RELIEF PROBE WILL BE DEEP, BARRY AVERS

Promises Particular Attention to Influence of Workers Alliance

Back from Europe

J. Mono, President of Long Island City, attended yesterday on his plans for conducting the new City Council investigation of relief workers. He also announced that he would press the efforts to organize an organization of workers in the City, particularly as regards the New York Labor Party. Some time ago, the City Council investigation of relief workers was issued by the investigating committee, which is at present in the hands of the City Council. It is to be noted that the committee was appointed by the City Council. The committee is to be composed of three members, and is to hear the testimony of witnesses and to render its report. It is expected that the report of the committee will be issued within a short time.

KEOGH TALKS TO KIWANIS CLUB

In this era of social service, Ambassadors, Congressmen, and other public figures have been using their influence to promote social causes. Some of these figures have been using the power of their influence to further the cause of social service, while others have been using this influence to promote their own personal interests. This has led to some conflict of interest and has caused some controversy in the social service field.
