

THE WEATHER PROPHET.

Who is the man who can tell the weather? And how does he do it? It is a question that has puzzled philosophers and scientists for centuries.

The man who can tell the weather has been called a prophet. An English newspaper has the name of a man who can tell the weather.

At length the mate having sent up the whole watch, ran up the rigging himself, and when he reached the haunted spot heard the dreadful words distinctly uttered in his ear.

Another of our officers mentioned that on one of his voyages he remembered a boy having been sent up to clear a rope which had got foul above the mizen-top.

Have you any idea how many miles a dancing girl gets over in a single evening? I don't mean a more or less wall flower, or one who sits out her dances—alone or otherwise—but a real lover of waltzing.

Everybody who has been to school knows the Roman numerals, and they are always used on clocks and watches. What everybody doesn't know, however, is that the representations of the fourth figure on the dial of a timepiece are never made as they should be, according to the arithmetics, for instead of being IV it is invariably written IIII.

The original portrait of Washington (right side of the face) by Gilbert Stuart, long thought to have been destroyed by the artist, seems to have been recognized in the hands of Dr. W. F. Channing, of California, who inherited it from his distinguished father, Rev. William Ellery Channing, who obtained it from his uncle, Col. Gibbs.—Science.

The Florida Times-Union has this item: "Uncle Chris Gray, the champion bear killer of Leon county, is 80 years of age, has seventeen children (the youngest not quite 1 year old), forty-two grandchildren, and says he is good for twenty years to come. He can split 200 rails a day and walk two miles before sunset."

The Cincinnati No. 10, of Cincinnati, owns a dog which is said to have saved the lives of several firemen. The animal is described as a large, handsome Newfoundland, and is credited with being able to climb a ladder three stories high.

The National museum has secured Col. James Stevenson's private collection of Indian relics, entirely Pueblo. It contains several hundred pieces, among them an example of pottery for which Tiffany offered $250.

Senator Morrill, of Vermont, has been in public life longer than any American now living. He entered the house of representatives thirty-four years ago.

THE WOMEN OF MANILA.

MANY OF THEM ARE VERY HANDSOME AND INTELLIGENT

They Are Experts at the Sewing Machine and in Making Toys—They Dress Prettily, but Do Not Lace Many Superior Brass Bands in Manila.

Perhaps one of the most interesting studies in this part of the world is the native and the development of his racial features. Those who are given to the study of physiognomy are impressed at once with the intellectual superiority of the female native over the male.

Some years ago sewing machines were introduced here and the native women very soon learned to run them as easily as any white woman. Now no well regulated household is completely equipped without a sewing machine and a native woman to run it.

They live in their own homes—little nipa huts, with one or two rooms—and are in the houses of their employers from about 6 a. m. to 3:30 or 6 p. m. Large numbers of the native women work in the tobacco factories and other manufacturing establishments about the city, while many of them occupy themselves at home, making toys, fancy articles and embroidery for the shops.

Streets full of beauties. The natives are a branch of the Malay race, and none are much darker than a very dark brown. They have some of the characteristics of the American Indian among which are the high cheek bones, which, however, are not as rule prominent in the female face.

What would be called Eurasians in other parts of the east are called Mestizos or Mestizas; that is, the offspring of white fathers and native mothers. A fair type of the Spanish Mestiza dress, which is peculiar to this class, consists of a long skirt of heavy silk and a waist and necktie made of the fibers of the pineapple plant and embroidered with white silk linen or cotton.

Two men met on a down town corner. One asked the other to accompany him to lunch. The invitation was cordially accepted. They started along the street, arm in arm, and finally the host led the way into a restaurant.

ANTS FOR EATING.

They Are Said to Be as Good as Pickles, and to be Large as Frogs.

Should a Maine lumberman find a stump of rotten log with thousands of big black ants in it, he scoops the torpid insects from their winter domiciles and fills his dinner pail with them.

Ants are said by those who have tasted them to have a peculiarly agreeable, strongly acid flavor. The woodmen, whose food consists largely of salted, tanned beans and similar heavy victuals, naturally have a craving for something sour.

Herodotus tells of ants that live in the deserts of India which are in size "somewhat less than dogs, but larger than foxes." These creatures, in heaping up the earth after the manner of common ants, were a very efficient aid to the Indian gold hunters.

Webster's Blue Suit. Daniel Webster went to college in a homespun suit, of which probably every thread was dyed, spun and woven by his mother's hand from the wool of their own sheep.

There is a rumor in London that William Walter Phelps has written to a friend to secure him a big house in Grosvenor square or the immediate neighborhood as a preliminary to his appearance in the character of American minister.

Very Few Deer for the Catskills. The forestry commission is making headway with the state deer park in the Catskill country, which the legislature of last winter authorized. In the annual report to the legislature the commissioners say that while the park itself had been selected to procure deer and other wild game with which to stock the premises, but since the report was written two bucks and two does have been purchased for $60, to be turned loose in the park.—Ex.

Nothing in the Wide World so Good. I was afflicted with Kidney disease. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y.—I say it with a perfect recollection of all that was done for me besides, it is the only thing that gave me permanent relief. I have recommended this medicine to many people for Kidney disease and they all agree in saying that it has not its equal in the wide world for this complaint.—Lyman Crawford, Druggist, Springfield, Mass.

We are indebted to Colley Cibber for the agreeable intelligence that "Richard is himself again."

"Of two evils I have chosen the least" and "The end must justify the means" are from Matthew Prior.

High Water Mark 100,000. Over one hundred thousand free sample bottles of Kemp's Balsam, we learn, were given away in this state last year. The corresponding sale on the Balsam has never been equalled or approached by any similar remedy. The medicine must have great merit or the free sample would injure, rather than help the sale. If you have a cough or cold, or even consumption we would seriously advise a trial. The regular bottle are 50c and $1.

Campbell found that "Coming events cast their shadows before" and "The distance lends enchantment to the view."

The Folly of Advertising. A successful eastern advertiser said recently that a yearly advertisement in a newspaper paid better than a clothes basket full of circulars distributed monthly. The folly of advertising an inferior article in any manner has, however, long been apparent. Kemp's Balsam would not be leading cough and consumption remedy of all that are to-day advertised, but of the genuine merit of this standard family medicine.

My boy (three years old) was recently taken with cold in the head. It seemed finally to settle in his nose, which was stopped up for days and nights so that it was difficult for him to breathe and sleep. I called a physician, who prescribed, but did him no good. Finally I went to the drug store and got a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. It seemed to work like magic. The boy's nose was clear in two days, and he has been all right ever since.—E. J.
