Perils of the Sea.

FORTY-SEVEN DAYS AT THE MERCY OF THE WIND AND WAVES.

From the New York Herald.

A party of seventeen Portuguese immigrants arrived in this city yesterday morning after a long and tempestuous voyage from Fayal, one of the Azores. Their trials, which ended, fortunately, without the loss of a life, make an interesting story. The bark Modesta, commanded by Capt. Diaz, was about 650 tons register. She left the last of the Floris, bound for Boston, on the 18th of November, with about 125 emigrants, some of whom have had friends in this country, while others were going to seek their livelihood in some of the western states. The bark carried also about 18,000 barrels of whale oil. She was manned by a crew of eight men before the mast and her officers. For the first six days of her passage, heading up to the northwest as she was, the winds were light and variable. At the end of that time, however, they were overtaken by a gale from the westward, which played sad havoc with the hull of the vessel. The formation of the gale was noticed by the Captain and watched in its progress. Being thus anticipated preparations were made for it, so far as could be, in the rigging and spread canvas. The wind came up with

TERRIFIC VELOCITY,

and continued to blow four or five days. Before its termination the sea was running in waves twenty or thirty feet high. Every stitch of canvas had been taken in, and for nearly two days and nights the vessel was scudding under bare poles. In the afternoon of the tenth day out, when the bark was almost directly in the trough of the sea, an enormous wave struck her on the port side and broke over her. For a few minutes her hull was completely under water, and when her decks were finally cleared, damaging effects became at once apparent.

After the subsidence of the wind the bark was found to be leaking badly, and upon investigation it was discovered that her sternpost had been started, "a hole," to use the words of the captain of the steamer "Canima, "large enough to drive a team of horses through," had been made in her stern, and that her bow was stove in by the great sea. The hole was stopped up with blankets and clothes as well as could be, Soon after the gale moderated and the bark made considerable headway during the following two days.

The luckless vessel was doomed to more misfortune, however, and again a

HURRICANE BURST UPON IT.

The royal yards were sent down, and the vessel tried to make its way in the teeth of the powerful westerly wind, under the main topsail. Even this small spread of canvass was too much for the bark's safety under the increasing gale, and once more the vessel was reduced to bare poles.

This second blow was of much longer duration than the first, and for about fifteen days the sails set consisted only of the foretopmast staysail, mainstaysail, foresail, mainsail and spanker. One day, about three weeks after this "unpleasantness" began, the foresail was blown from the yard, and the mainsail was torn from its stay. The passengers became very much frightened and demanded that the captain should wear around and allow the vessel to go back before the wind to the Western Islands. The bark was, at this time, about two hundred miles from the Bermudas, and over 1,000 from the Azores. For this reason Capt. Diaz decided to make St. George's, off the Bermudas, and announced his refusal to comply with the demand of his passengers. At this the Portugese showed and the captain threatened to use arms, if necessary, to preserve order and keep the peace. This decided action had the desired effect, and the excited crowd was quieted. During this gale part of the cargo between decks where the provisions were stored shifted, and the oil of several barrels, which were broken open by the rolling of the vessel, mixed in with and spoiled a great part of the flour, beans, and other food. Owing to this disaster, the rations were materially diminished, and for a whole week but two meals a day were served. The pumps were called into requisition every hour, and worked for fifteen minutes at a time, the passengers being made to do their share of the work. On the forty-seventh day out from Fayal the "Modesta" reached St. George's, and thence the passengers were transferred to the steamship "Canima," Captain Liddecoat, of the Quebec and Gulf Port line, which conveyed them to New York.

A Chapter of Pigeons.

In olden times the flesh of pigeons was considered a preventative of the plague, and all other pestilential diseases; also a cure for a trembling and palsy; and the superstitious believed the use of it to be of great use to near-sighted people. The flesh was always given as a restorative after severe illness, and thought quite as much of, for the purpose, as "beef tea" is at the present time. Yet to day, in some foreign countries, pigeons are not considered fit for food. In parts of Russia they are revered as emblems of the Holy Ghost. In Venice they are the proteges of the city. They are fed every day at two o'clock, being called together by a dinner-bell, and no one is allowed to interfere with them. Any person found ill treating them is arrested and fined, or, if an old offender, imprisoned. It is believed by the Venese that these pigeons are in some way connected with the prosperity of the city—that they fly three times around it each day in honor of the Trinity, and that their presence protects the people from danger by water and flood.

So far as we can learn, the flesh of all pigeons is good for food. It is nourishing and heating in its nature, and for that reason well suited as a diet for convalescents. The flesh of our wood pigeons is the finest flavored of all species in America, and by connoisseurs is esteemed superior to that of any other bird. In kitchen parlance the pigeon is considered as game, whether wild or domestic, the flesh of the latter being less fine and delicate.

MARK THESE FACTS.

The Testimony of the Whole World,

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

I had no appetite; Holloway's Pills gave me a hearty one.

Your Pills are marvellous.

I send for another box, and keep them in the house.

Mr. Holloway has cured my headache that was chronic.

I gave one of your Pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little think got well in a day.

My nausea of a morning is now cured.

Your box of Holloway's ointment cured me of boils in the head. I rubbed some of your ointment behind the ears, and the pains has left.

Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family.

I enclose a dollar; your price is 25 cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar.

Send me five boxes of your Pills.

Let me have three boxes of your Pills by return mail, for Chills and Fever.

I have over 200 such testimonials as these, but want of space compels me to conclude.

For Cutaneous Disorders,

And all eruptions of the skin, this Ointment is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS

Invariably cure the following Diseases.

Disorder of the Kidneys.

In all diseases affecting these organs, whether they secrete too much or too little water; or whether they be afflicted with stone or gravel or with calculi and pain exercised in the loins or other regions of the kidneys, these Pills should be taken according to the printed directions, and the Ointment should be well rubbed into the small of the back at bed time. This treatment will give almost immediate relief when all other means have failed.

For Stomachs out of Order.

No Medicine ever will so effectually improve the tone of the stomach as these Pills; they remove all acidity occasioned by intemperance or improper diet. They reach the liver and reduce it to a healthy action. They are wonderfully efficacious in cases of spasms, in fact they never fail in curing all disorders of the Liver and Stomach.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are the best known in the world for the following diseases: Ague, Asthma, Bilious Complaints, Blotches on the skin, Bowels, Consumption, Debility, Dropsy, Dysentery, Erysipelas, Female Irregularities, Fevers of all kinds, Fits, Gout, Headache, Indigestion, Inflammation, Jaundice, Liver Complaints, Lumbago, Piles, Rheumatism, Retention of Urine, Scrofula or King's evil, Sore Throats, Stone and Gravel, Tic-Douloureux, Tumors, Ulcers, Worms of all kinds, Weakness from any cause, etc.,

A GOOD

Washing Machine

HAS always been considered a most desirable thing; and so many fruitless efforts have been made to get up such a one, that very many people have come to look upon it as impossible, and become prejudiced against everything of the kind. This machine accomplishes but the work of a washer-woman, and will wash

Or Sixteen Pillow Cases in five minutes,

other clothes in proportion—and that to wash most perfect manner. No subsequent rubbing with hand is required. It will wash any quantity, from a towel to six or seven shirts at a time. Few inventions have ever met with so much FAVOR and SUCCESS, in so short a time, for the reasons—that

It is Cheap and Durable,
It is simple in its Construction,
It is not liable to get out of order
It is easily adjusted and operated,
It is light and easily handled.

It Saves time.
It Saves Clothes.
It Saves Fuel,

PERFECTED

IRON PLANES,

BY THE

METALLIC PLANE COMPANY

Auburn, N. Y.

A SHORT time since, we made a set of Iron Bench Planes, the use of which has conclusively proved that such planes, when made simple and as cheap as those herein described, will SUPERCEDE the use of WOODEN PLANES. Over 10,000 of these planes are now used by the best wood-workers of the country, how they regard them will appear from a few extracts from their letters printed herewith

A large call has been made upon us for planes that would work as well as those, and yet were

SIMPLE AND STRONG.

Such a plane we herein offer to the public, it is very simple and is sold

Twenty-Five per Cent. Less than any competing iron plane and much more efficient as a working tool. Our Perfected Planes are said at once, by all wood-workers that examine and try them, to be JUST RIGHT. They are really

The Cheapest Planes Made.

If we consider that they are No. 1 in all respects—in their materials, finish, cutters and trimmings that they never wear or warp, or shrink or swell out of shape; but are always in order—always true, as work comes, faster and finer, and will last a lifetime. They are really Perfected Planes, embracing the excellences, and avoiding the defects of all others.

THEY DO NOT WEAR UNTRUE.

More than ten years use of iron planes proves this an ordinary work. Battle, after long and very severe use, any slight wear of the face or sole will be seen, they can be made as good as new, in any good machine shop, in fifteen minutes.

THEY DO ALL KINDS OF WORK.

coarse or fine, and no other bench planes are required, to all can afford them. They will save their cost every year, and on hard wood every month, and the workman will have, at all times, a plane that is true and that has a perf
