Republican State Convention.

At a meeting of the Republican State Committee, held at Albany on the 8th day of July, 1858, the 8th day of September was agreed upon as the time for holding the next State Convention, as will be seen by the following notice.

The Republican Electors of the State of New York are requested to choose two delegates from each Assembly District to meet in STATE CONVENTION in the CITY OF SYRACUSE, on WEDNESDAY, the EIGHTH day of SEPTEMBER next, at 12 o'clock, noon, for the purpose of presenting Candidates to be supported for the Offices of Governor, Lieut. Governor, Canal Commissioner and State Prison Inspector, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the Convention.

REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE.

THE DEFEAT OF FRANK P. BLAIR JR.—The defeat of this noble champion of freedom while not entirely unexpected, is nevertheless to be regretted. Standing on the broad ground of national freedom and fighting the battle of emancipation in Missouri, the heart of every friend of freedom throughout the country warmed towards him, as to a brother. His defeat was simply the result of third candidate running, the same thing which defeated Fremont, and the only thing which permits democracy an existence. Undoubtedly too there was more or less illegal and double voting. The vote of the city was over nineteen thousand, exceeding by seven thousand the vote cast for President in 1856, and by six thousand the vote at the congressional election of 1856. Surely such an increase cannot be attributed to the nominal increase of population, and the only natural conclusion is "fraudulent voting." The St. Louis Democrat asserts that this illegal voting was carried on at some precincts to great extent and that roving bands of "Nationals," paraded the streets, voting as they went. Still 'tis too late to whine now and 'twere useless to lock the stable door after the horse is stolen. It is however, gratifying to know that the Republicans of St. Louis, though disappointed are not disheartened. The St. Louis Democrat says —

"In the resume of the campaign, we cannot but feel that where the battle was fought it was done gallantly. For our part, we have contested every foot of ground, every point of argument, every legitimate appliance of political warfare. If defeated, we have only to say that it is part of the fortune that attends every protonged contest. We do not for that reason either despair or surrender. We have unfurled the flag for 1860, and come weal come woe, this journal will not strike its colors in the conflict. We shall fight for the last plank in the ship, and run up the ensign in a gunboat, if need be."

With such a cause and such champions Republicanism will soon become a fixture in St. Louis, and Missouri be roused from the depths of degredation to which Border Ruffianism had consigned her. Viewed in any other bearing than its immediate political effect, perhaps the defeat of Mr. Blair is a fortunate occurrence. In the House of Representatives he could avail but little in the great cause compared with his efforts and influence in Missouri. This defeat will only inspire the emancipationists with energy for greater efforts, and the spirit which is shown by the Democrat is the sure precursor of ultimate success.

☞ Now that the Gerritt Smith movement has proved a fizzle we may expect to see the Democratic papers of the State calling Smith an "old abolitionist" or "agitator" as before the Convention was called.

☞ Hon. Wm. C. Bryant has resigned the post of Regent of the University.

THE POETRY OF THE CABLE.—Amid the general rejoicings every where over the success of the cable and the enthusiastic testimonials of joy which every breeze from whatever quarter, wafts to our ears, poesy claims her right to do homage to the great of greatest events. In our exchanges we find the following

[From the New York Courier and Enquirer]

Hymn to the Atlantic Cable.

Bow, Science, bow thy head in awe,
With lightning chain in hand,
Be still, as through the ocean's depths,
Thou bindest land to land;

For thou has wrought a miracle,
Next to the Son of God,
Thou walkest down on sea's dark floor,
High on its waves He trod;

He holds the lightning in the cloud,
And thou within the wave,
and wind and wave, which yield to Him,
Thou hast had power to brave;

Then tremble thou before thyself,
So near to God akin,
That to thy hand His power comes,
And seems to dwell therein;

And hushed and trembling thank the Lord,
For favor on thee shed,
That thou, through sea, with lightning chain,
Two Continents hast wed.

This following lines were written Wm. Winter, Esq., and were sung to the tune of Hail Columbia at a grand promenade concert at Music Hall, Boston, on Saturday night last,

Grand with feeling, sweet and strong,
Swell to-night the choral song!
For the noble work is done;
And the precious prize is won;
And the raptured nations stand
Face to face and hand in hand.
Honor to the brave and true!
Skill to plan and will to do;
Strength that nerves, through doubt and pain,
Saxon heart and Saxon brain!
For the rainbow arch sublime,
Rises o'er the sea of Time;
And the starry lights presage
Triumphs of the golden age.

O'er the centuries left behind
Glorious is the march of mind;
And to-night our prayers arise
For its grandest enterprise!
While Thought's winged couriers sweep
Through the awful deep!
Honor those who sowed the seed—
Noble thought and noble deed!
But, for every blessing given,
GLORY BE TO GOD IN HEAVEN!
For the rainbow first sublime,
Rises o'er the sea of time;
And the starry lights presage
Triumphs of the golden age!

KANSAS.—Returns from the territory come in better and better for freedom.—Complete returns from Leavenworth Co. give 1748 majority against the Lecompton swindle. Partial returns from Shawnee, Johnson and Franklin Counties increase the majority to 4,704. The majority against the bill in the territory will reach nine or ten thousand. Topeka cast 246 votes against the bill and 10 for it. Lecompton gave 122 against the bill and 27 for it. Our Kansas exchanges printed just before the election come to us with stirring appeals to the people to do their duty on election day. The articles possess in such an eminent degree the "ring of the true metal" that we cannot forbear copying a couple.

[From the Leavenworth Times, July 31]

We make one last appeal to the freemen of Kansas. MONDAY NEXT, Freemen will have to speak for Freedom—to scathe with all their vengeful might, the English Juggle, and the despotism which enacted it. Be out, then, in all your power, and in the might of your majesty, Freemen of Kansas; no matter whether it rain or shine, whether it storm or hail, be on hand. Vote. See to it that every man who has a right, votes. One peal, one united and glorious peal, for liberty in Kansas, and despotism is dead! Give it! Give it with a vigor and concentration which shall rend despotism

"Only let the Lecompton be voted down and I have no fear," writes a good and great man at the East, who has never flinched in the battle for Liberty. "It will be! Down, down it will go, and with a will. But, men of Kansas, push up your vote to its mightiest strength. Lose no one vote. Stand out with your tens of thousands, a band of workers and a band of Freemen, and make the Republic feel your strength. Remember, Monday next!—Prepare for it, and make it a death day to despotism.

[From the Minnesota Statesman, July 31.]

* * * * We are free; by our own exertions we are free, and let us be careful not to permit James Buchanan and his man, Friday, English, to steal the credit of making us so, by accepting that brazen-born, sin-conceived proposition. Defeat it! Crush it to atoms! Let the telegraphic wires flash the joyous intelligence over the continent that Kansas—the modern battle ground for Free Institutions—has been true to herself and to the cause; that she has refused to be subdued and could not be purchased, and has defeated the English proposition by at least twelve thousand majority. A bare plurality is not sufficient. We want a good strong vote, and let it be a decisive one. We have told the Administration once that we did not wish that polluted Lecompton Constitution for the fundamental law of the land, and when we have to reaffirm this, let us do it in such a manner that the powers that be, will not have sufficient hardihood to require a third affirmation. Then vote every man of you, vote on Monday next. Let nothing keep you from the polls. Out on it for FREEDOM AND VICTORY!!!

SHORT HISTORY OF THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH ENTERPRISE.—We compile from different sources at hand the following sketch of this grand undertaking over whose success the civilized world is now rejoicing:—

In the year 1856 Cyrus W. Field visited England. The result of his visit was the formation of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, with a capital of £350,000, for the purpose of connecting Europe with America by a submarine telegraph cable. In August, 1857, an attempt was made to lay down the Atlantic Submarine Cable, resulting in a disastrous failure. The cable was 2500 miles in length, weighing nearly one ton per mile, capable of bearing a direct strain of over five tons without fracture. The centre of the cable was formed by seven fine copper wires, twisted into a cord 1-16 of an inch thick. This strand was coated with gutta percha forming a small rope ⅜ of an inch thick; then coated with hempen twine twice soaked in pitch and tar; lastly, an external sheathing of eighteen iron wires, each wire being a strand of seven finer wires, making in all 126 wires.

The submersion was commenced on the 5th August, 1857. There were present the six steamers, Niagara, Agamemnon, Leopard, Susquehanna, Willing and Mind, intended to assist in various parts of the operation. The cable came up from the hold of the ship, around a central block, so to the open space above decks; it was there wound around grooved sheaths, geared together by cogs, and firmly planted on girders. Thence it passed over a fifth sheath, out over the stern into the sea, sinking by its own weight. A trifling accident happened on the 6th; this was repaired, and on the 11th, 380 miles (statute) had been submerged. The engineer here concluded there was too much 'slack' in the cable's course, and some modification in the machinery was consequently made. This appears to have been badly attended to by a subordinate. The cable snapped, and thus ended the attempt of 1857.

It having been concluded from Lieut. Maury's calculations that the average state of the weather was much better on the Atlantic in the early part of the summer, it was decided this year to make the attempt of laying the cable in June. It was also thought best to begin the submersion in mid-ocean and pay out towards either shore. Accordingly the telegraph fleet, consisting of the United States steam frigate Niagara and her majesty's steamers Agamemnon, Valorous and Gorgon, left Plymouth on Thursday, June 10, 1858.—The Niagara had 850 tuns, and the Agamemnon 450 tuns coal, and each about 1200 nautical, or a little less than 1500 statute miles of cable on board. The weather, at first favorable, became unusually boisterous, so that the fleet were not ready to commence operations until late on the 25th of June.

The first splice was made between the Niagara and the Agamemnon on the morning of Saturday, the 26th of June, and after each ship had payed out about three miles the cable broke on board the Niagara, owing to its overriding and getting off the pulley leading to the machine. Both vessels put about and returned, a fresh splice was made, and again lowered over at half past seven. The paying out proceeded beautifully until early on Sunday morning, when the signals suddenly ceased.—The cable was out, and the Niagara repaired to the rendezvous. The cause of the rupture was equally mysterious to those on board the Agamemnon, and no satisfactory conjecture has since been made.

The cable was again spliced on the 28th, and the steamers parted. Everything worked beautifully during that night and the next day. But at 9 o'clock P. M. on the 29th, the announcement of "no signals" was made on board the Niagara.—At the time 142 miles of cable had been payed out. It was subsequently ascertained that the cable parted, for some reason unknown, about six fathoms from the stern of the Agamemnon. About 400 miles of cable were lost during these trials, the effect of which upon the public confidence in the final success of the undertaking was most depressing.

But the managers continued indefatigable. The fleet sailed a second time from Queenstown on the 17 of July, joined the cable on the 29th, and on the 5th of August the world had news of success.

The cost of the telegraph cable has been put down as follows:

Price deep-sea wire per mile	$200
Price spun yard and iron wire per mile	265
Price outside do per mile	20
Total per mile	$485
For 2500 miles	$1,212,500
For 10 miles deep-sea cable, at $1450 per mile	14,500
For 25 miles shore ends, at $1250 per mile	31,250
Total cost	$1,258,250

☞ All doubt of the success of the cable is removed. Dispatches from Trinity Bay place the complete success of the Atlantic Telegraph beyond a doubt. Signals have been made through the whole length with the greatest accuracy. It is thought that several days or perhaps weeks must elapse before the line will be open for business as several experiments with the recording instruments will have to be made.—Due notice of the opening of the line will given.

Messrs. Perry Davis & Son.—Gents.—For more than a year I was afflicted with a trouble some cough attended with a yellowish frothy expectoration, and great emaciation followed. Whether it was a liver or lung cough I know not but there was an incessant tickling sensation in my throat. Calling one day at the office of the United States Journal, of this city, one of the proprietors strongly recommended me to try your Pain Killer. I sent and got the article and was helped immediately and am now well.—This was last March. I withhold my address as myself and my family are averse to notoriety. That what I have written is solemn truth is well known to the proprietors of the Journal. I write under gratefulness.

Yours truly, AMICUS.

☞ Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor is all diseases inflammation more or less predominates—how to allay inflammation strikes at the root of disease—hence an immediate cure. Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor, and nothing else, will allay inflammation at once, and make a certain cure. Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor will cure the following among a great many other diseases, Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Chafes, Sore Nipples, Corns, Bunions, Bruises, Strains, Bites, Scratches, Fever Sores, Boils, Fits, Fever Aches, Pains, Sore Eyes, Joint Swellings, Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Salt Rheum, Baldness, Ringworm, Barber's Itch, Sore Lips, Pox, Measles, Itch, &c. &c.

To see it may appear incredible that so many diseases should be cured by one article, but when we say so when we state a plain fact, that the active principle of a great many of the ingredients, each and every one applicable to a perfect antidote to Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor, is the reason, because the cause is removed the disease and pain must cease, and nature is again drawn to the surface, and the blood left free and pure as before. It is yourself necessary that no family, workshop, or manufactory should be one moment without it. No Pain Extractor is genuine unless the box has upon it a steel engraving with the name of Henry Dalley Manufacturer.
