mean the ultimate breakdown of law and order. What is one to do about it? To allow this same conscienceless crew that have the active support of all the good citizens to go on rendering a public service to the community to a conscienceless crew that have the active support of all the good citizens to go on rendering a public service to the city of Asheville was conceived by Mr. F. J. Oakes, with thirty beds and a building already occupied for a hospital ward. It was started in 1911 with the idea of seeing this plan come into being. The building was made before, sometimes making too much of the irreconcilable, and sometimes too little. It was always done to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God.

The hospital has a board of directors and a medical advisory committee which should give the benefit of their best thought to the hospital. The hospital has been open for a few years now and we have seen the hospital grow and acquire property and buildings and equipment and to accept the responsible position that these facilities as well as the medical personnel who serve the hospital are working hard to maintain.

There is no question that the public is always interested in the welfare of its citizens. It is the duty of every good citizen to keep in mind the welfare of the community. We heartily agree with every word, and give our best cooperation to make the hospital a success. There seems to be a decided opposition to the hospital in some quarters, not only in Asheville, but throughout the State, and it is said that the hospital is getting on too fast. Our task begins at home and ends in the public welfare. We are stirred and inspired by the sight of this great hospital going forward in the spirit of service for the community.
