

DEMPSEY TO TRAIN ON OWASCO?

NEW YORK REPORTS SAY HE MAY OPEN QUARTERS HERE.

Prediction that Jack Dempsey is to reenter the ring and probably train on Owasco Lake was contained yesterday in the New York Daily Mirror.

The tabloid quotes William Duffy as stating that he will manage Dempsey and that the first thing he will do is to select the Owasco Lake farm of Mayor Charles D. Osborne as a training camp for the former champion.

ASSESSORS MEET HERE ON MONDAY

All of the assessors of Auburn and the 23 towns of Cayuga County will assemble in Auburn next Monday for a conference with representatives of the firm of Ellsworth Barrows & Co., of Buffalo, regarding the assessed valuations of public utilities of the county, made by the Buffalo firm.

The concern was engaged by the Board of Supervisors of the county a year ago to place valuations on public utilities properties of the entire county in order to give the assessors a fairly accurate figure to place on their tax assessment rolls and put an end to annual differences as to proper values.

Next Monday the valuations will be explained to the assessors in each town and they will be given any other information desired.

I.C.C. Approves Central's Owasco River R.R. Purchase

The Interstate Commerce Commission gave its final approval to the major proposals of the New York Central's unification plans Wednesday, and set up conditions under which it may acquire control of five short lines included in its original plan of consolidation.

Tentative approval was given by the commission in an order dated January 14, final approval being contingent on an attempt by the New York Central to acquire the five short lines either by agreement or arbitration.

The commission gave notice of its satisfaction of the agreement reached between the New York Central and the Owasco River Railway. The commission is of the opinion that the offers of the New York Central are in compliance with conditions prescribed, but believe that additional precautions are necessary so that there may be "no miscarriage in the consummation of our plans."

That nothing here shall be construed to relieve the New York Central from compliance with provisions of law applicable to any assumption of obligation and liabilities, etc., by virtue of the proposed leases.

That no stock of the lesser companies shall be sold or otherwise disposed of by the New York Central unless authority from us first has been obtained.

HUNDREDS VIEW ROSE SHOW AND PARK BEAUTIES

Besides Exhibits, 300 Bushes on Grounds Add to Charm of Event.

An ambitious achievement of many years standing was realized Wednesday when the Auburn Rose and Floral Society was permitted to open a municipal rose garden at Hoopes Avenue Park with the co-operation of the city government.

The registration book kept by the committee would indicate that over 500 persons visited the park and the new service pavilion Wednesday during the few hours it was open. There were held the indoor exhibits which was pronounced by a number to be one of the best ever held.

Added to the indoor exhibit were the 300 roses planted in the beds surrounding the pavilion and bordering the miniature lake in the spacious park. More roses are to be added each year and it will prove to be a most attractive, restful spot.

Could the building and grounds have been lighted, many hundreds more would have attended. The event was closed at 7:30 because the electric light cable had not yet been laid.

This year the roses have been better than ever and the show was just as gorgeous in every respect from the six foot tall delphiniums in wonderful shades of blue, yellow and deep red brown daisies interspersed with hundreds of the most brilliantly colored roses of all shades and colors, many never shown before, created a wonderful picture.

In the David M. Dunning and George C. Pearson collection, the Tallman rose attracted great attention because of its form and rich golden bronze coloring. Several climbers could be shown this year because of the lateness of the season not theretofore shown, such as Mary Wallace, Dr. Van Fleet and others.

The groupings were also unusually beautiful and attractive and coupled with the attractions of this handsome new pavilion overlooking the lake, every feature seemed perfect.

The bearers were Fred Spromaker, Elton Duffee, Samuel Sprague and Frank Goodwin.

STILL VACANCIES IN BUS GOING TO CLEVELAND BOUT

Billy Walsh, chairman of the proposed trip to Cleveland, O., to witness the Lawless-Jones bout, which will be staged in Cleveland ball park, Tuesday July 16, stated today that a block of rooms in the Hollenden Hotel, one of the finest hosteries of the Ohio city, has been reserved for 30 Auburnians.

Because the fight was postponed from July 9 to the 16th some reservations were cancelled, leaving a few openings for any who desire to make the journey in the 30 passenger deluxe Pullman bus which has been chartered.

A block of reserved seats in the ringside section have been set aside for the Auburn fight fans and every comfort has been looked after for those making the trip. Information about the journey may be had by calling 820 or by coming to 64 State Street where Mr. Walsh will be on hand to give any information as to the reservations.

LUNK CAUTIONS ABOUT AD SCHEME

William R. Lunk, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, issued a warning to manufacturers and business men of Auburn to watch out for a man soliciting advertising for a state police magazine. The solicitor represents that the money he receives is for the benefit of the "State Police Relief Association."

If business men are approached to subscribe for advertising in this magazine, they are asked to communicate immediately with the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce before they sign any contracts or pay any money.

When last seen, this man was dressed in a dark blue uniform, black shoes, black puttees, no spurs and a blue uniform cap. He is about 30 years old and about six feet tall. His complexion is dark, and he has dark hair and eyes. His face is clean-shaven.

He is said to travel in an automobile, the make and license of which are not known.

Mr. Lunk also warned against solicitors for magazines. Many telephone inquiries have been made as to whether these solicitors had been sanctioned by the Chamber of Commerce. No endorsement of any kind for his work has been considered. Investigation of the claims of the solicitor should be made before any money is paid, the chamber warned.

Drunk Celebrates Fourth.

Billy Musko, who has been making rapid strides in the amateur boxing profession during the past Winter, added more laurels to his credit last night at Elmira where the great open air boxing contest was held.

Last year Miss Nelson swam the width of Owasco Lake. This year she plans to do likewise in each of the Finger Lakes. Her next attempt will be in Seneca Lake.

Auburn Girl Swims Across Cayuga Lake.
Miss Alice Nelson, registrar of the local automobile license bureau, celebrated Independence Day yesterday by swimming across Cayuga Lake. She started in front of Cayuga Lake Park and finished at Cowing's Point.

The lake is about two and a half miles wide at this point, and Miss Nelson negotiated the distance in about an hour and a half. What makes the feat particularly outstanding is the fact that the water was exceedingly rough at the time.

Miss Nelson was accompanied by her brother, George Nelson, in a boat. She showed no signs of fatigue upon completing the swim.
