MET ON NEW YEAR'S

Supervisors Finished Up Business With Two Sessions.

ALL HARMONY AT CLOSE

Even Higgins and Bailey Made Up—What Each Legislator Took Down.

The members of the Board of Supervisors of Cayuga county wound up all affairs of the session of 1909 at 4:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon with the adoption of the final reports of the Committee on Debentures. Then the supers who have indulged in some spicy debates since November 10, the first day of the session, patted each other on the backs, jammed fat healthy rolls of Uncle Sam's greenbacks, raised by the county of Cayuga, into their wallets and then returned to their homes in the various parts of the county.

The supervisors held both morning and afternoon sessions on Saturday. The morning session was held at 11 o'clock and was of brief duration.

For Cutting of Brush.

Supervisor Quill withdrew a former resolution regarding the levying of assessments for the cutting of brush, etc., along the highways of the county and substituted another providing that the supervisors and town superintendents see that the brush is cut and levy assessments for the work against the owners or occupants of property who do not settle for such cutting charges.

Supervisor Langham, chairman of the Committee on Debentures, reported that the committee was not ready to submit its final report and that it would be made at an afternoon session.

The Sterling-Oswego Road.

Supervisor Quill introduced a resolution approving the final settlement of the Sterling-Oswego State road, which had been previously accepted by both the State and county and the resolution was adopted. The report showed that the cost of the road had been reduced in the sum of $210.40 by deducting $1,320 for oiling the road and allowing $1,109.60 for oil and other materials to be used in doing the work. The chairman and clerk were authorized to sign the final settlement of the road contract.

On resolution of Supervisor Streeter the chairman and clerk were authorized to approve the minutes of the last day of the session.

Adjourned until 3 o'clock on motion of Mr. Langham.

Bailey and Higgins Made Up.

After the session Supervisors Bailey of Sterling and Higgins of Montezuma, who have been whaling each other in verbal arguments regarding the amount received by them for services, made up and parted on most friendly terms. An incipient boom of Mr. Bailey for the office of sheriff was handed out by the members of the Board.

The Afternoon Session.

It was well on towards 4 o'clock when the afternoon session was called to order, the delay being caused by the Committee on Debentures not getting its final report ready for adoption before that time. When Supervisor Langham and the other members filed in from the committee room the Board was called to order and the report of the Committee on Debentures was presented. It showed the allowance of $88 to Messenger Thomas McDermott for the 44 days of the session at $2 per day, the pay rolls of the supervisors for the same period and as members of Board of Canvassers, amounting to $8,248.14, and pay for extra sessions held last spring aggregating $381.44. The report of salary of supervisors was as follows:

Frank H. Steigerwald, $188; Val Artmann, $188; James Mullen, $188; E. J. Wesley, $188; Fred Murphy, $188; William McQueeney, $188; Thomas Kirwan, $188; Joseph Mee, $188; Jerry Quill, $188; H. H. Guppy, $188; William Patterson, Aurelius, $292.45; Michael Grace, Brutus, $280.90; E. C. Pooler, Cato, $276.12; Judson Green, Conquest, $275.82; John G. Langham, Fleming, $274.32; Florance Sullivan, Genoa, $297.03; J. F. Coulling, Ira, $292.40; M. W. Streeter, Ledyard, $271.90; A. C. McIntosh, Locke, $288.31; George Newkirk, Mentz, $254.26; Charles Higgins, Montezuma, $247.42; J. Fitch Walker, Moravia, $268.41; Earl Odell, Niles, $284.90; James L. McGarr, Owasco, $279.01; Day K. Chamberlain, Scipio, $269.73; C. B. Rhoades, Sempronius, $247.20; Charles Lawrence, Sennett, $236.16; Oscar J. Spencer, Springport, $275.74; W. H. Bailey, Sterling, $407.22; Charles Ranney, Summerhill, $238.57; Charles W. Hadden, Throop, $247.35; M. W. Murdock, Venice, $275.18; John F. Manroe, Victory, $288.98; total, $8,248.14.

The final report of the Committee on Debentures was adopted under suspension of the rules, on motion of Mr. Langham, and the business of the session was closed.

Chairman Murdock's Farewell.

Before bringing down the final tap of the gavel Chairman Murdock said in part: "I came to you last fall as a stranger and you took me in. Next fall, if I live, I will again come back among you, but as is often said, I will not be up here, but will go way back and sit down among you. I wish to thank each and every one of you for the many kindnesses shown." (Applause.)

Supervisor Bailey stated that this was his first year in the Board and he wished to thank the chairman and members for the many acts of kindness shown him. He stated that he lived in Fair Haven, to his mind the most beautiful spot on earth, and that he would be pleased to entertain any of the members who happened to come to that part of the county at any time. (Applause.)

The Board then adjourned without date on motion of Supervisor Odell.

Clerk Hosmer then distributed the checks. County Treasurer Loughborough cashed them and the members left for home with a substantial balance on the right side of the ledger for the first day of the year 1910.

The Most Important Business.

The most important business done at the session was the appropriating $15,000 for a hospital and tuberculosis cottage at the county house. The propositions unfinished were prospective litigation by the State Prison Commission to force the county to make improvements to the county jail; repairs to the court room at the court house and plans for a county tuberculosis hospital. These matters are in charge of special and standing committees of the Board who hold over until the next session.

Next fall the only Auburn supervisor who will sit in the deliberations will be Supervisor Kirwan of the Seventh ward. The personnel of the country supervisors will remain unchanged.

SPENT NIGHT IN AUBURN.

Tourists Trying Small Cars in Long Run to New York.

Togged in heavy clothing, five young men pulled into this city Friday night in three small 20 horse power Hupmobiles bound from Detroit to New York. This is the first time that such an undertaking has been made with such a small car and the little fellows have stood the strain well inasmuch as the only fixing that they have had since leaving Detroit last Monday has been oiling.

The promoters claim that their light car has the advantage over a heavy car in this weather. The five young men who made up the party were: John E. Baker, secretary of the Hupp Motor company, Detroit; J. R. Drake, treasurer, New York; Fred Harvey, purchasing agent, Detroit; R. W. Keeler, Detroit agent, and Arden Yinkey, Toledo. They left Detroit last Monday night. They had good going through Canada until they reached Niagara Falls but from there on deep snow and drifts have been the rule. The day's run Friday was from Batavia to this city where they arrived at 7:30 o'clock, cold and hungry. They left here New Year's morning at 6 o'clock hoping to reach Albany by night and New York by noon today.

PNEUMONIA KILLED HIM.

But Union Springs Man Had Previously Suffered Hard Fall.

Coroner Frank C. Smith was called to Union Springs last night to investigate the death there yesterday afternoon of Stret Superintendent John Donovan, whose death resulted from pneumonia after he had seriously injured himself by a fall down stairs. According to the evidence produced before Coroner Smith Donovan went to the brick hotel at Union Springs known as the "Sanitarium" on Tuesday last about half past 12 o'clock. He was said to be in an intoxicated condition and Mrs. Mary Mundt, who saw him coming, locked the door.

The man tried the door several times and then turned to go down the steps, but he fell forward and struck heavily at the bottom. C. Nicholas Bean and others came to his aid and took him inside, and later he was taken to his home by Joseph Huff and Dennis Daly. His eye was badly cut and swollen and a two-inch gash was found on his head. He had been exposed to the severe cold weather and he became ill last Thursday when Dr. E. G. Fish was called. The man became worse and died yesterday afternoon, Coroner Smith being notified. He ordered a post mortem examination and decided that death was due to pneumonia.

DIDN'T HAVE LICENSE.

And So Auburnian Couldn't Wed in Syracuse on New Year's.

The Syracuse Herald of yesterday said: "Whether it was because they were so much in love that they had forgotten the formalities of law or whether they had never paid enough attention to such matters to have ever heard of them, nobody can tell, but certain it is that when Richard J. Wicks of Auburn and Miss Eva Neuroth of this city presented themselves before the Rev. Dr. R. E. Burton at his home yesterday afternoon to be made one, they were greatly surprised when the clergyman asked them for their marriage license.

"'We haven't got one,' said the expectant bridegroom.

"'Is that really necessary?' asked the pretty bride-elect, drawing her brows into a frown.

"'It certainly is,' said Doctor Burton. 'The law demands a license and I can't marry you without it.'

"Advised that the city clerk's office was the proper place to provide themselves with the important document which they had overlooked, the young people, accompanied by their attendants, went to the City Hall. But here another disappointment confronted them. The law provides that public offices are to be closed on Sunday and legal holidays and as New Year's day is a legal holiday, they were met by closed doors.

"'And we had planned so on being married on New Year's day!' said the bride, her lip quivering.

"'Never mind!' consoled the maid of honor. Miss Nellie Pfennsinger. 'Monday's a lot better day to be married than Saturday.'

"And so the wedding was put off until tomorrow and the bridal party tried to comfort itself for the disappointment by a sleighride to Orville. As soon as the City Hall is open tomorrow morning there is no doubt that Mr. Wicks and Miss Neuroth will be on hand to obtain a license."

TWO CONVICTS DEAD

As a Result of Indulging in Wood Alcohol.

STOLE IT FROM THE SHOPS

And One Expired in the Hospital at 5:30 A. M. While Other Lived Until 9:50.

By their own folly two young convicts died in the prison hospital this morning from the effects of wood alcohol poison which they must have stolen from one of the shops yesterday while at work.

The two convicts were Clarence Barton of Lestershire and Miles Halligan of Canandaigua and both have been in the prison but a short time.

At 2:50 o'clock this morning Barton reported to Captain Markham that he was ill and Markham immediately reported to Captain of the Night Watch Seibert who called Prison Physician Gerlin.

Doctor Gerlin ordered the man to the hospital where he died at 5:30 o'clock.

When Captain Hunter called Halligan this morning at 5 o'clock as was his custom, as Halligan attended to the fires in the foundry, Halligan said that he was too sick to get up and at 6:35 o'clock, after Doctor Gerlin had again been called, he was removed to the hospital where he died at 9:50 o'clock.

These two men did not lock in the same wing, Halligan being stationed in cell No. 3 basement, north wing, while Barton was in cell No. 39 basement, south wing.

The supposition is that the men, who worked opposite each other, Barton having the boilers in the prison school furniture shop and Halligan in the foundry, got together sometime yesterday while the guard was in the yard, owing to the short force on Sunday. They then probably made a key to fit the store room in one of these shops, probably the school furniture shop where they knew that the wood alcohol was stored, large quantities being used for cutting glue, etc. When they got possession of the alcohol they must have consumed a lot of it but nothing out of the ordinary was noticed when they were locked in last evening.

They covered their tracks well and no trace of where they obtained the poison can be found for no one knows just what amounts were in the different shops. At any rate the results were fatal.

Coroner Forman, who officiated for the first time in his official capacity, ordered the bodies removed to Tallman's undertaking rooms where an autopsy was held by Dr. A. F. Hodgman and Doctor Gerlin, with the above results. Relatives have been notified and it expected that the bodies will be claimed.

Miles Halligan was received at the prison on October 8 last from Canandaigua, where he was convicted of burglary in the second degree and received a sentence of not less than one year nor more than one year and 10 months. He was 36 years of age, married and has one child. He was a moulder by trade, and Principal Keeper Tupper says, the best one that has been there in his time. He was a hard worker and well liked.

Clarence Barton was received at the prison May 12, 1909, from Broome county where he was convicted over two years before for grand larceny in the second degree. He was convicted in 1907 but at that time sentence was deferred during good behavior. He went wrong again and received not less than one year and six months nor more than five years. He was a fireman by trade. He was but 24 years of age and had served one term in the Rochester Industrial school.

More than a score of years ago when the shoe shop was one of the prison industries under the contract system, several convicts met death by the same method, according to some of the old officials.

Coroner Forman will render a decision that the men died of poison from the effects of wood alcohol.

PEANUT SHELLS USED?

May Be Basic Element in Manufacture of Some Breakfast Foods.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—The Chicago Federation of Labor yesterday adopted resolutions calling upon the National Pure Food Commission to investigate if peanut shells constitute the basic element in the manufacture of breakfast foods.

"In a recent freight train wreck it was discovered that several cars consigned to breakfast food concerns were loaded with peanut shells from the peanut butter factories in the South," said President John Fitzpatrick.

CASE A SECRETARY.

Former Auburnian an Appointee Under Mayor Gaynor's Administration.

Auburn friends of Henry Jay Case were particularly pleased over the announcement that he was to receive an appointment under the administration that has taken charge of the affairs of little old New York. Mr. Case will be secretary of public works under President MacAneny of the Borough of Manhattan and everywhere his appointment is well received and taken as a recognition of personal fitness.

For the past decade Mr. Case has been engaged in newspaper work in New York when the New York Evening Post. He has been a member of the City club of New York, of which Borough President MacAneny is also president and has been in close touch with the man who will look after affairs in Manhattan. Mr. MacAneny knew Mr. Case well, knew his capabilities and decided that he was the man for the place. He had the endorsement, among others, of Oswald Garrison Villard of the New York Evening Post.

Mr. Case has begun his duties. None will be more cordial in their wishes for his success in his new position and his further advancement than his former co-workers in the newspaper field in this city.

WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC.

John D. Rockefeller Jr. Foreman of Grand Jury Which Will Investigate.

New York, Jan. 3.—John D. Rockefeller Jr. was today sworn in as foreman of a grand jury the special mission of which will be an investigation of the so-called white slave traffic.

Judge O'Sullivan, in his address to the grand jury, directed that the white slave traffic be thoroughly investigated.

"It is not enough that we should await federal action or seek new legislation. We must look to the law as it is now," said the justice. "The existing law is adequate to punish specific offenses.

"The main object which I desire you to keep in mind throughout the investigation," continued the court, "is the uncovering, not alone of isolated offenses, but of an organization, if any such exists, for a traffic in the bodies of women. If organized traffic in women exists in this city, the law is adequate to end it and punish the persons engaged. If such traffic does not exist, your inquiry should end forever the sensational slanders against the city of New York."

NATHANSON A SUICIDE?

That Is the Theory to Which Investigators Now Lean.

New York, Jan. 3.—Investigation into the death of Moses S. Nathanson, the wholesale clothing merchant whose body was found tied to a chair in his store yesterday with gas escaping from a broken pipe in the room, was continued today with the investigators leaning strongly to the theory of suicide. The officials said that they were little impressed by the story brought to them that Nathanson had received threats recently from foreigners with whom he had had trouble.

No suspicion is entertained against Nathanson's partner, Isaac H. Gold, who was detained as a witness and released on nominal bonds.

NO TRUTH SAYS DYER.

In Published Reports About Plans for Midnight Car Service.

When asked this morning about a report in an out-of-town paper that the Auburn & Syracuse and the Auburn & Northern Railroad Companies were to institute a midnight car service in the near future in Auburn R. A. Dyer Jr., assistant general manager of the Beebe lines said:

"There is no truth at all in it; that story was made out of whole cloth. I know nothing at all about any such changes."

Rumors that the company was about to grant some of the demands made for many months by Auburnians for improved service have been current since the Common Council failed to grant the perpetual franchise asked by the company for East Genesee street.

Miss Plainleigh (an heiress)—Jack was dreadfully embarrassed when he proposed to me. Miss Crabapple—Yes; I understand that is why he did it.

THE FIRST OF 1910

Two Auburn Girls Join the Ranks of the Brides.

BRILLIANT CHURCH WEDDING

Was That of Miss Lillian McCarthy and Herbert Glover Robinson on New Year's.

The third fashionable wedding of the holiday season in which Auburn society was interested took place at 6 o'clock on New Year's day when Miss Lillian McCarthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. McCarthy, became the bride of Herbert Glover Robinson of Dorchester, Mass. A large number of society people from Boston, Syracuse and New York were present.

The ceremony took place at 6 o'clock at the Central Presbyterian church and was marked by special music and decorations. Promptly at the appointed hour the bridal party formed in the church hallway while Miss Marie Rose of Niagara Falls, a friend of the bride, sang a Lore Song by Huesche, and Where E'er Thou Goest, by Hilda. Organist Adams then took up the magnificent Lohengrin bridal chorus, and the party in this order proceeded into the church: The groom, Herbert Glover Robinson, accompanied by his brother, Winthrop Robinson of Dorchester, Mass., as best man, and preceded by Rev. Frederick W. Palmer, D. D., marched down the north aisle to the chancel and there met the bridal party which had come down the center aisle, the ushers first. They were William A. McCarthy, brother of the bride, Frederick L. Emerson, Samuel Whittemore, Frank Westcott and Eugene R. McCarthy, all of Auburn, and Charles Carr of Dorchester, Mass., Sidney Chase of Haverhill, Mass., and Herbert Johnson of New York.

The bridesmaids were next and were seven in number, being Miss Harriet H. Teal and Miss Pauline Titus, both of Auburn, Miss Ella Robinson of Dorchester, Mass., a sister of the groom, Miss Edith Danforth of Wilmington, Del., Miss Elizabeth Parker of Louisville, Ky., Miss Margaret Mosher of Mechanicsburg, Pa., and Miss Charlotte McKinney of Binghamton. The last four named were classmates of the bride in the Class of 1903 at Vassar. The matron of honor, Mrs. William A. McCarthy, a sister-in-law of the bride, and the maid of honor, Miss Isabelle McCarthy, a sister of the bride, followed, and last came the bride leaning upon the arm of her father, Charles A. McCarthy who gave her away.

The bride wore an elaborate gown of white satin with pearl garniture and carried lilies of the valley and maidenhair fern. The matron of honor wore white crepe meteor and carried daybreak carnations with maidenhair fern. The maid of honor wore a gown of white chiffon, dotted with crystal and carried a bouquet similar to that of the matron of honor. The seven bridesmaids wore shaded pink chiffon, and their bouquets were of Roman hyacinths with maidenhair fern.

The usual Episcopal ceremony was followed, and in leaving the church the Mendelssohn wedding march was played by the organist. The altar rail alone had been decorated, high banks of ferns and holiday greens being placed so as to screen all but the clergyman and the couple. Pew reservations had been marked with white satin ribbons.

Following the church ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McCarthy, at No. 85 South street, a large number of guests attending. The house had been decorated with Southern smilax, holly and Christmas greens, Florist Patrick having charge of the decorations at the church and at the McCarthy home.

The reception took place in the parlor of the house and a buffet table was set in the dining room where the decorations were of holly and pointsettia. The large south porch of the house had been enclosed in canvas and electric stoves and lighting arrangements installed by Electrician Yorker transformed the place into a comfortable smoking room.

Herring's orchestra was hidden behind a bank of foliage in the recess of the stairway on the main floor of the house and played appropriate music throughout the reception. The collation was in charge of Teall of Rochester, who had a large force of assistants on hand.

The bride's table was set in a room upstairs and was beautifully decorated. The entire room from ceiling to floor was hung in white upon which abundant garlands of Southern smilax were suspended. The table was in white and pink, the centerpieces being a great cluster of pink Killarney roses. The favors and place cards were in delicate pink, and provision was made for 22 guests at this table.

The cutting of the wedding cake resulted in the usual merriment and the ring fell to Miss Rose of Niagara Falls. The thimble was not located, according to the reports that came from the bridal party's room.

The couple slipped away during the evening and in departing the bride's bouquet was captured by Miss McKinney of Binghamton. The couple left on a wedding trip to be of several weeks' duration and it is presumed that they will visit New England points. They will be at home in Auburn after January 20 at No. 30 Chedell place.

The bride is a well known young woman, who after her graduation from Vassar in June, 1903, took up social and philanthropic work. She has since been identified with many charities, especially in Auburn, and was one of the prime movers in the establishment of an Associated Charities in Auburn, being at present secretary of the society. The groom graduated from Harvard in 1900 and went into the shoe manufacturing business. He joined the Dunn & McCarthy plant about two years ago and at the present time is in charge of the Lasting department.

The couple received a most beautiful collection of wedding gifts, consisting of rugs, silver, cut glass, furniture and works of art, notably in pictures. The gifts filled several rooms.

Among the ante-nuptial functions held during the past two weeks in honor of the bride-elect were the luncheon by Miss Pauline Titus on Wednesday, followed by a card party at the W. E. I. C. parlors given by Miss Teal. On New Year's eve at the Osborne Palm room Mrs. C. A. McCarthy and Mrs. Frederick L. Emerson entertained the bridal party and the ushers at dinner and this was followed by a stag dinner to the ushers by Mr. Robinson at the City club. On Thursday last Mrs. William Woodhull of Syracuse entertained at luncheon for the bride and her attendants.

A large number of out-of-town visitors attended the wedding, among them being: Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Bennett of Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Davidge of Binghamton, Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Robinson of Dorchester, Mass., Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Burrows of Syracuse, Mr. and Mrs. William Woodhull of Syracuse, Miss Woodhull, Miss Ella Glover and Miss Edith Spaulding, Miss Ella Robinson and Winthrop Robinson, all of Dorchester, Mass., Miss Marie Rose of Niagara Falls and Samuel Rockwell of Andover, Mass.

The gifts to the bride were numerous and costly, including many pieces of solid silver and large sized checks. Among the guests present were relatives and friends of both the Kraft and Singer families from Auburn, Cleveland, Toledo, Syracuse and Rochester.

Chapman—Ludke.

Miss Grace Irene Chapman and Otto Ludke were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan W. Chapman, No. 36 Havens avenue, on New Year's day at 7 o'clock in the evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. The bride was attended by Miss Lena Ludke, sister of the groom, and M. Beach Chapman, brother of the bride, was best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served and the couple departed east on a late train for a brief wedding tour.

The couple on their return will reside temporarily with relatives and after April 1 will occupy a new home now being erected at No. 419 Seward avenue south. The groom is a member of the firm of Ludke Brothers, manufacturers of concrete blocks, etc., while the bride is a well known and popular young woman.

MARRIED IN CLEVELAND.

Auburn Physician Takes Unto Himself a Bride.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer of yesterday contained the following account of the wedding on New Year's night of Dr. Raymond Charles Almy of this city:

"At 7 o'clock in the evening, at the East Congregational church, Miss Mina Lucille Bassett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Bassett of 14111 Euclid avenue, was married to Dr. Raymond Charles Almy of Auburn, N. Y., about 300 guests having been bidden to witness the ceremony, at which Rev. Ward Beecher Pickard officiated.

"Decorations of smilax and palms, white lilies and cathedral candles beautified the church. NEW YEAR'S IN PRISON.

Special Menu for All and Entertainment for Women.

New Year's day was appropriately celebrated at the prisons but more particularly at the Women's prison where the inmates were given an entertainment for one hour and a half in the morning. The men had theirs on Christmas day so had to be contented with a special feed.

The inmates at the Woman's prison had a delightful programme for the occasion and they certainly did have a happy time. Manager Simpson brought down three acts from his Happyland bill and the audience could not get enough of them. The four Easterbrooks came first with their musical act and they had to respond to several encores. Then Guy DeCamp made the audience merry with his novelty act and he was followed by the Three Smiths who created abundant laughter with their sketch, The Country Hotel.

The second part of the programme was in charge of the Sunday school of Westminster church. The members presented the musical comedy, Is Santa Claus a Fraud? This was exceptionally pleasing and was thoroughly enjoyed. Then five boys in Christmas costume sang the Christmas chorus, The Christmas Waits. The cast of characters for the musical comedy was: "The judge, Harry Starr; Santa Claus (the prisoner on trial), William H. Phillips; court crier, Claude Vose; usher, Frederick Maine; counsel for prosecution, Nelson Walker; defendant's attorney, James L. Jameson; Father Time, Alvin Keyes; sandman, Harold Smith; Pierrot, Robert Mitchell; a doll, Martha Glazier; jack-o'-lantern, Leslie Taber; goddess of liberty, Lois McKay; May queen, Amber Barrus; a fairy, Bernice Brooks; Mother Goose, Rose Barnhart; St. Valentine, Leslie Case; Jack Frost, Raymond Steele; April fool, Harold Fullmer; the holly, Harold Wride; the mistletoe, Harry Dixon; History Clarabel Nye; poetry, Clara Emmons; tradition, Elmar Griggs; folklore, Agnes Robitow; Dame Rumor, Mildred Robbins.

Special dinners were provided at both prisons which consisted of roast beef, mashed potatoes, brown gravy, apple butter, ginger cakes, raised biscuits, white bread, coffee with milk and sugar. In addition to the above each man received a cigar.
