THE COLLEGES

How Christianity is Promoted in Several of Them.
An Interesting Meeting This Morning at the Theological Seminary.

At 10:30 to-day the Seminary chapel bell announced that the time for assembling for the morning exercises had come. The ministers from the different Presbyterian churches and many others came to meet with the Seminary and observe the custom of hearing the reports from the different colleges in the United States and join in offering up prayer for their welfare. Dr. Huntington opened the exercises by announcing hymn 233.

The hymn was followed by reading from Scripture, I John, 3d chapter and epigrams. Rev. E. N. Manly, of 59 was called upon for prayer. Next came the reports from the different colleges which have representatives in the Seminary. Mr. A. E. Street was the first one called upon and he gave an interesting report from his college, Williams. He said that the faculty of Williams believes that Godliness is a necessary element in any college and lies at the basis of any great intellectual development. The college has a church which any member may join and over which presides a regular college pastor. There is a deep religious interest felt among the students at Williams, which is seen in the fact that out of 290 students more than one half wait and partake of the communion. During the year there have been 15 additions to the membership of the church, five by open confession of faith and ten by letter. Attendance at the church is regular and the Sunday service is required. Sunday and Tuesday afternoons there are prayer meetings. A Bible class has been started this year which is taught by one of the Professors. There is also a Y. M. C. A., which meets every Sunday after tea, led by student. Students are met when they come to college and are led into Christian associations. There are also Friday evening prayer meetings and room meetings. Some of the noted evangelists have done good work there.

The University of Tennessee was reported by Mr. Lynn beautifully situated at Knoxville Tenn., but lacks religious interest. The Y. M. C. A. have about thirty members and are doing a good work. Mr. Raf gave report of Rutgers College. He had written for late information but had not received it. He reported, however, that no man was allowed to be graduated without being talked with concerning his religious life. There is a Y. M. C. A. in the college, but five were Christians when they entered and but two were converted at graduation. They also have several prayer meetings and a Y. M. C. A. They have also established and maintain a religious reading room. There is a very earnest Christian spirit there. There is a man as an object of prayer and follow him up until he is converted. He also gave a report from Every College, Georgia. There are 300 men and seventeen Professors. The students live in cottages instead of large dormitories. Much depends upon the head of the class. There is a Y. M. C. A. in the college, but few of these were converted. A Y. M. C. A. established and now 120 members are doing noble work. Dr. Huntington announced Hymn 439, one stanza of which was sung. Mr. Phillips said that Pennsylvania College was at Gettysburg, a town of about 4000 people, and was a Lutheran. There is a medical department as well as one in theology. The men are rather indifferent. There is a college, church and pastor, but the professors also preach. Chapel is compulsory. There is a Y. M. C. A., but there is little work done; the spirit is not deep.

Trinity University was reported by Mr. Boone. He said it was situated just north of that imaginary line known as Mason & Dixon's line, about 65 miles from Baltimore and 35 miles from Philadelphia. The students are obliged to attend morning exercises every Sunday in the chapel; they are obliged to attend divine worship. They hold prayer meetings every night but one. No man comes there but that the plan of salvation is explained to them. There are usually about 200 students but for some cause the number has fallen to about 110 in the university though the number of theological students is increasing of late. This is encouraging, as these men go out and labor with their colored brothers who are in extreme ignorance. Of the 7,000,000 in the U. S. only 2,600,000 can read. They needed prayers. The institution claims to be non-sectarian but its professors are all Presbyterians. Mr. C. C. Hemenway offered prayer and the exercises were continued by Mr. McKay, for Forest University, near Chicago, Mr. Graham for Knox College, Toronto, Harport College, by Mr. Beagator, of Armenia, Hamilton by Mr. Miles, Dalton, Ga. by Mr. McPhis and conducted by Mr. Todd, Union by Mr. Bork of Beirut.

Flowers and Trees.
The following extracts are from the Rochester Democrat's report of the session, yesterday, of the Western New York Horticultural Society: "D. M. Dunning of Auburn, read a paper on the hardy varieties of roses. The more important features of culture were briefly treated by the writer. He thought the plague of bugs and insects could best be overcome by an apple yielding year after year to give the plants healthy strength. In covering in the winter care should be taken not to shut out all air. All old wood should be pruned away so as to give the new growth a chance to get into condition for the following season's growth. The writer attributed his success in the growing of roses to the use of liquid manure more than to any other one thing. A resolution offered by J. J. Thomas, of Union Springs, was adopted, expressing as the sense of the society that collectors and amateurs be requested to plant their grounds with hardy shrubs and trees and instruction of students as space would permit. Commencing with county reports a report from Cayuga was read by J. J. Thomas, of Union Springs. The past season's crop of apples was not so good as many blossoms were to be seen, but from some unknown cause the yield was smaller than for twenty years. Some few orchards bore well, but in all cases they were where ground was rich, or well manured. A good crop was pear, good fruit being in fair prices. Where eight and one half tons were produced of extra food pears, the Bartlett and Clarendon did well. The peach crop was mostly destroyed in the bud. Plum trees bore in great profusion. So great was the quantity that there were no purchasers. One of the best localities for raising chestnuts is in the southwestern part of the county near the lake. One farmer writes that present there is no system of selling and marketing. Another grower writes that Auburn consumed 1,000 bushels of strawberries and raspberries raised in the vicinity.

With Moore.

The entertainment under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Holy Family Church consisting of songs and readings from the pen of Ireland's famous minstrel, Thomas Moore, was a very enjoyable affair. The stage was tastefully arranged with potted plants and flowers, the Irish and American flags being in the background. A large harp to the center of the stage added much to the pleasant scene. Shortly after 8 o'clock Benedict's orchestra opened the programme with a selection which was followed by a biographical sketch of the poet Moore by Miss Anna T. Hattigan. A chorus composed of Misses Woods, Mame Murphy, Warren, Kinasha, Kate Hattigan, Clara Murphy and Messrs. Burns, Sweeney, Brennan, Boyle and Kennedy sang "The Evening Bell," a vocal solo, "The Minstrel Boy," by Miss Kate Warren, was followed by the introduction of John and Mary McKay, blind musicians, of Michigan, the former singing, "The Groves of Blarney." The orchestra played while behind the curtains the ladies arranged a table of refreshments in all her Oriental splendor. Miss Mary A. Galvin reading excerpts from the poem, "The Harp that Once Through Tara's Halls" was sung by Miss Mame Murphy, and a reading and tableau, "Beauty, Wit and Wealth—Drink to Her," closed Part I.

The Meeting of the Waters," by Miss Mary McKay followed. The intermission and Miss Mary A. Galvin read "Larry Branigan's Letter—The Judges in England," John McKay sang "I Know a Bank," and Miss Clara Murphy, "Believe Me if All Those Kneading Young Charms," following which, "Loves Young Dream" was read and recited, Miss Mary Hayden recited "The Last Rose of Summer," and following came a chorus, "I Saw from the Beach" by girls from Chapel street school, Misses Teresa Fitzgerald, Kittle Mulvan, Mary O'Neill, Theresa Graham, Mame Sullivan, Clara Herman, Anna Kinasha, Lillie Lane, Anna Ryan, Mary W. Linn, Emma Herms and Laura Seelye. A reading and tableau, "She is Far from the Land" closed the programme. Misses Lizzie Woods and Minnie Bartholmeu played the piano accompaniments for the songs.
