EVENING REPUBLIC.
Saturday Evening, Jan. 8, 1876.

Last Night's Report.

FORTY-FOURTH CONGRESS.

SENATE—WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.

THE PRESIDENT PRO TEM.

Mr. Sherman said that the senator from Ind., (Morton,) yesterday made a report from the committee on privileges and elections, in regard to presiding officers of the senate. It seemed to him that this report had better be acted upon. He therefore moved that the senate proceed with the consideration of the resolution offered by the senator from Vermont before recess in regard to electing a president pro tem. of the senate. He made the motion with the view of offering a substitute for that resolution should it be taken up.

Mr. Edmunds, Vt., thought the matter should go over until to-morrow or Monday. The report of the committee on privileges and elections had just been placed on the tables of the senators and they had not yet examined it.

Mr. Thurman, O., also asked that the matter go over.

Mr. Sherman did not object and the report was laid over.

Mr. Davis gave notice of a speech on the revenue and expenditures of the country, public debt, &c., on Wednesday next.

NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED.

The senate confirmed the nominations of Geo. F. Seward as minister to China, Ayres P. Merrill as minister to Belgium, Cyrus C. Carpenter, of Iowa, second comptroller of the treasury, Reuben Williams, of Indiana, deputy second comptroller of the treasury, and Horace Austin, of Minnesota, third auditor of the treasury.

A very large number of relief bills, petitions for removal of political disabilities, and memorials praying for legislation of various kinds were introduced.

Adjourned until Wednesday.

WHISKY FRAUDS.

Vigorous Prosecution of the Chicago Cases—Suspicious Houses in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—Internal Revenue Supervisor Tutton, of this city, has received instructions from Secretary Bristow to proceed at once to Chicago to superintend the trials arising from the seizures of distilleries, etc., made by him in that city in May last. He is to be prepared with evidence for the prosecution of each person indicted, as no promise or understanding has been or will be made looking to the compromise of any of the cases. They are to be prosecuted vigorously. Tutton will leave Monday for Chicago, accompanied by witnesses and all evidence collected in the east to prove the duplication of packages, &c.

The department has knowledge of the fact that several large liquor establishments of this city have been dealing in crooked whisky, and most of them have been called upon to explain by Supervisor Tutton. This gentleman states that while there is no doubt that these houses have been dealing in crooked whisky, yet there is no positive evidence that they did it with any guilty knowledge. There may be one or two houses that knew what they were doing, but the department has no evidence of fact yet. Tutton said one firm bought 1,900 barrels of whisky in four months from a house in Chicago, but there is no evidence that they purchased it with guilty knowledge. It was discovered that they had paid full market price for the whisky.

FEDERAL APPROPRIATIONS.

The Committee Have the Military Academy and Pensions Under Consideration—The Appropriation for the Former Largely Reduced.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The house committee on appropriations had a long session this evening on the military academy appropriation bill, and completed it for a report to the house next Monday. They reduced the pay of cadets from about $500 to $480 per year, which will diminish the item for that purpose some $17,000. The pay of professors is reduced 20 per cent. and numerous small reductions are made in other items. The total amount of the bill is reduced about $80,000 from last year's total of $320,000. The pension appropriation bill was also finished, and will be reported to the house by Mr. Atkins of Tennessee, an ex-confederate. No reduction was made from department estimates for this bill, its amount being twenty-nine and a-half millions.

THE GERMOND BURGLARS.

Tom Scott Goes to Auburn for 18 Years.

UTICA, Jan. 7.—Tom Scott, alias Tom Ryan, alias Tom Riley, alias Tom Brady, alias Tom Rogers, alias Walter Monroe, the last of six tried for complicity in the masked burglary at Peter Germond's house, near this city on August 9th, 1875, was to-day found guilty and sentenced by Judge Bliss, to 18 years hard labor in Auburn prison.

RELIGIOUS.

Remarkable Revival.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., January 7.—A remarkable religious revival is progressing in this city, principally at St. John's M. E. church, where the evangelist, Miss Maggie Van Cott, has held services during the past three or four weeks. There have been over three hundred conversions in all, and 220 persons have joined this church alone.

THE RAILROAD WAR.

The Trouble Settled.

HOPEWELL, N. J., Jan. 7.—The militia arrived about 6 o'clock this A. M., and took possession of the engine and frog. There were fully 2,000 men on the ground. The chancellor has decided that the frog is to be put in, so that the Mercer and Somerset train can pass over the road, and that the engine now on the crossing shall be removed. No further trouble is anticipated.

MISCELLANEOUS.

—Milton McLean (white) was hanged at Jackson, Tenn., yesterday, and Bill Williams (colored) at Bartlett, in the same state.

—Wonderly & Co., lumbermen of Grand Rapids, Mich., suspended yesterday. Liabilities over $200,000.

—Frank Scott, colored, was hanged in the Memphis jail yard yesterday for the murder Ranson Phipps, colored, on Christmas Eve, 1874.

—The Erie railway has arranged to transport the survivors of the shipwrecked steamer Deutschland from New York to their respective destinations in the west free of charge.

—Secretary Chandler authorizes the statement that no changes are to take place in the interior department, and it is useless to apply for appointments.

—Dr. Gerlich has been appointed German vice consul at New York in place of Herr Feigel, who has been appointed consul at Havana.

—The members of the house committee on foreign relations called at the executive mansion yesterday and paid their respects to President Grant.

—Judge Dillon of the St. Louis U. S. district court, rendered a decision adverse to the Cowesey party in the controversy between the Atlantic & Pacific and the Missouri Pacific. He decides that the receivers of the Atlantic & Pacific shall remain in charge of the Missouri Pacific until such time as the lease shall have been cancelled.

CHARITY.

Meeting of the Centennial Relief Association Yesterday — A Statement and Appeal to the Public.

The Proprietors and Attaches of the Academy of Music Tender a Benefit for the Poor of the City —The Business of the Association — Appointment of a Committee on General Supplies— Cash Subscriptions.

&c., &c., &c.

Pursuant to adjournment, a meeting of the Centennial Relief Association was held at "D" Co.'s parlors yesterday afternoon, and the attendance was large. The President, Mrs. Wm. G. Fargo, occupied the chair, and Mrs. Hoxsie was at her post as Secretary.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, after which the Secretary read the following communication

FROM THE TREASURER:

BUFFALO, Jan. 5, 1876

Mrs. A. U. Hoxsie:

MADAM:—Your note of to-day is received. I would suggest the name of Mr. Samuel A. Provoost, Jr., as Assistant Treasurer. Yours respectfully,

A. ALTMAN.

Upon motion of Mr. A. Nelson, the appointment made by Mr. Altman was confirmed.

The following statement and appeal to the public was unanimously adopted as expressing the sense of the Association:

STATEMENT AND APPEAL TO THE PUBLIC.

The Centennial Relief Association of Buffalo is organized for a work of charity, and hopes by its efforts to render material aid to the poor of the city the present winter. The depressed condition of trade for the past two years has had the effect to deprive many industrious people of employment and thousands are suffering at this moment for the barest necessaries of life. Families who have never before known what it was to want are made painfully familiar with the sharp pangs of hunger and are sadly in need of fuel and raiment. In view of this condition of things, this Association deems it an imperative duty to appeal to our citizens generally for help. They make no appeal to national or sectarian feeling, but to the charity of all and for the benefit of all who suffer. They

APPEAL TO MANUFACTURERS

to contribute of their own means and to solicit donations from those to whom they afford employment, believing that everyone who is in receipt of an income, be it ever so small, should come generously forward to the help of those less fortunate than themselves. They appeal to individually and as firms, to contribute aid in such way as shall best satisfy their sense of benevolence and to solicit personally from their clerks such amounts as their circumstances will permit them to give. They

THE MERCHANTS,

APPEAL TO THE RAILROAD OFFICERS

to testify personally to their sympathy with this noble cause, and ask them to give to each and every one of their employes an opportunity to express in a substantial way their desire to help the needy and distressed. They

APPEAL TO THOSE IN CHARGE OF THE VARIOUS INDUSTRIES, which cannot be specifically enumerated, to put their shoulders to the wheel and help the association in the general work of charity they have inaugurated. They

APPEAL TO THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

for their hearty co-operation, and invite the principals and their assistants to interest the children of their respective schools in the objects of the association. They

APPEAL TO THE YOUNG MEN

of the city to donate liberally of their means, and to make sacrifices, if need be. While many may find it difficult to picture to themselves the distressing scenes presented in hundreds of households in this city, they can accept the assurances of this association that suffering is rife in our midst, and help is sorely needed. The

APPEAL TO THE YOUNG LADIES AND MISSES

of the city, to render such assistance as lies in their power and ask them to contribute of their means or of the products of their skill. Any pretty bit of handiwork will be acceptable and due acknowledgment will be made for whatever is contributed. The Centennial Relief Association has made arrangements for

A WEEK OF AMUSEMENT,

and during the first week in February, commencing on the 1st day of the month, will be held at St. James Hall their "Centennial Entertainment and Festival of Nations." By means of beautifully designed, characteristic architecture and costumes, and with the aid of the ladies of the city, various nations will be graphically represented. Instrumental and vocal music, national tableaux and such other entertaining features as may add to the interest and pleasure of these nightly reunions, will make up each evening's programme. The festival will include

A GRAND CALICO DRESS PARTY,

on the evening of Friday February 4th, when each lady will appear on the ball room floor arrayed in calico. By a resolution of this Association each lady, as soon as practicable after the ball, surrenders to the Association for the benefit of the poor women of the city the dress worn at the party or a calico dress pattern in its stead.

A CHILDREN'S BALL

on Saturday evening January 8th, from five o'clock in the afternoon until ten o'clock in the evening, will conclude the week of the festival. Incidentally the Association have appointed a whose duty it is to canvass the city by districts and solicit provisions, clothing, boots and shoes, coal, wood, and such other articles as may help to make the poor comfortable. This committee will organize with reference to a thorough canvass of the city for supplies, and will receive the same at a convenient store-room to be designated, from which place the same will be carefully distributed under the direction of this association. The committee will continue their work during the month of February, and the association is confident that in their labors which will be arduous, they will receive the hearty co-operation of our citizens generally.

COMMITTEE ON GENERAL SUPPLIES

ALL MONEY CONTRIBUTIONS

will be received by the President, Mrs. Wm. G. Fargo, and will be acknowledged by the Treasurer, Mr. A. Altman, through the columns of the daily papers. The money received by the Association will be converted as far as practicable into supplies for distribution among the poor families of the city. A carefully and competent General Supply Purchasing Committee will be appointed and all purchases of provisions, clothing, boots and shoes, fuel, etc., shall be made by them.

THE DISTRIBUTION OF SUPPLIES

will be supervised by a committee with reference to the most careful and impartial work; and all who are in any way inclined to contribute to the poor of the city will have generous recognition made of their charity. Every person having regular employment should donate as much of their means as they can spare to alleviate the distress of those who are out of employment and in want.

Mr. Thos. Kean then read the following communication from Messrs. Meech and the members of the Academy of Music Dramatic Company, Orchestra and Attaches:

THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC VOLUNTEERS A BENEFIT.

BUFFALO, Jan. 6th, 1876.

Mrs. Wm. G. Fargo, President of the Centennial Relief Association:

MADAM,—The undersigned, proprietors of the Academy of Music, appreciating the effort being put forth by your association for the relief of the poor of Buffalo, take pleasure in tendering to the Association a benefit to take place at the Academy of Music as soon as you may deem it practicable after the close of your Centennial Entertainment and Festival at St. James Hall. The dramatic entertainment will as far possible be in harmony with your festival, and the management will spare no pains to make it worthy of the city and the cause of charity it seeks to aid. You will please authorize your ticket committee to make the necessary arrangements for the sale of tickets in advance and on the evening of the entertainment, and your Treasurer should be represented in the matter of looking after the receipts and accounting for the same.

Wishing you all success in your effort for the relief of the general poor of the city,

We remain very truly yours,

MEECH BROS.

A TENDER FROM THE ATTACHES OF THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

BUFFALO, January 6, 1876.

We the members of the Academy of Music Dramatic Company, Orchestra and attaches, do hereby join the Messrs. Meech proprietors, in their tender of a benefit in aid of the poor of the city, the same to be given under the auspices of the Centennial Relief Association:

Fred Stanfield,	Ben G. Rogers,
James F. Hill,	C. C. Manning,
Ernst Haddick,	W. Van Amburgh,
Chris Hartzell,	Isaac Bonnell,
W. L. Smith,	N. Kuhn,
David River,	Joseph Rivers,
W. J. Diefendorf,	Lena Rivers,
Chas. Bainbridge,	Mina Crolius,
Frank Willard,	Edith Windsor,
Annie Smith,	A. Weenes,
Chas. Locken,	George Morris,
Virginia Mitchell,	Wm. G. Morris.
John D. Walker,	Thos. Shay,
Fred R. Wren,	A. P. Sherman,
J. J. Williams,	W. Campbell,
T. H. Cross,	Nelly Porter,
Jas. Durkin,	Thos. Duncan,
Geo. Russell,	Mrs. Thos. Duncan,
J. McCall,	T. J. Hackett,
Chas. Sticht,	Carl Duge,

A. Schwiedop,	G. Riegelman,
G. Weber,	Joseph A. Kuhn,
F. A. Kuhn,	Frank Kuhn,
Chas. J. Kuhn,	Henry Kuhn,
Wm. Kuhn.	Philip Tischendorf.

Mr. Kean supplemented the reading of the communication with a few remarks. He said that the Association would the better appreciate the significance of this offer, when he stated that the proprietors of the Academy of Music gave to the Association one-sixth of their week's business, and the members of the company, attaches and members of the Orchestra joining the managers, contributed their night's salary. This is truly a liberal contribution and he could not doubt that the Association and the public generally would appreciate its importance as a gift to the poor of the city.

In the conversation which followed, the action of the managers and those otherwise connected with the Academy of Music was enthusiastically approved.

ACCEPTANCE AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.

Mrs. A. Altman moved the adoption of the following:

Resolved, That the Centennial Relief Association of Buffalo accept with gratitude the offer of the benefit at the Academy of Music in aid of the general poor of the city; and that the thanks of this association are hereby tendered to the Messrs. Meech, proprietors, and to the members of the dramatic company, orchestra and attaches of the Academy of Music, for their very generous substantial contribution to the objects of this association.

Resolved, That the recommendations of the Messrs Meech in regard to the sale of tickets and the handling of the receipts are hereby adopted and that the ticket committee and treasurer are instructed to take charge of affairs accordingly.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

The report of Mr. Nelson, was on motion adopted.

Mrs. Whitcomb moved, and the motion was unanimously adopted, that the Children's Ball be a Grand Fancy Dress Ball.

On motion it was determined that the matter of donating to the Association the calico dresses to be worn at the Friday evening party be left entirely to the discretion of the ladies.

Upon motion the Association adjourned to meet Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

'76.

Pass '76 across the Styx!
Make way for stately '76,
Who comes with mincing, minuet pace,
Well-powdered hair and patch-deckt face—
An antiquated kerchief on;
White-capped, like Martha Washington,
Clock-hosed and high-heeled slipper-shod,
To give no Nineteenth Century nod;
Nay, but a courtesy profound,
Whose took demure consults the ground,
O rare-seen bloom! No flower perennial,
This aloe-crowned Dame Centennial!

She comes with shades of days long fled—
Knee-breeched; long silk-stockinged;
Well-braided queues; bright-buckled shoon
That flash with diamonds; cold galloon
On rebel uniforms of blue—
A color that this land found true;
Three-cornered hats, and plumes that flew
Through conflicts where men dare and do;
A patriot throng, a gallant host,
Our Dame Centennial's train can boast.

O aloe-flower upon her brow!
Of what strange birth-pangs breathest thou.
I lie while we gaze with dreamy eyes
Back o'er a sea of memories,
And see thy seed of foreign skies
Here wash'd, to spring beneath our sun
And ripen till its bloom is won!
What storms have rocked thy stem astant,
O changefully-nurtured Century-Plant!
Whose living flower now opens bland
Its kindly promise o'er the land!
With blood and tears 'twas watered.
The bud whose blossom now is spread
A floral cap her head upon,
Who, a la Martha Washington,
Our Dame Centennial now appears,
Our '76, our crown of years!

* * * * * * *

O year that wear'st thy aloe-flower
So proudly! may thy touch have power
Of healing! May thy visage bland
Drive threatening discord from the land,
And throned Peace more firmly fix!
Then shall the elder '76,
From out the eighteenth century's bend
Of Time's host in the shadowy land,
Greet thee as one true soul may smile
Upon another, where nor guile
Nor sorrow can its brightness dim.
So greet the clear-eyed seraphim—
So once in Eden's sinless bower
Unfolding flower smiled on flower.

THE ICE-GORGE.

"It's coming, mister! It follows me close, and if you're wise you will make tracks before. Why, it's Mr. Bradburn—Mark Bradburn, isn't it? I didn't know you at first."

I, for my part, knew the speaker—a young American assistant surveyor in state employ—well enough; and as he checked his fast-trotting horses and leaned over the side-rail of the light high-wheeled wagon which he drove, I could see by his flushed cheek and excited manner that something serious must have occurred.

"The ice-gorge, so much talked of, is really descending then?" I began. "I thought precautions had—"

"Ay, but we're dead beat," interrupted McKinlop—for that was his name. "The engineer in-chief has tried everything, but the enemy is too strong for us; and unless we can get time to blast it as it reaches the Narrows nothing but a miracle can save the town of Clayville and Port Adams. It'll be at Ithaca a quarter of an hour after I am, and let me tell you it's no sport to try conclusions with the drifting pack that so big a stream as the Delaware can send down."

And without further parley he lashed his horses, and hurried down the road that skirted the bank; while almost immediately afterward I caught sight of a number of vehicles of various sorts and sizes rattling along at furious speed. These were filled with men, women, children and household gear; and as the drivers went past the spot where I, with several of my neighbors and some of the workmen from the mine of which I was manager, was standing, they shouted aloud some hoarse words of warning, looking back, and pointing up the river with their whips. Every eye was turned towards the jutting point where we were likely to catch the first glimpse of the advancing foe.

"Burton, and Dutch Town, and Sparta, on the New Jersey side, were swamped yesterday, so, 'tis said," remarked an old farmer in blue homespun and boots of untanned leather. "I guess we Pennsylvania folks won't get off scot-free nouther. There it comes, Britisher—rounding the point!"

Looking toward the spot indicated I described something like a moving wall of glistening greenish ice, sparkling in the sunlight, and advancing slowly and with a stately majesty down the broad river, which it seemed to fill from bank to bank. This could be nothing less than the so-called ice-gorge, or accumulation of floating blocks and slabs from the upper waters of the Delaware, partially melted by the hot sun of an American spring, and damming back the chafing waters of the swollen river to an extent which threatened mischief.

All this was new to me, an Englishman born, since it is only in very hard winters that such phenomena are witnessed in those regions; and during the four years which I had passed in the country this last winter had been exceptionally severe.

I, Mark Bradburn, had, at the age of five and twenty, been reckoned fortunate in being prom
