First Snowfall of the Year Preview of Things to Come

Like it or not, snowflies have arrived. In the valley the snowless days are numbered. The snowflakes are flitting erratically across the sky like moths just before a thunderstorm, and it is safe to bet that the first flurries of the season will arrive in the next few days. The eastern mountains also are experiencing their first snowfall of the year.

It is a good time to start taking care of your winter gear. Check your boots and jackets, and have them repaired if necessary. Make sure your skis and sleds are in good condition for the upcoming season. It is also a good time to start thinking about your winter garden plans. Did you plant enough vegetables to last through the winter? Do you need to order any seeds or plants for the next season?

By the end of the week, the temperature is expected to drop below freezing, and it may snow again. Keep an eye on the weather forecast and be prepared for winter weather. Stay warm.
