

STOCK CORPORATIONS.

A BILL RELATING TO THEM PASSED IN THE ASSEMBLY.

The Time for Making Reports Extended from the 20th to the 30th of January. Assemblyman Lang Takes the Oath of Office—An Adjournment of the Senate and Assembly Taken Until Monday Evening.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—The assembly began business yesterday without prayer, no clergyman being present. On motion of Mr. Riley the bill was advanced and passed amending the general laws in relation to stock corporations, extending the time for making reports from Jan. 20 till Jan. 30.

Mr. Hoach introduced a bill creating a park police pension fund for the city of New York, and on his motion it was ordered to a third reading.

Mr. Lang of St. Lawrence appeared for the first time and took the oath of office. Reports of the forest commission and the adjutant general were received; also the resignation of Leslie W. Russell as regent of the university.

The senate bill amending the charter of the Watertown Agricultural Insurance company was passed; also to confirm assessments in the town of York. On motion of George H. Bush the house agreed to adjourn till Monday evening.

IN THE SENATE.

After the passage of the enumeration bill in the senate yesterday and the introduction of another large list of bills, among them one appropriating $5,000 for a fish hatchery at Cold Springs, Essex county, Senator Coggeshall officially announced the death of Senator Deane and a committee consisting of Senators Coggeshall, Cantor and McCarron were appointed a committee to draft resolutions.

Senator Parker announced the death of Chief Judge Rager of the court of appeals and out of respect to his memory the senate adjourned after appointing Senators Nichols, Park, Rosch, Coggeshall and Smith a committee to attend the funeral.

One bill was passed, the bill of Mr. Riley, prepared by the revision committee, making the corporation laws more condensed. Adjournment was taken until Monday night at 8:30 o'clock.

Some of Them Didn't Vote.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—The effect upon the senate and the practical position of the Republican senators adjudged guilty of contempt yesterday is this:

Upon the question of substitution of a new enumeration bill Senator Coggeshall asked to be excused from voting, stating that he had not read the bill and therefore could not vote intelligently. The lieutenant governor put the question as to whether Mr. Coggeshall should be excused and by a party vote permission was refused. Senators Erwin, O'Connor and Sarton each followed Senator Coggeshall's example and were treated in a like manner by the senate. A substitute was adopted and the question returned on the final passage of the bill.

DEBATED YESTERDAY.

Senators Erwin, Connor and Sarton are by the passage of the resolution debarred from voting or taking any part in the proceedings of the senate until such time as they may be purged from contempt by the judiciary committee of the senate. By virtue of chapter 7, title 2, part 1, of the revised statutes, the senate has power to punish its members for infringement of the rules by imprisonment, but the imprisonment cannot extend beyond the time of the session of the legislature. The Democratic leaders say they are not afraid that the Republicans will stay away from the session, because to be absent without leave and reasonable excuse is always regarded and treated as an offense punishable by fine or imprisonment.

Senator Erwin before leaving the city last night refused to say what his course would be in the future, as did also the other Republicans.

Senator Edwards Explains.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—Senator Edwards, in explaining his vote on the enumeration bill, said:

Mr. President—I desire to take the attention of the senate to a moment. On the fifth day of this month I stood upon the floor of the senate and presented to the honor of God with a promise to obey the constitution and support the measures therein. If I had opportunity for intelligent action, I certainly would not with the same lips refuse to obey that constitution. I believe the constitution declares that an enumeration should be made. I believe that it is the duty of every citizen to aid in an enumeration. The claim that was made that the Republican party made an effort to pass an enumeration bill and that they relieved them from responsibility I have never believed. I still believe that the declaration of the constitution is mandatory and the spirit of it is that every citizen do his duty. Empire state shall be recognized as being the equal of every other and that there is still a call for a just apportionment.

NOT PREPARED.

I am not prepared to act intelligently on this question today. I sympathize with the criticisms made by the Republican members in reference to me. I am not prepared to vote for the measure according to my understanding and conscience. I do not understand the bill. I know its general scope, but there are other matters in connection with this. I wish to remind the gentlemen of the senate that this is probably the greatest subject for consideration that will come up before us during the present session and that the people of the rural districts are profoundly interested in it. I do not believe that my people want me to violate the constitution. I believe they are in accord on the whole with the idea of manhood suffrage and are willing to take the consequences of the act if they do it. I know that they demand that their representative shall do all he can to have the enumeration bill and an apportionment bill passed in such a way as shall be the least objectionable to the rural districts. I want to remind the gentlemen of the senate that there are thoughtful men who tremble at the consequences of this act.

I am aware that I am not here at a constitutional convention, and I am not discussing the query whether other safeguards ought not to be thrown around the people of the rural districts in the constitution. I will take the constitution as it is. They demand that they shall demand all over these farms in the rural districts that you shall thoughtfully consider that they regard the centralization of power in our great cities as a threat to them, as a thing toward which they must look with profound interest. They demand that the publicans from the rural districts shall throw around this population such safeguards as history has said all along the line must be given to the weak as against the strong.

The Courts of Appeals.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—Pursuant to adjournment the court of appeals will resume its sittings on Monday. The chair of the chief justice will be vacant. The constitution provides that when there is a vacancy it shall be filled at the next general election.

APPENDING NOT LESS THAN THREE MONTHS AFTER SUCH VACANCY OCCURS, AND SHALL BE FILLED BY THE GOVERNOR AND SENATE.

The senate will not reassemble until Monday night, so that if the court holds a session on Monday for the transaction of the regular business there will be no acting chief justice. It is thought that Judge Robert Earl of Herkimer, the longest in continuous service on the bench, having served since 1875, will be designated chief justice by Governor Flower, and a successor to him as associate justice will be selected from the western part of the state.

Throw Himself Under a Train. NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The body of the unknown man who committed suicide Tuesday by laying his neck on the track in front of a New Haven passenger train has been identified as that of Frederick Esseg, a butcher, 33 years old, who was employed at Nauss' shop on Third avenue, near One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. Esseg was an habitual drunkard. He said to his wife, when she remonstrated with him about his conduct, that he would throw himself under a moving train. The wife received a postal card bidding her and their child goodbye.

On Trial for His Life. NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The trial for murder in the first degree of Carlyle W. Harris was begun yesterday before Recorder Smythe in Part III of the court of general sessions. Harris is the young student who administered a quantity of morphine to Helen Pott in the Crompton seminary in West Fourth street, and to whom he had been clandestinely married. The day was occupied in selecting a jury.

The Oldest Mason Dead. MEMPHIS, Jan. 15.—Hon. Robert J. Chester, the oldest Mason in the world, died at Jackson, Tenn., yesterday, aged 99 years. Mr. Chester served on the staff of Andrew Jackson, his kinsman, at the battle of New Orleans. He cast his first vote for Madison and has voted for every Democrat ever since that time. Masons from all parts of the country will attend the funeral.

Charged with Mysterious Conduct. NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Charles Mullan and John Talbot, two seamen, were arrested on board the sailing ship Herman for her arrival here yesterday from Dublin, charged by Captain Henry Peters with getting drunk and mischievous conduct.

The directors of the American Sugar Refining company met in New York and re-elected Theodore Havemeyer president and John E. Seearle secretary and treasurer for the ensuing year.

A dispatch from Hong Kong says: Fifty passengers from the ill-fated steamer Nanchow, which foundered, carrying down with her 414 persons, were saved by fishing boats in the vicinity of the scene of disaster.

A Montgomery (Ala.) dispatch says: It has been raining almost continuously all over Alabama since last Friday night. The Alabama river is now about 35 feet above low water mark and still rising about 1 1/2 feet an hour.

Benjamin R. Wightman, a collector in the employ of Volney F. Kings of Buffalo, has been taken under a cloud. The police of that city are looking for him, but the chances for his capture are very slim, for Wightman is thought to be in Canada with about $1,000 of other people's money.

In the senate at Washington the nomination of Louis G. Rathbun to be postmaster at Elmira, N. Y., was debated in secret session. A Big Connecticut Boulder. The approximate maximum dimensions of the "Sheegan" boulder in Montville, Conn., are: Length, 75 feet; width, 58 feet; height, 60 feet; contents, 70,000 cubic feet; weight, 6,000 tons. If allowance be made for an immense fragment which has fallen from its northeast side, the dimensions and cubic contents of "Sheegan" would approximate closely to 90,000 cubic feet. One point that goes far toward substantiating the claim on behalf of the "Sheegan" rock is that it is a true boulder, in the number of undoubted boulders of an immense size and of the same granite which exist in comparative proximity.—David A. Wells in Popular Science Monthly.

Precious Hair. When the Crusaders returned from the Holy Land in 1099 they were loaded with relics of holy personages who had previously been unknown in the west. Bohemond, one of their leaders, divided between Anselm and certain churches a dozen hairs which the patriarch of Antioch had given him with the assurance that the Blessed Virgin plucked them from her head as she stood—Mater Domini—by the cross.—All the Year Round.

Japs Like the Americans. A traveler in Japan says that the Japanese like the Russians and the Chinese, but like the Americans and the English. They are fearful of the aggressions of the Russians in Corea and of the Chinese in the islands that lie south of Japan; but they do not look for any act of aggression by the United States or by England.

A SOBROWING KINGDON

PARTICULARS OF THE DEATH OF THE DUKE OF CLARENCE.

Messages of Tender Sympathy from All Parts of the Kingdom Were Received by the Prince of Wales and Queen Victoria—Tributes of Respect to the Dead. Kings Meeting at Half-Mast in Canada. Cardinal Manning's Death.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The official time of the death of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale (who passed away yesterday) is, in other words, the time of his death as set forth in the official bulletins issued by the physicians in attendance upon the prince, is 9 a. m.

The late duke, it appears, was in a comatose state as the end drew near, and he is not supposed to have suffered much pain during the last hours of his illness. The Czar of Russia, Emperor William of Germany, King Christian of Denmark, the Grand Duke of Hesse, the King of Italy, the Queen Regent of Spain, the Emperor of Austria, the King of Portugal, King Oscar of Sweden and King Duke of Clarence.

Leonold of Belgium are among those who have already telegraphed their condolences to the Prince and Princess of Wales and the Queen of England. Lord Salisbury has cancelled the date of his long expected and much commented upon visit to Exeter, Devonshire. The Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury and Conservative leader in the house of commons, also cancelled his big rallying campaign in Ireland, which was to have been opened on Tuesday next.

A VISIT POSTPONED. The Prince of Wales, had it not been for the death of his son, was to have gone on Monday next on a visit to the Earl of Londsdale, at Lowther castle, Westmoreland. This visit of course has been postponed.

Mr. Gladstone, who was expected to stay in the south of France for some time to come is expected back in England in time to attend the funeral of the Duke of Clarence. All the cabinet ministers and Liberal leaders who had engagements to appear in public have cancelled their dates.

Even the Salvationists at Eastbourne and the socialists at Chelsea are expected to cancel their engagements to take part in the usual day of riot demonstrations next Sunday against the police and existing laws.

At Belfast the looms which were weaving the linen for the household of the dead prince have been stopped, and at Spitalfields, where the satin for the wedding dress of Princess Mary was in hand, the looms also stand still by the order of death.

A MESSAGE OF SYMPATHY. The Prince of Wales yesterday sent the following dispatch to the lord mayor of London: Our beloved son passed away at 9 o'clock. To this message the lord mayor on behalf of the corporation of London replied: We are profoundly moved by the sad news and have communicated it to our fellow citizens.

We tender our deep and respectful sympathy with your royal highness in this great sorrow and national calamity. Shortly afterward a death knell was rung out from the big bells of St. Paul's cathedral, which are never tolled except on the death of a heir to the throne. The solemn informing of the death of the Duke of Clarence was dead. Dense crowds of people immediately packed the neighborhood of St. Paul church yard and listened as if turned to stone as the full, metal tones told of the passing into another world of the young prince who might have ruled over so many millions of people who profess loyalty to the British empire in so many climes.

Reminded of the Announcement. LONDON, Jan. 15.—Yesterday, the day of the death of the Duke of Clarence, many people referred to the quaint announcement in the London Gazette, in which the queen announced that she had given her consent to his marriage with the Princess Victoria Mary of Teck. The announcement was as follows: At the court of Windsor, the 12th day of December, 1891. Present: The queen's most excellent majesty the Princess of Wales. Her Majesty in council was this day pleased to declare her consent to a contract of matrimony between His Royal Highness Prince Albert Victor Christian Edward, Duke of Clarence and Avondale, and Earl of Athlone, eldest son of the Princess of Wales, and the most illustrious Order of St. Patrick, eldest son of his royal highness, the prince, and his consort, her royal highness, the Princess of Wales, and her serene highness, the Princess Victoria Mary Augusta Louise Olga Pauline Claudine Agnes, daughter of her royal highness, the Princess of Wales, and the most illustrious Order of St. Patrick, eldest son of his royal highness, the Duke of Teck, Knight Grand Cross of the most honorable Order of the Bath; which consent her majesty has also caused to be signified under the great seal and entered in the books of the privy council.

King Leopold Will be Present. LONDON, Jan. 15.—King Leopold of Belgium has announced his intention of coming to England in order to be present at the funeral of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale. He will be accompanied by Count d'Outremont.

The Prince and Princess of Wales are desirous of having the remains of the Duke of Clarence buried at Sandringham, but it is not thought likely that the queen will accede to their demands on the grounds of the precedence and that others of the family are buried at Windsor.

President Harrison has called a message of condolence to the queen. They Respect the Dead. DUBLIN, Jan. 15.—The newspapers of this city appeared in mourning yesterday out of respect for the Duke of Clarence and Avondale. Many of the leading stores put up their shutters. The lord mayor presided at a meeting of thirty members of the municipal council who passed a vote of condolence with the queen and with the Prince and Princess of Wales. The civic flag was placed at half-mast over the Mansion House as soon as the news of the duke's death reached here.

Case of Cardinal Manning's Death. LONDON, Jan. 15.—Cardinal Manning did not die of influenza, as has been generally reported. He had been in a feeble condition for some time from old age, to which the asceticism of his life had been contributed. He was finally attacked by bronchitis, complicated with inflammation of the lungs. As soon as these symptoms developed his case was considered hopeless. His weakness was extreme, and toward the close was so great that his friends were all aware that the end was near. Early in the evening the physicians gave him up and during the night death was expected at any moment.

AT THE CARDINAL'S BEDSIDE. The bishop of Salford was at his bedside in the morning. The cardinal was rapidly sinking; but he was able to request that mass be said, and it was celebrated by the bishop in the private oratory adjoining the sick chamber. In the meantime Canon Johnstone watched by the bed. When the bishop of Salford returned he saw a marked change in the cardinal and commenced to repeat the prayers for the dying. The cardinal smiled on hearing the familiar words and moved his lips. He then fell into a quiet sleep, and remained in that condition until death came. His ending was peaceful, as if from old age rather than from disease. The body had been clothed in its archiepiscopal robes preparatory to the lying in state in the cathedral, where the cardinal's hat and other insignia of his high office as a prince of the church will be added. Cardinal Manning has left a will, brief and simple, for his property was small. The little he had he gives nearly all to his nearest relative, a sister, aged 92 years. It is thought probably today that the remains of the cardinal will be buried on Wednesday next.

Died of Apoplexy. MAY'S LANDING, N. J., Jan. 15.—John G. Cull, a well known resident of English Creek, was found dead near a haystack in his field. Apoplexy was the cause of death.

Fading Red Cloud. Old Red Cloud, who was deposed from his position as chief of the Sioux to make room for American Horse, a younger man, is now a pitiful spectacle, it is said. He frequently visits the Chadron agency and weeps and wails about his fall from power. He is now rapidly going blind, and seems to be dying from a broken heart. His aged squaw remains faithful to him, and he is popular with the Sioux nation.—Exchange.

A WAR IS IMMINENT.

SO THINKS SECRETARY STEPHEN B. ELKINS.

Unless Chile Makes Ample Reparation to Us We Shall There Will be Steadfastly Resolute Secretary's View.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—A special cable dispatch to the Herald from Valparaiso says the United States gun boat Yorktown sailed last night for Callao, Peru, with the Balmaceda refugees. The latest news about the steamer John Elder is that she is a total loss. Passengers, mails and crew who were saved by the ship's own boats are now in Constitution. The story cabled to the London Times by its correspondent here that the refugees from the American legation were aboard the Elder is absolutely false. The British warship Impolence, and the Chilean steamers Esmeralda, Mendoza and Osorno have gone to the assistance of the wrecked vessel.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—Capt. Remy has started for Washington with his report of the testimony in regard to the outrage upon the Baltimore's sailors in Valparaiso.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—After some routine business the house at 12:30 p. m. adjourned until to-morrow. In the galleries were a number of spectators expecting the presentation of the Chilean correspondence, but they were doomed to disappointment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Secretary Elkins is reported in an interview to have said that the Chilean situation is very serious, and that war must come unless Chile makes ample reparation. The whole matter, he said, is in the hands of the President and Secretary Blaine and Tracy. There was less activity apparent at the Navy department this morning. It was stated that no news was contained in telegrams that reached here to-day.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Soley this morning said he would not affirm or deny the statement that Admiral Gherard had sailed with his squadron for the South Pacific from Fort Au Prince. It is known, however, that he has sailed. Apropos of the Chilean situation, a bill introduced in the Senate to-day, by Mr. Hawley, chairman of the committee on military affairs, is of interest. It provides for the appropriation of $100,000 to be expended under the direction of the secretary of war in the procurement of necessary supplies for defenses of the eastern entrance to Long Island Sound.

AUBURN MARKSMEN WIN AGAIN. The Team of the Onondaga Club Defeated the Auburn Gun Club.

The Auburn Gun club team again defeated the crack shots of the Onondaga Sportsmen's club at Maple Bay, yesterday. The victorious Auburnians and friends who accompanied them returned from Syracuse at 9:10 last evening and were met by Auburn friends. A brass band and red fire and the victory was fittingly celebrated.

The Syracuse Standard gives the following account of the shoot: A team of 20 men from the Auburn Gun club came down to Syracuse on an early train yesterday morning, and transferring themselves and their shooting irons and car ridge cases to a special train on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad in which about 30 members of the Onondaga County sportsmen's club were waiting, went out to Maple Bay and defeated a team of 20 men from the latter club in a match of 30 birds to each man. The day was bitter cold, but there was not wind enough to interfere with the flight of the inanimate targets. The snow fell lightly at intervals and the dropping flakes once in a while hovered before the shooter's eye on a line with the target in a puzzling manner and many misses were charged up to the snow flakes. It was a day of a day to stand at the score and grasp the steel barrels and grip trimmings with the bare hands and most of the boys kept the left glove on while at the score. Each man shot at 10 birds before leaving the trap, consequently each was at the trap twice during the match. They did not tarry around the traps after the referee shouted "out" but scurried into the club house where a glowing coal stove made things cheery. Proprietor W. S. Barnum of the Maple Bay had a sideboard in the club house loaded down with pies, sandwiches, doughnuts, and a pot of steaming coffee. It was a great day for Mr. Barnum and his sideboard to do business.

The shooters arrived at the club house at 11:30 o'clock and immediately organized two 10 bird-sweepstake matches to warm them up for the more serious work of the team contest.

In the first sweepstake, Corning, Bridgeport, De Witt, Carr, Stewart, Wheldon and Corning of the Auburn team, all made clean scores and divided first money with two Syracuseans. All the other Auburnians made good scores in this sweepstake.

In the second, Corning and Garrett broke 10 each and divided first money with Leffever. The other marksmen all made good scores.

"The team match commenced at about 1 o'clock and it was 3 o'clock when it was concluded. The shooting was quite even between the teams, and the score is evidence that neither club can do much shooting with safety. The had work of King of the Syracuse team, was what enabled Auburn to win. This is Auburn's second victory over Syracuse. The match was refereed by B. F. Hoyt of Weedsport, a man of good temper, for he did not get into a row with anyone, which was wonderful when the provocation which the cold weather afforded is considered. George W. Dakin of this city, was the official scorer. The score was as follows: Auburn—Corning 19, De Witt 16, Hall 17, Wheldon 14, Ferris 15, Church 18, Sinclair 18, Egbert 16, Briggs 16, B. Van derloo 16, Doane 12, J. Vanderloo 15, Stewart 15, Wright 11, Garrett 15, Briden 16, Tuttle 16, Whyte 17, Carr 17, Whitney 18—309.

VETOS BY THE MAYOR.

The Chief Executive Powers Spending in the Streets and Allowing Houses to Run Unchecked.

Mayor Washworth filed two vetoes Friday afternoon. He disapproves of the resolution directing the chief of police to enforce the ordinance prohibiting fast driving, but as there is no resolution in force permitting driving in any public thoroughfare, the veto does not make speeding of horses in South or any other street legal. The only resolution authorizing the use of the street for fast driving that can be found on the records was passed, before the amendment was adopted giving the Council power to designate certain streets for speeding and when the Council's permit was void. While it is not probable that the veto can be passed over the mayor's head, it is also improbable that the required consent will be given designating a street or streets for speeding.

The mayor's veto is as follows: "At your adjourned regular meeting a resolution was passed by your body emanating from the alderman from the First ward, requesting the Chief of Police to enforce the ordinance in relation to fast driving upon all streets in the city. The Chief of Police not being under the control of the Common
