Obituary

Violet Higgins Dies at 80, Was Pioneer Cartoonist

An actor whose work was known by many entertainers, Hoyt Black, who died in Montefiore Hospital Service, had been active in the film and television businesses for many years.

Mrs. Higgins was born in 1930 in New York City. She was a member of the National Actors Equity Association. She was also active in the Theatre Guild and the American Theatre Wing.

One of her best-known roles was as a member of the cast of the comedy "You're a Big Thing." In addition to her work on film and television, she appeared on stage in the Broadway productions of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and "The Front Page." She was also a member of the American Theatre Wing and the American Academy of Dramatic Arts.

Mrs. Higgins died in Montefiore Hospital Service on July 28, at the age of 80.
She leaves her husband, Hoyt Black, and two children, Elizabeth and Lori Black.

Funeral services were held in the home of Mrs. Black on July 30, at 10 a.m. Interment was in the Riverside Cemetery.

The family is receiving friends at the home of Mrs. Black.

Bingham Urges Anti-Riot Controls

Newspaper Anti-Riot Programs

A pioneer newspaper, with its two grandchildren, Elizabeth and Mrs. Higgins, was buried on July 30, at the home of Mrs. Black.

Newspaper Anti-Riot programs are designed to help improve the quality of life in cities. They are especially important in urban areas where crime rates are high.

Mrs. Higgins lived in New York City for many years. She spent an active career in the entertainment industry, appearing in many films and television shows.

Roma Cherry Studies

In Candelabra

By Service Cherry,
New York

The Candelabra, a "pioneer newspaper" with its two grandchildren, Elizabeth and Mrs. Higgins, was buried on July 30, at the home of Mrs. Black.

Newspaper Anti-Riot programs are designed to help improve the quality of life in cities. They are especially important in urban areas where crime rates are high.

Mrs. Higgins lived in New York City for many years. She spent an active career in the entertainment industry, appearing in many films and television shows.

Roma Cherry Studies

In Candelabra

By Service Cherry,
New York

The Candelabra, a "pioneer newspaper" with its two grandchildren, Elizabeth and Mrs. Higgins, was buried on July 30, at the home of Mrs. Black.

Newspaper Anti-Riot programs are designed to help improve the quality of life in cities. They are especially important in urban areas where crime rates are high.

Mrs. Higgins lived in New York City for many years. She spent an active career in the entertainment industry, appearing in many films and television shows.

Roma Cherry Studies

In Candelabra

By Service Cherry,
New York