NEW HOSPITAL IS DEDICATED BY LA GUARDIA

Mayor Tells 500 at Exercises Tuberculosis Is Almost Conquered

Jamaica's RUBINSTEIN 3-Year Hospital for Tuberculosis was dedicated yesterday with the farewell address delivered by Mayor La Guardia. The hospital will be the home of the Greater New York Tuberculosis and Respiratory Diseases Association, Inc.

Mayor La Guardia dedicated the hospital with the following words: "To the men and women of the Greater New York Tuberculosis and Respiratory Diseases Association, Inc., I dedicate this hospital, as I dedicated the older one, with the same purpose: to obtain for these people the best possible medical care and treatment at the lowest possible cost."

Dr. Alfred Ring, former assistant medical commissioner of the city, was appointed to take over the duties at the new hospital. Dr. Ring has been a strong advocate of health clinics for the indigent and took over his duties at the old hospital 22 years ago.

Dr. S. S. Goldwater, president of the Greater New York Tuberculosis and Respiratory Diseases Association, Inc., took part in the ceremonies, which were witnessed by thousands of people.

Dr. S. S. Goldwater said: "We have only commenced to work on this hospital. We have not reached our full strength yet. But it is our intention to provide the best possible medical care and treatment to the people of this community."

The hospital will be the home of the Greater New York Tuberculosis and Respiratory Diseases Association, Inc., and will be under the auspices of the National Association of Tuberculosis and Respiratory Diseases Associations.

Mayor La Guardia pointed to the presence of thousands of people in the audience as evidence of the popularity of the hospital. "This is a wonderful hospital building," he said. "We can't depend on cure alone," he added.

Mayor La Guardia pointed to the presence of thousands of people in the audience as evidence of the popularity of the hospital. "This is a wonderful hospital building," he said. "We can't depend on cure alone," he added.

Dr. Alfred Ring, former assistant medical commissioner of the city, was appointed to take over the duties at the new hospital. Dr. Ring has been a strong advocate of health clinics for the indigent and took over his duties at the old hospital 22 years ago.

Dr. S. S. Goldwater, president of the Greater New York Tuberculosis and Respiratory Diseases Association, Inc., took part in the ceremonies, which were witnessed by thousands of people.

Dr. S. S. Goldwater said: "We have only commenced to work on this hospital. We have not reached our full strength yet. But it is our intention to provide the best possible medical care and treatment to the people of this community."

The hospital will be the home of the Greater New York Tuberculosis and Respiratory Diseases Association, Inc., and will be under the auspices of the National Association of Tuberculosis and Respiratory Diseases Associations.