Axis Victory to Kill U. S. Commerce, Pearsall Warns
F. J. Taylor Asserts Merchant Marine Must Replace Obsolete Craft

New Orleans, Dec. 10.—War industries, A. P. Pearsall, president of the American Mercantile Marine Foundation, which has been given today by Captain C. T. Toomey, president of the National Maritime Union, and the American Shipbuilders Association, are not scheduled to be at full capacity before the end of the war, according to the President.

"The American Merchant Marine, under the leadership of the American Merchant Marine Council, is the largest shipbuilding organization in the United States and has been active in the construction of many coastwise vessels, particularly for the U.S. Navy.

"However, it is not expected that the merchant marine will be able to supply the full number of ships required for the war effort before the end of the year. The situation is due to the fact that the merchant marine is not scheduled to be at full capacity before the end of the war, according to the President.
