

Parade Tonight Colorful Climax for Celebration

Several Divisions Will March In Long Line,
With Halt at Memorial City Hall For D.
S. C. Ceremony—Legion's Ball at Armory
For Gay Top-Off Whirl

Armistice Day progressed toward its close with Auburnians looking forward to the events scheduled for this evening, a parade through the business streets, Armistice ball at the Armory, and presentation of a war medal to a well known veteran at the Memorial City Hall. Today, flags fluttered in the breeze, while public offices and institutions kept holiday and special services were held in churches in commemoration of the closing of World War hostilities 13 years ago, November 11, 1918.

Elaborate Parade
The procession, which gives promise of being the most impressive Armistice Parade Auburn has seen in recent years, will assemble at the Auburn Seminary campus in Seminary Street, prepared to march at 7:30. The line of march will be down Seminary Avenue to Genesee Street, west on Genesee to James Street, counter-march on Genesee to William to South, to North, to Market, and to State Streets, where the parade will disband at the armory.

The Armistice ball will follow, with Adolph Huss's Silver Moon Orchestra playing for the dancing amidst a colorful setting of flags and flowers.
The parade, of which Capt. Fred W. Andrews, formerly supply officer for the 108th Regiment will be marshal, will consist of five divisions. Announcement was made today that the Boy Scouts of America will march directly behind the Spanish War Veterans in the Second Division. The Scouts of Auburn and vicinity will gather at 7:30 at the Seminary campus. Hazen A. Ross, Cayuga County Scout executive, will have charge of the Scouts, assisted by the deputy commissioners and Scoutmasters. Joseph Farkas, well known Auburn veteran of the World War and commander of Cayuga Post.

Veterans of Foreign Wars, will receive the Distinguished Service Cross from Capt. Charles D. Osborne, mayor of Auburn, when the parade halts in front of Memorial City Hall in South Street, shortly after 8 o'clock.

Armistice Program at Prison.
Armistice Day was appropriately observed at the Men's and Women's Prisons today with special programs, chapel services, talks, singing, band concerts and moving picture shows. A holiday was declared and all shops and industries were closed.

At the chapel services in the Men's Prison, speakers included Warden Joseph H. Brophy, Mayor Charles D. Osborne, Rev. William Beggan, Catholic chaplain; and Rev. George A. Stott, Protestant chaplain. The Kivranis quartette, composed of Rev. Dr. Frank L. Gonnell, James B. Herbert, Frank H. Steigerwald and Raymond Starr sang several songs. Joseph E. Tallmadge was the accompanist.

As both institutions have been equipped with talkie apparatus a fine moving picture show was enjoyed by both the men and the women. After the movie at the Women's Prison the men's band was taken to the Women's Prison and there played a concert. There was a special holiday menu and all the prisoners had quite a day.

UNION SPRINGS BARN LEVELLED

Heavy Damage By Fire
Near Village—James King,
Neighbor, Unlucky

Despite the fact that the place had been unoccupied for some time, flames destroyed two large barns and a shed filled with hay and grain on the Joshua Truesdell farm, about one mile east of Union Springs village last night, with a loss of $8,000, partly covered by insurance. Union Springs firemen prevented flames from spreading to the farm house and also protected a barn across the highway. Lack of water made it impossible for the fire fighters to save the burning barns.
The fire was discovered at 8:30. Flames lighted up the sky and the reflection drew hundreds of motorists to the scene of the fire. James King, living near the Truesdell place, had stored farm machinery valued at $1,000 in the Truesdell barns, yesterday. This machinery was a total loss.

Pantomime At First M. E.
Another popular pantomime entitled "The Parable of the Sower" will be presented at the First Methodist Church Sunday at 7:30 under the direction of Mrs. Charles Mosher. The huge Bible designed and painted by Edward Davis will be used. Mr. Davis is painting a special scene for the parable. Alvin Grainger will have charge of the lighting. The parable will be acted out in the Bible. Special music consisting of solos, hymns and anthems will be sung. Mr. Rieser will have charge of the song service of old favorite hymns. Rev. J. H. Willis will preach on the theme of the parable. The piano and organ will be used for the song service.

Former Auburn Contractor Dies.
Frederic L. Swartwood, 70, former Auburn contractor and builder, died Thursday, November 5, at his home in New Britain, Conn., where he had resided since leaving Auburn nearly 20 years ago. Aside from his high reputation as a contractor, he was a great lover of harness horses. Surviving are his widow, Alice R. Miller Swartwood; two daughters, Mrs. George M. Flanagan of New Britain and Mrs. Alfred Ruder of Hartford, Conn. A private funeral service was held at New Britain with burial in Nowlington Cemetery.

Grotto Feasts on Chicken.

The following message to the American people in commemoration of Armistice Day is written especially for The Associated Press by the national commander of the American Legion.

By HENRY L. STEVENS, JR.
National Commander of The American Legion

We commemorate today the anniversary of a great event that a few brief years ago brought joyousness to millions of saddened hearts and relief from the strife and turmoil of armed conflict. To the people of America and other nations engaged in that internecine struggle, the signing of the Armistice came like a burst of sunshine to drive away the black clouds of war and to herald the dawn of a new and glorious day in world peace. We were grateful then for the blessing of peace and we should be grateful now for its continuance.

The deeds of valor performed by America's fighting men in that war will never grow dim, but will forever reflect the light of peerless devotion and the spirit of unselfish service that has made America great. Thousands made the supreme sacrifice and many came back to pay the price of service in terms of physical and mental suffering. Such magnificent loyalty to the nation, capable of rising to the greatest heights of patriotic chivalry, must challenge the sincere admiration of all.

From their service in time of war veterans gained a high appreciation of citizenship responsibility and they returned to civil life with the conviction that the lofty idealism that inspired them to victory in arms should be preserved and made useful in the peacetime life of the nation. It was this sentiment for continued service in time of peace that resulted in the creation of The American Legion.

Confidence is reposed in the American Legion today because it has labored faithfully since its inception to uphold the high ideals to which it has pledged a lifetime of effort. It has kept faith with those comrades who were disabled in the service and it has kept faith with the nation.

As we observe another Armistice Day we can look to the future with confidence and abiding faith in America. Allegiance will never be lacking to the flag that symbolizes all we hold dear and priceless. We honor today the courageous spirit that brought victory 13 years ago, and in so doing all Americans should gain a renewed inspiration to carry on for greater and grander achievements.

Pigeons Perch Near Body of Dead Friend

Massapequa, N. Y., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Sitting in a rocking chair, quietly knitting, Mrs. Nora Schuester, 58, died.

And out the open doorway flew the friendly pigeons who always had been welcomed inside the domicile of Gustaf and Nora Schuester. When called, notified by a physician, arrived yesterday, a pigeon was perched on the chair in which Mrs. Schuester's body rested.

Other birds perched, unafraid, on the dust-covered case in which rested Gustaf's long unused clarinet; the clarinet he played under the baton of Victor Herbert until age slowed his fingers.

Inside the case Dr. Theodore Reed found a slip of paper—a prescription for medicine he had given Mrs. Schuester a year and a half ago for her heart trouble and which for lack of funds had never been filled.

To Serve Sauerkraut Supper.

Hobart's football team will make its 27th attempt to win a game Saturday afternoon at Boswell Field, Geneva, when it tackles the Buffalo University eleven. Ted Clack of this city will start at right guard for Hobart. A relationship feud will also enter the game. Mrs. William Pritchard, wife of the head coach of Buffalo University, is not committing herself on the outcome of the contest because she also happens to be the sister of N. Lee Frank, assistant coach of the Deacons. Besides helping to win the congratulatory nod from Mrs. Pritchard, both coaches will be gunning for victory to satisfy a seven-year-old grudge. Both men played on opposing teams that year. Frank was captain of Pittsburgh while his brother-in-law was fullback for Penn State. Pitt galloped off with the honors, 24-3.

Special First Baptist Program.
An advance registration of over 50 assures a measure of success for the educational and inspirational program which will occupy the Thursday evenings at First Baptist during the next month. The ideal of those promoting it is as nearly as possible one hundred per cent attendance of the young people and adults. Supper at 4:15 will be served at a low rate for those who make reservations before Thursday. Miss Jeanne Baidler will meet those interested in church school problems, Miss Joan Batty will conduct the course on "Jesus the Master Teacher," and Prof. Walter S. Davison will lead discussions on worship. The findings of this class will be applied in the 8 o'clock meeting of the entire group, which is open also to any who find it impossible to attend the earlier sessions. ## SPECULATION AS TO CITY MANAGER CONTINUES RIFE

Leaders Deny Choice Made
At Conference, Say It
Will Not Be Soon

Speculation as to the next city manager of Auburn, an office to be filled by the incoming Republican City Council, was widespread today. Republican leaders were mum as to the person favored to manage city affairs when Mayor-elect Kirk Bowen and his associates take their seats on January 1.

Various Auburnians have been mentioned for the position and from this list it is expected the choice will be made. Rumor had it that the choice was made at a conference of Republican leaders yesterday. This was denied by those in a position to know. None would say when the choice would be made, or when announced, except that it would "not be right away."

Members of Republican majority in the Council were reluctant to discuss the city manager ship. G. O. P. local leaders reminded reporters that "several weeks" remain before the new Council will take office and declared there is "ample time" for a choice.

In the meantime, frequent consultations are being held by the powers that be in the local G. O. P., and the list of possible appointees is not shrinking.

Five cases of cruelty were investigated. He was at the Public Market three times a week and found the animals properly handled and things in good shape. There were 300 visitors and $80 telephone calls for the month at the Shelter.

The Shelter is being put in shape for winter, and will be more comfortable for the animals. The state organization solicited help for the coming season's work. Five dollars was donated, on motion of Mrs. Thompson. Some legal papers were turned over to Attorney Robert J. Burritt for approval.

The meeting adjourned for one week in order to take action on some pending matters.
