Application Made to Extend 111th Street Bus to Subway

An application for a franchise to extend the 111th Street bus line from its present terminus on the south side of Jamaica Avenue to the Union Turnpike station of the Independent Subway in Kew Gardens, will be made Tuesday morning by William Cooper, president and Lawrence Birkner, treasurer, of the Green Bus Lines, Inc. The matter will be put on the Board of Estimate reference calendar for April 24 (for the attention of the franchise bureau).

The route, officially known as Q-5, north on 111th Street to Myrtle Avenue, over Myrtle to Park Lane South, then to Park Lane and over 86th Avenue to Union Turnpike, and the subway station. The route starts at 131st Street and 1330 Avenue. The route is to be known as the "Lion Line." The Borough President Harvey, the Richmond Hill Board of Trade and the Richmond Hill Civic Arc, are on record in favor of extending the line as an accommodation to the public. It will probably be September at the earliest, according to well-informed sources, before a franchise would be awarded.
