A multi-million dollar project to eliminate the Northern boulevard bottleneck at Whitestone Parkway and the northwestern half of the Willets Point parking fields, along with the New York City Parkways, is pressing ahead today.

The project will be part of a $250 million program for improving traffic conditions throughout the city and the state.

The President of the United States, who is due to arrive by 9:30 tonight, will be met at the airport by Mayor Wagner and a group of 13 noted, high-priced politicians.

The President's itinerary for today includes a visit to the Parkways, where he will be greeted by Mayor Wagner and a group of 13 noted, high-priced politicians.
