Roosevelt Hits Back At Rep. Stevenson In Public Statement

Congressman In Immediate Reply Secretary Terms Words Of Attacker False And Crooked

Washington, March 16.—Theodore Roosevelt hit back tonight at Representative Stevenson, Democrat, of South Carolina, who attacked him yesterday on the floor of the House, and Representative Stevenson countered with a challenge to Secretary Roosevelt to explain what services his nephew, Archie Roosevelt, performed for Harry P. Sinclair to warrant a salary of $10,000 and 15 thousand dollars a year.

Daugherty Probe Promises More New Sensations

Air Craft and Fight Film Cases Expected To Be Featured
Sheaf of New Subpoenas Are Issued

Washington, March 16.—The witness stand of the Daugherty investigating committee promises this week to be the font of another stream of sensations.

Both transactions are to be aired tomorrow morning when the special Senate committee resumes its hearings. Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, in charge of the inquiry, said tonight that the film and aircraft "deals" would be developed before the committee. He announced subpoenas had been issued for Tex Rickard, New York fight promoter; Jack Muma, New York correspondent for the Cincinnati Enquirer; and William Orr, at one time secretary to former Governor Whitman of New York, all of whom have been named with James Smith as parties to the fight film exhibitions. Other witnesses, having knowledge of the case have been called.

In a statement tonight replying to those made recently by Attorney General Daugherty, Senator Wheeler declared that "a complete conspiracy" had been shown in both "deals." He said it was "mighty ill-becoming" of Mr. Daugherty to "try to bolster up himself" by attacking Gaston Means and Roxie Stinson, who have been star witnesses in the inquiry. Means was employed by Mr. Daugherty, he said, while Miss Stinson was the social associate of the attorney general and of his closest friends.

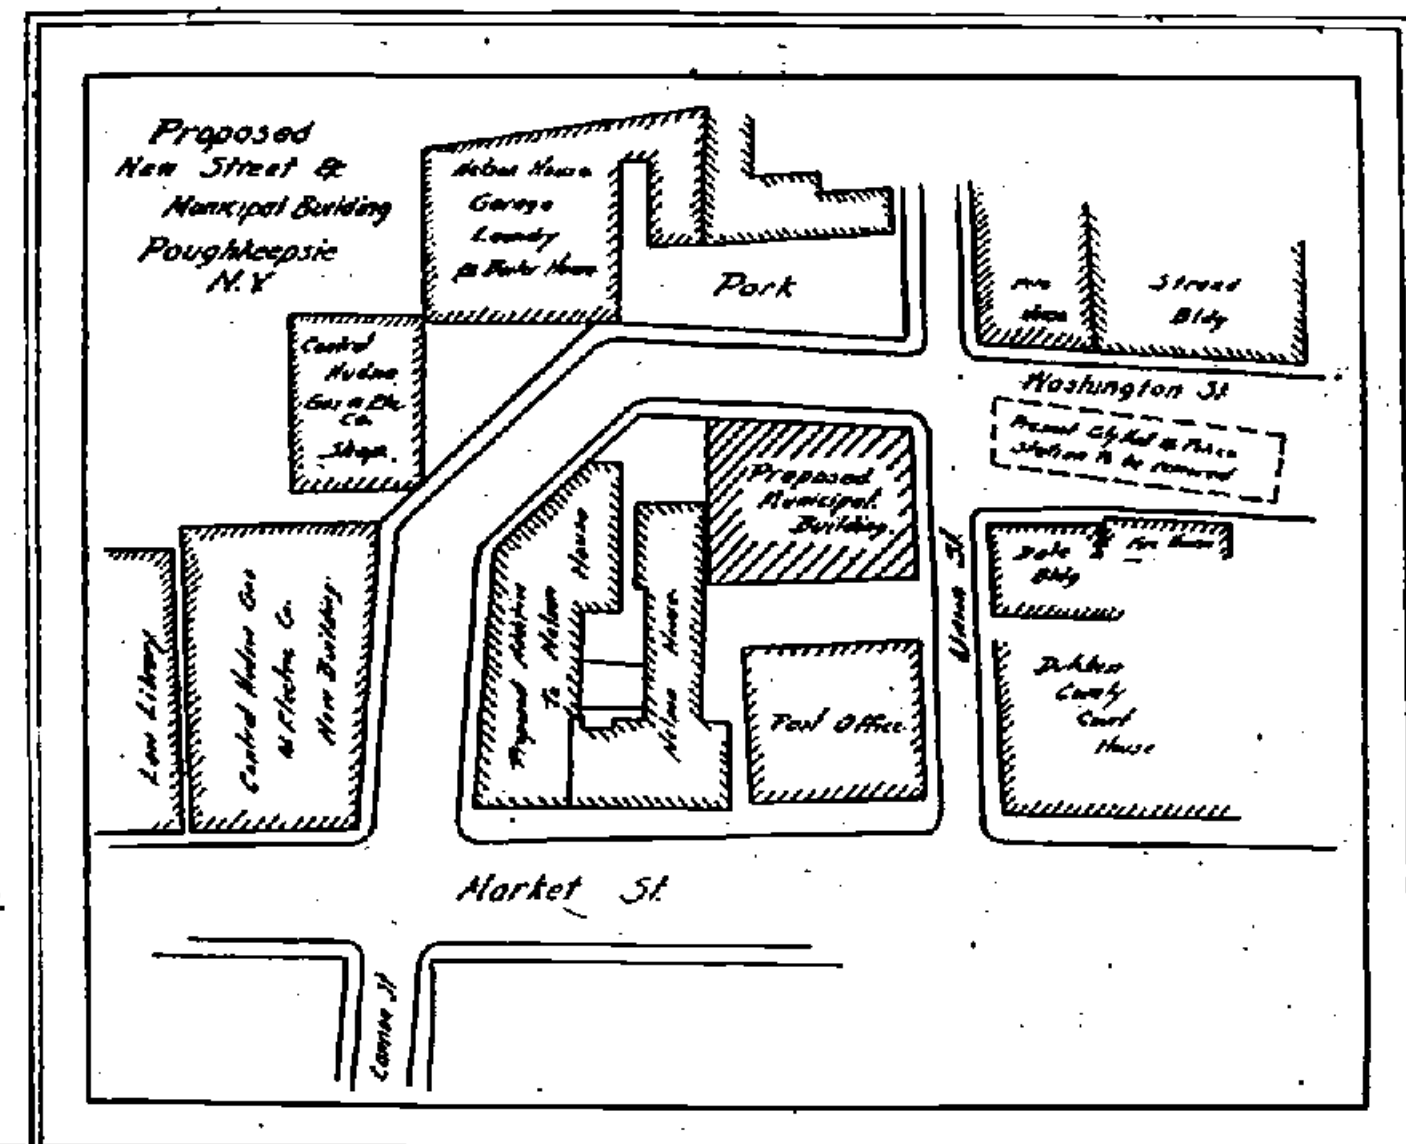

Frank A. Vanderbilt, New York banker who furnished a sensation in the oil investigation, today offered Senator Wheeler the assistance of the citizens' research bureau, which he organized recently, and the offer was accepted. It is not planned to place Mr. Vanderbilt on the witness stand.

"Mr. Vanderbilt came to see me and gave me some information which I believe will prove very important," said Senator Wheeler. "He told me he was connected with a citizens' organization composed of prominent people, and that his organization would undertake to furnish information and run down leads which would assist the committee in clearing up graft and corruption, and get to the very bottom of it. I told him I would be very glad to have him and his organization or any other organization help me and the committee in getting the facts."

The film "Deal" will first be taken up tomorrow by the committee. G. O. Holdbridge of Baltimore, former department of justice agent, is to be called regarding an investigation and official report he made of the affair. In fragments of his report read yesterday during the testimony of Fred C. Quimby, the New York film producer who told of the fight picture exhibitions in 22 states, Holdbridge mentioned Jap Muma and others declared to be parties to the arrangement.

Holdbridge may be followed on the stand by Muma, Orr or Rickard. Officers of the air service also are to be examined tomorrow regarding the aircraft case.

Union Street Site Suggested For New Municipal Building

Immigration Bill Declared Insult To Italian Born

Johnson Bill Assailed At Banquet of Newly Formed Lodge Here

Victory Officers Formally Installed

In accordance with its policy of calling to the attention of Poughkeepsians possibilities of structure and site for the proposed new city hall, The Eagle-News publishes this morning a map which shows in detail how present property in Union Street might be utilized for a municipal building. The map has been prepared after a careful study of possible sites for the structure, and is of particular interest because it not only suggests a desirable spot for the new city hall but also points out how a good deal of property in the central part of the city can be given street frontage which would enhance its value greatly.

New Street Proposed
In brief, the plan presented here will propose the cutting of a street through Little Washington Street to meet an extension of Cannon Street west of Market, the purchase by the city of property in Union Street for the site for the city hall and suitable park land around it, and the removal of the present municipal building to permit a desirable approach to the new structure. While, on the accompanying map, the new city hall building is placed to the east of the extension of Little Washington Street, it might be built to the west or across the new street, with an arcade for traffic through it. The plan, of course, is entirely tentative, and permits of many minor alterations if they are deemed advisable.

The project would involve purchase by the city of the property from 216 to 228 Union Street inclusive, and the acquisition for street purposes of land now held by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company and the Nelson House.

With regard to the Union Street property which has a frontage of 250 feet and a depth of about 110 feet, it is pointed out that these holdings now have a total assessed valuation on the city tax roll of $25,000, and it is estimated by those who have studied the proposal that it should be possible for the city to acquire them for an outlay of not more than $40,000.

The extension of a street opposite Cannon to the west of Market Street would involve the removal of the building now owned by the Central Hudson Company and occupied by it and the South Side Drug Store. Those who have looked into the possibilities of the plan believe that the company should be willing to give this land to the city, if it were to be freed from encumbrance for the street improvement, since it would lose a frontage of not more than 25 feet in Market Street and gain a frontage of more than 100 feet in the new street. As a result, any new building which it might erect, such as that which has been drawn into the accompanying map, would have a greatly increased value because it would have light on three sides, including the north, and an increased store frontage of more than 100 feet on the new street.

The Nelson House would have to give up more land than the Central Hudson Company if the present proposal were adopted and those who have studied the project are of the opinion that it should be comproriated slightly. The plan of course would necessitate the removal of the present building which is used as an entrance to the hotel garage. The Nelson House however, would gain the advantage of having a long street frontage, if it erects an addition to the south of its present building on the site of the so-called Ryder structure, and its garage also would have a direct entrance from the new street. The plan also should have the effect of enhancing greatly the value of land in the rear which now is not easily accessible. The new street, it is suggested, incidentally, would help greatly in the solution of the difficult problem of the routing of traffic in the center of the city as it would provide a thoroughfare from Market Street to Main and Market.

Freight Robbery Causes Two More Arrests Saturday

Former Section Workers Of C. N. E. Caught By Detectives

Man Locked Up Friday Released on Bail

Two more arrests were made Saturday in connection with the attempt Friday night to rob Central New England freight cars on the siding at Glenham. Harvey Davis, 22, and Albert Harris, 23, of Hopewell Junction, both former section hands on the railroad, were taken into custody at Hopewell by Captain Fred Rozelle of the Central New England detective force, Under Sheriff C. Fred Close and Deputy Sheriff John F. Hoppe. Both men are charged with burglary and larceny.

Davis and Harris were brought to Poughkeepsie and arraigned before Mr. Hoppe, sitting as justice of the peace, who held them in $1,000 bail each. Neither was able to provide a bond, and both spent Saturday night and Sunday in the county jail. They probably will be given a preliminary hearing today.

Castellani Casinno, who was arrested Friday night at Hopewell by Captain Rozelle, was arraigned Saturday before Justice of the Peace Charles A. Warren, and released in $1,000 bail. He has retained J. Gordon Flannery of Beacon as his attorney. He probably will be given a hearing tomorrow.

Casinno was caught, the railroad detectives say, in the act of removing sugar from the cars at Glenham. The seals of three freight cars had been broken, and 700 pounds of sugar removed from them when the detectives arrested Castellani according to their report of the incident. The detectives who were lying in wait were forced to act quickly because of the approach of a switcher, and two men who were with Casinno got away. Captain Rozelle says he recognized one of them and the arrests of Davis and Harris followed.

An automobile belonging to Casinno which was parked near the siding, and which it is suspected he intended to use to carry off the sugar, was returned to him Saturday. It was seized Friday night and held by the railroad detectives.

The robbery at Glenham is the second which has occurred within a fortnight. On the night of March 9 freight cars on a siding were broken open and a quantity of automobile accessories stolen.

Will Present It To House Today

Say Measure Was Made To Meet the Demands Of Coolidge

German People Must Pay the Maximum But Be Unhindered

Washington, March 16.—The report of the House ways and means committee on the new soldier bonus bill, which will be presented to the House tomorrow and voted on Tuesday, was made public today by Chairman Green, estimating the maximum cost of the measure at $2,119,000,000 spread over twenty years. The cost, the report said, could be met by anticipated savings in current expenses of the government.

A minority report signed by four Republican members of the committee—Representatives Treadway, Massachusetts; Tillson, Connecticut; Watson, Pennsylvania; and Mills, New York—attacked the giving of a bonus as an "unsound principle" and declared its cost would limit tax reduction in future years.

The bill provides for paid-up 20-year endowment life insurance policies and cash payments to veterans not entitled to more than $50 in adjusted service compensation.

Proponents of the measure predict its passage Tuesday although a two-thirds majority will be necessary, the bill coming up under suspension of the rules which limit debate and prohibit amendments.

Members of the Democratic Veterans group were disturbed today because they had been denied the opportunity under the rules of order to present an amendment providing for cash payments as an option of measure, but leaders indicated that if they would vote for the bill it would depend on Senate action for the full cash payment option.

Twenty-one of the 23 Democratic members from New York state issued a statement today declaring they favored passage of soldier bonus legislation, but preferred "immediate all cash payments."

Chairman Green in his report said two bonus bills had passed the House and one of them both the Senate and House. The latter, he said, was vetoed by President Harding but the present measure was framed "so that it will become law."

It would confer substantial benefits on the soldiers, he said, its cost will be capable of accurate and definite determination and the necessary appropriations could be made without embarrassing the treasury.

The average of the insurance policies would be $322.00. The policies would be valued on the basis of adjusted service compensations provided in the veteran bill, $1 for each day of home service and $1.25 for day-over-seas. The first 60 days would not be counted.

Committee Announces Text of "Bonus Bill Sure To Become Law"

Dawes' Experts Issue a Report On Reparations

German People Must Pay the Maximum But
Be Unhindered

Paris, March 16.—The report of the first committee of experts under Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, which is practically agreed upon by the experts, though the working out of some details and the drawing up of the text may require another week, is based on these fundamental findings:

The German people must pay as much in taxes as any of the people of the allied countries. Germany must pay the maximum of her capacity in reparations. The German economic machine must be free to function under German control, unhindered by any interference from the outside.

Minimum sums must be paid at once, or in the immediate future, on reparations, these to be increased in proportion to the revival of Germany's prosperity and according to her economic condition.

In order to put Germany in a position to carry out her part of the program, which the report will suggest to the reparations commission on the basis of these general principles, the experts propose to set up an international bank, to have exclusive right to the issue of German currency on a gold basis. The bank provides for the co-operation of the allies and neutral nations with the Germans in supplying capital and in the management of the institution, which is to be located in some neutral country in the late war.

The capital of the bank remaining to be secured; indications are that it will be in the neighborhood of $400,000,000, of which half will come from Germany and the remainder from abroad. Foreign subscriptions to loans to raise the necessary amount, or to capital, if final arrangements so provide, will be secured by a lien on Germany's productive monopolies.

The setting up of a bank of issue is expected not only to assure permanent stability of the mark, but to furnish a flexible medium through which reparations payments may be effected without resorting to the purchase of foreign money with marks, with the consequent risk of further depreciation in Germany money.

Monopolies and railroads are expected to furnish the revenues from which the minimum reparations installments are to be paid. It will be suggested that in case these revenues are insufficient at any time the balance must be made up by additional taxation.

The French and Belgians will be left free to maintain garrisons in the Ruhr or immediate vicinity. So, while obliged to give up actual possession of the pledges seized in January, 1923, they will be able at any time to put their hands on the Ruhr industries if Germany fails to carry out the terms.

Veterans who served more than 110 days and would not be entitled to cash would receive a paid-up 20-year endowment policy for the amount of insurance their adjusted service credit, plus 25 per cent, would purchase at their age. Such insurance would be computed in accordance with accepted actuarial principles and based upon American experience tables of mortality, with interest at 4 per cent per annum compounded annually.

If the veterans die before the 20 years are up, the full amount of the policy would be paid his beneficiaries of his estate. At maturity the face value of the policy would be payable in full. The policies would be dated from next January 1st.
