albert Dickinson & Co, dealers in grass seeds. The total loss will doubtless reach $250,000. It is reported that several firemen were injured by falling walls, but it is believed to be false.

Mr. Wardwell's Will.

In surrogates court, this afternoon, the will of Morgan G. Wardwell, late of Ledyard, was admitted to probate. Letters issued to Wm. Sission, executor. The will leaves the farm of the testator in separate parcels to his son and daughter, the former having the homestead section, subject to his widow's right of dower, to whom is left the bulk of his household furniture. The will is a long one and particularized each article by it conveyed.

The Buffalo general term day calendar to-morrow includes Nos. 96, 98, 12, 28, 29, 58, 60, 102, 86.

Commercial Travelers.

A Jolly Lot of Drummers in Annual Meeting in the Salt City.

United Press Dispatch.

SYRACUSE, Jan. 12.—The fourteenth annual meeting of the State Commercial Travelers association is being held here to-day in Wieting opera house. There is a very large attendance and much interest manifested. President James N. Eaton of this city, is presiding. In his annual report he referred to a slight decrease in membership during the year and explained it by the dullness of trade and the consequent loss of situations. The annual report of the secretary and treasurer showed total receipts for year to have been $318,197.74. Disbursements amounted to $5,268 85. Forty-five death claims were paid. The balance now in treasury is $142,827.95. The membership is 3,190 as against 3,258 last year. The executive committee reported that the amount paid beneficiaries was $175,000. This evening an entertainment will be given the visiting delegates.

O'Leary and Weston.

United Press Dispatch.

BUFFALO, Jan. 12.—At one o'clock this afternoon the score in the walking contest stood as follows: O'Leary, 1,426 miles 5 laps; Weston, 1,394, miles, 8 laps. There has been no change in the distance between the men since yesterday. O'Leary continuing 32 miles ahead. Both men are apparently in good condition.

Sherman Re-Elected.

United Press Dispatch.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 12.—John Sherman was re-elected United States Senator in joint ballott to-day. He received 80 votes and A. G. Thurman received a complimentary vote of 61.

Hoar's Succession Bill.

United Press Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—In the House to-day Mr. Caldwell, of Tennessee, reported back without amendment, the Hoar presidential succession bill and it was placed on the House calendar. Mr. Cooper, of Ohio, gave notice that he would file a minority report.

Men and Ship Missing.

The Hylton Castle Carrying a Crew of Twenty-One Men Not Yet Heard From.

United Press Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—At the office of Patton, Vickers & Co., the agents of the steamer Hylton Castle, which foundered off Fire Island yesterday, no further news concerning the vessel and crew had been received up to one o'clock. Mr. Barber, representing the firm, denied the reports that the vessel sprung a leak during her recent voyage from Rio Janeiro to this port and that she was an old trap and too heavily laden. Mr. Barber said she met some hard weather but only her decks leaked and these were calked after she reached this port. Before starting on her last voyage, Mr. Barber said, she was surveyed by the surveyors bureau and also by Capt. Dearborn, of the Oriental Insurance company, which showed that the vessel was in a seaworthy condition and properly laden, or she would not have passed. At the office of the surveyors board of underwriters it was found that their survey of the vessel was only in relation to loading. The report contained no statement in regard to the vessel's condition. The cargo was shipped by Powers, Son & Co., of this city. It consisted of wheat and corn and was insured for $30,150, divided between the Sea Insurance Co. and the Providence Washington Co. The Hylton Castle was built at Sunderland England in 1871. She is not rated in Lloyd's book for 1885. At the British consuls' office it was learned her crew consisted of twenty-one men.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Dispatches from Babylon, Freeport, Southampton, Bridgehampton, Easthampton and Sag Harbor, up to 2 o'clock this afternoon, state that no signs have been discovered of Captain Calvin and his nine men, who escaped in a boat from the ill-fated steamer off Fire Island. If their boat had come ashore at any point on the Long Island coast, it would have been found before this. The ten men are given up for lost. It was said by some of the men employed at Harbeck's stores, Brooklyn, where the Hylton castle loaded that it was noticed when she sailed that she was loaded below the water lines, which is an infraction of the English shipping laws, and her owners will no doubt be held responsible for the violation.

Queer Courtship.

"So you jist got back fum Hallerfax, eh, Mr. Johnsin? 'Clar to gracious? you's quite a trab'ler.

"Ya-as, Mr. Peters; seems like ebery-ting an' everybody gone change sence I was here. Mr. Simpson got white hair, de ole wooden schoolhouse done change into brick, de Met'dist church gone an growed a steeple. My, my, how dis yer worl' do turn around! Tell me, Mr. Peters, what's my ole sweetheart, Miss Mary Bates—"

"She ain't you' sweetheart, Mr. Johnsin. She am my wife, an' de finest wife in de land."

"Clar to goodness! Mr. Peters, you give me a dreffil start. I disremember as she liked you particklar. How did she come to turn her 'tention to you?"

"Well, sah, she had ter. I took a mean advantage ob dis lubly creature, Mr. Johnson, a dreffil mean advantage. I lobbed her, an' I got tired ob seein' all der young fellers a shinin' round her. I tout de matter ober, an' one day I goes to her an' I says, Miss Mary, says I, I got $100 agin a rainy day, an' $20 fer a silk dress fer der happy woman which takes my han' in lawful wedlock. Dat der dress has got to go to you or else to dat der Simmons gal down in Mudville. Wid dat I turn to go away."

"Well, what 'sponse did Miss Bates make agin dat der argyment?"

"Well, sah, she said she didn't saw no reason why der dress shouldn't stay in dis yer willage."

"Dat der 'minds me ob der co'tship ob a sailor man in Hallerfax," said the traveler.

"He was a desperrit man, an' all der ladies 'clined fer to be scared ob him. One day he 'ceeded in gittin' one ob der lubliest belles in der town out rowin' in a boat wid him. When he got back he an' she went straight to a minister to git married."

"Tell me," said der parson, "does yer lady take yer ob her own free will?" He s'picioned suthin wrong 'bout der case, you see.

"Yes, sah," plied der desperrit sailor man. "I was teckler to ax her dat ar 'dentical question. We jist been out fer a row in der harbor, sah. We'we 'rived in der deepest water, sah, I reached down an' pulled der plug out'n der bottom ob der boat. 'What you doin' says she. 'Lettin' der water in,' says I. 'Lor, what fer you doin' dat?' says she. 'Susan,' says I, "der case is ser'ous; you goin' fer to promise to marry me, else you goin fer to drawn.' 'Ef its all der same to you,' says she, 'I'd rather not drown,' says she. So I put der plug in again. Comin' back I asked her ef dis yer promise was ob her own free will and she said it was.

"Der parson was puffeckly satisfied."—Harper's Bazar.

Entertainments.

Academy of Music.

E. J. MATSON, Manager.
ONE NIGHT ONLY.
Wednesday, January 13 h.

FIRST and only representation in this city, by the DOYLY CARTE OPERA COMPANY.
56 ——Artists——56

Under the management of Mr. John Stetson, of Mr. W. S. Gilbert and Sir Arthur Sullivan's Latest work, the new Japanese Opera in two acts, entitled, the

MIKADO,

OR THE TOWN OF TITIPU.

Mr. Stetson would respectfully remind the musical public that this will be the only authorized and genuine production of the "Mikado" in this city, the exclusive right to the original orchestral score and libretto together with the original models of the scenes and the designs for the wardrobe, armor and properties from the Savoy Theatre, London, having been assigned to him by the Author and Composer through their representative, Mr. R. D'Oyly Carte, for New York, Boston and the New England states.

The Opera will be presented with an Admirable Cast, Complete Chorus and Grand Orchestra. A special car is used for the transportation of the new and magnificent scenery, costly real antique Japanese costumes, armor, etc., constituting in every detail an exact counterpart of the famous original productions at the Savoy Theatre, London and the Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York.

PRICES—Admission 50 and 75c. Reserved seats 1 00 on sale at Dean's drug store commencing Monday morning, Jan. 11th, at 9 o'clock.
