Nine-day Bag of Trucks
Reaches 1,175; Week's 17th MIG Downed

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SEOUL, Nov. 24 (AP)—Marauder bombers last night destroyed 200 Communist vehicles in their greatest truck-busting foray of the year.

The Marauders, ranging far and wide over the Red highway network, brought their nine-day bag to 1,175 trucks. The ceaseless attacks are designed to stem the flow of supplies for front-line Communist troops.

Twelve B-29 Superforts, the fly-by-night partners of the Marauders, dropped 120 tons of high explosives on a Red communications center near Sinanju. The target city is on the west coast, 40 miles north of Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

In daylight sorties, U. S. F-86 Sabrejets shot down a Russian-type MIG-15 jet. It was the seventh straight day of victory for the Sabres. Their score for the week stands at 17 MIGs destroyed, two probably destroyed and four damaged.

Poor weather grounded Allied warplanes Monday. Weather reconnaissance planes reported rain and snow over much of North Korea. Defenses Are Probed Communist infantrymen probed Allied lines. There was no report of any major fighting.

Ground action Sunday was highlighted by a series of Red harassing attacks all along the bleak 155-mile battlefield.

A U. S. Eighth Army staff officer said the Reds appeared content to feel out the Allied defenses. None of their tentative jobs were aimed at taking any UN positions.

The largest Red probe-in-force was launched at Sniper ridge, war-scarred hill mass on the central front. Allied rockets and artillery shells broke up a thrust by 450 Chinese.

Chinese ground troops stabbed three times at UN positions on the southern slope of Jackson heights, at the eastern edge of the Chorwon valley. All were hurled back.

Guns Repel Assault

On the western front, about 175 Chinese attacked an advance Allied position west of Yoncheon. The UN troops withdrew and let their big artillery guns hammer the Reds. They then reoccupied the position without opposition.

West of the Punchbowl on the eastern front about 50 North Korean Reds tried to sneak up to the Allied lines. They never made it. The combined fire of artillery, mortar and tank guns threw them back.

Smaller clashes were reported from northeast of the Punchbowl and south of Anchor hill, both on the eastern front.

U. S. carrier-based Navy planes from the Kearsarge and Essex were out in force Sunday, blasting Red positions along the East coast and on the front.

The cruiser Los Angeles and the destroyer Swenson poured a rain of fire on Red installations near Kungang. At Wonsan the destroyers Thompson and Sevierling shelled Communist bunkers and shore batteries.

On the West coast the British cruiser Birmingham and the destroyer Consort hit Red bunkers near Haeju.

U. S. Tanks in Berlin

BERLIN, Nov. 24 (AP)—An East zone locomotive pulled into West Berlin today with eight Patton tanks for the Sixth American Infantry regiment.

There were no difficulties this time with the Russians or the East German railway system, which had blocked an earlier shipment of Patton tanks for "technical reasons" several weeks ago, but later revised its attitude.

Tombstones Smashed

RENSELAER, Nov. 24 (AP)—Police reported today that vandals had knocked over more than 50 tombstones in a cemetery here and broken some.

Ike Visits United Nations, Confers With UN Officials

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower visited the United Nations today and conferred privately with UN officials presumably about proposals to end the Korean fighting.

He went to the private office of Trygve Lie, UN secretary general, and stayed about 20 minutes. Lester Pearson, of Canada, president of the General Assembly, also was present.

Leaving the UN building after an hour's visit, Eisenhower thanked Lie and Pearson, and said: "It was inspiring to be here. This is a work devoted to a good cause. We are all working for the freedom and the security of the future." Roundly Applauded

The president-elect's appearance brought hundreds of people into the corridors and Eisenhower was roundly applauded as he walked through the various rooms.

In the Security Council chambers, Eisenhower stepped up to a microphone and made a brief statement. He said:

"This building and the people in it and their work are the symbol of the free world's hope for peace. Every true citizen of the free world follows what you have done here with interest."

John Foster Dulles, designated by Eisenhower as the next secretary of state; Byron Price, assistant to Lie, and S. Lall, an assistant secretary-general, accompanied the general on his tour of the building.

In the main assembly hall, Eisenhower shook hands with Dr. Ralph Bunche, director of the United Nations Trusteeship division. He asked Bunche:

"Who are you working for, the United States or the UN?" "I'm with the UN," Bunche replied.

"How can the United States afford not to have you working for us?" Eisenhower asked, smiling. Bunche's reply was lost in the commotion of photographers and spectators surrounding the general.

Eisenhower also shook hands with Avni Khalady, of the Iraqi delegation, and Victor Hoo, an assistant secretary-general.

The general saw the main assembly hall and the Security Council chambers. He commented at length on the murals and the general decor of the building.

Lie, Price and Lal were waiting on the steps in front of the building when the president-elect and Dulles arrived.

No announcement was made as to the subject of discussion in Lie's private office.

Main Break Floods East Side Area

A city water department crew was working at press time to repair a damaging break in a 16-inch water main at Thirtieth street and Welch avenue. The water escaping from the damaged line flooded several cellars and a large section of East Falls street.

The break destroyed four flags of recently laid sidewalk and erosion resulted in a hole five feet deep and ten feet long. The line served the pilot plant at the Mathieson Chemical plant north of Buffalo avenue and Jack Duke, supervisor of the outside water system for the City Water department said that arrangements were being made to serve the plant from fire hydrants.

William A. Karre, general superintendent of the Mathieson Chemical corporation here, said that the company's pilot plant in Packard road at the north side of Buffalo avenue was shut down because of the break.

He said that this leaves the entire production plant without fire protection and some research work has been halted because of the lack of water.

The water flowed behind houses in Welch avenue and caused a small lake between Welch avenue and East Falls street. A section of the roadway in East Falls street, about 75 feet in length, was inundated in a foot to a foot-and-a-half of water.

Mr. Duke said that the line was about four years old and that he had not yet determined what caused the break. Repair of the main was expected to be completed by midnight.

CANNOT AMEND ITS PEACE PLAN FURTHER—INDIA

Poland for Second Time
Cancels Plans to Speak
On Proposal in UN

UNITED NATIONS, Nov. 24 (AP)—An Indian spokesman said today his country has gone as far as it can in amending its controversial Korean peace plan, terms of which have caused the most serious diplomatic breach between Britain and the U. S. in years.

The U. S. restated the view today that it could not accept the plan and Britain was still holding out for it.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson made final plans to outline the American view publicly in a speech to the 60-member Political committee late today. Interest in the secretary's speech was so intense that Burma gave up its spot on the speaker's list so Acheson would be sure to get in.

Poland—for the second time—cancelled plans to give the first Communist bloc official reaction to India's plan for ending the Korean prisoner-of-war deadlock. Diplomats speculated that the Polish move was intended to give the Reds a chance to decide how to capitalize on the British-American rift which has been hailed in the Moscow press and radio.

The two great allies split far apart when the U. S. notified British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden that it could not accept a British-backed compromise plan for ending the prisoner-of-war deadlock unless the proposal was substantially amended.

Britain feels that the proposals should be given a chance as they stand but the U. S. wants all details spelled out.

India came up quickly with modifications but these apparently did not satisfy the U. S.

The 21 powers which backed an original American resolution held an urgent closed meeting last night at which U. S. Secretary of State Dean

OPS Wholesale Ceilings on Pork Products Dropped

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—The government today suspended wholesale ceilings on pork products.

The action was announced by the Office of Price Stabilization while officials of the agency were meeting with meat industry representatives in an effort to determine whether retail ceilings on beef can be rolled back.

Price Stabilizer Tighe Woods had advised Congress last week that he intended to suspend wholesale pork ceilings. Pork has been selling well below ceilings and is in ample supply. Ceilings are based on a percentage markup and vary with each wholesaler.

OPS said the suspension of wholesale ceilings is not expected to have any significant effect on retail prices.

The order calls for retailers to continue calculation of ceilings on sales to consumers. They must reflect any decrease in wholesale costs and may reflect any increase.

The retail ceilings are the whole-sale costs plus margins in use before the Korean war.

OPS said that if pork and live hog prices rise sharply controls will be reimposed.

In another order today, OPS eased its restrictions against new slaughterers: 0% livestock. Effective at once, anyone may go into the slaughtering business by registering with the nearest OPS office and obtaining a registration number.

JAILED PERJURER MUST CONTINUE TERM, BOARD SAYS

Received More Than
50,000 Messages on
Case, Officials Report

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—Alger Hiss today was denied a parole.

The U. S. parole board announced it had turned down the application of the former State department official, now serving a five-year term for perjury.

Dr. George G. Killinger, board chairman who conducted a hearing on the Hiss petition at Lewisburg (Pa.) penitentiary about ten days ago, made this statement:

"In the matter of the application of parole for Alger Hiss, the Board of Parole, after a careful consideration of the official record, unanimously voted to deny the application."

The board is composed of five members. It acted on the basis of a report submitted by Killinger after his visit to Lewisburg.

Hiss was convicted on perjury—lying when under oath—for denying that he ever gave secret government documents to Communist agents.

He became eligible for parole last Friday.

Board members disclosed last week they had received more than 50,000 letters and telegrams expressing "pro and con" views on whether he should be paroled.

A prisoner becomes eligible for parole when he has served one-third of his sentence.

Hiss, now 48, has persistently denied that he was guilty of the crime charged to him.

He contends that he eventually will be vindicated.

Selective Service May Begin Calling Youth of 19 Soon

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—Selective service may begin drafting 19-year-olds soon but definitely not before the end of January.

An official told a reporter today that surveys of the manpower situation in the nation are being assembled to provide an up-to-date picture on how many 20-year-olds still are available for the draft.

State selective service directors will come here next week to discuss their problems with national officials, he said.

He added that these talks are expected to lead to a decision on when to change an outstanding order banning the draft of 19-year-olds.

Mr. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, issued the ban early this year when some local boards exhausted their lists of older registrants while others retained large backlogs of men 20 and 21 years old.

The general said some time ago that when he decides to change the order he might direct that local boards at first take only youths more than 19 years and nine months old and then lower the age level by three-month intervals as needed.

Pick Wisconsin For Rose Bowl

CHICAGO, Nov. 24 (AP)—The University of Wisconsin today was selected over Purdue by the Big Ten Athletic directors to represent the conference in the Rose Bowl next New Year's day against Southern California. Wisconsin and Purdue shared the Big Ten football championship.

The Wisconsin Badgers, who had never won or shared a Western conference title since 1912, wound up the regular season with an overall record of six victories, two losses and one tie. Purdue had a 4-3-2 record. Neither has ever received the Rose Bowl assignment since the Big Ten-Pacific Coast conference began the series with the 1947 game.

In the most unpredictable finishes in Big Ten football history, the two teams emerged as co-champions Saturday when Purdue barely defeated Indiana 21-15 and Wisconsin fought to a 21-21 standstill with Minnesota.

Controls Held "Major Factor" in Stopping Rise of Prices After Start of Korean War

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—A Senate-House committee today said price controls had been a "major factor" in stopping "hectic price rises" during the outbreak of war in Korea.

The joint congressional committee on surging price trends of the last 2½ years, credited governmental action with a major role in halting "rampant" inflation.

It cited evidence, however, to show that inflation still was a serious problem to the nation's consumers.

The report was approved last week at a session of the joint committee, headed by Senator Maybank (D-SC). The report was completed October 22, before the national election, but a committee staff member said its release was held up because some said they could not study it adequately during the campaign.

Price curbs are among the controls expiring next April 30. One of the first tasks of the incoming Republican administration will be to decide whether to keep or junk these controls.

The joint committee's report noted that the "national economy has operated under restrictive controls" for 18 months and added:

"During that time significant progress has been achieved in mobilizing the nation's resources for defense."

"Two years ago," the report continued, "the country's security was seriously threatened. Inflationary forces were rampant. The value of the dollar was dropping rapidly."

"Industrial leaders and businessmen were gravely concerned. All were trying to build inventories. Prices were rising sharply. Consumers were rushing to beat prices and shortages and all the time were being squeezed more and more by their own actions."

"Fortunately, the situation has
