W. Virginia Jobless Aid Plan Aired By Kennedy Democratic Candidate Proposes Program To Rescue Workers
From 'Indifference'
On Part of Rival

KENNE ThAD D. V. - Sen. John F. Kennedy entered in West Virginia - the state that alread)' has lived on the White House trail - and promised he will force his Democratic opponents to a policy debate on the jobless issue at a rally there,

Kennedy sharply challenged the Democratic candidates for governor in the state to explain their plans for creating jobs and providing aid to the nation's depressed areas.

KENNEDY'S speech was predominantly a pre-election address to the Democratic workers in West Vir­ rinia, the heart of the econo­ Striped West. It was a response to a speech by his Iowa rival, Sen.
Hubert H. Humphrey, who warned that Kennedy's stand in support of the proposed national interest.

The vice-president said the Democratic candidates must face the threat of a possible general strike in the steel industry, which Kennedy said was one of the nation's chief problems.

Kennedy said the steel industry has a vital role in the nation's economy and that the United States could not afford to be without its steel.

Kennedy stressed the need for the Democratic candidates to support the administration's position on the steel industry and to work for a settlement of the strike problem.

He also said the Democratic candidates must be willing to
support the administration's position on the steel industry and to
work for a settlement of the strike
problem.

Kennedy said the Democratic
candidates must be willing to
support the administration's posi­
tion on the steel industry and to
work for a settlement of the strike
problem.

Kennedy said the Democratic
candidates must be willing to
support the administration's posi­
tion on the steel industry and to
work for a settlement of the strike
problem.

Kennedy said the Democratic
candidates must be willing to
support the administration's posi­
tion on the steel industry and to
work for a settlement of the strike
problem.

Kennedy said the Democratic
candidates must be willing to
support the administration's posi­
tion on the steel industry and to
work for a settlement of the strike
problem.

Kennedy said the Democratic
candidates must be willing to
support the administration's posi­
tion on the steel industry and to
work for a settlement of the strike
problem.

Kennedy said the Democratic
candidates must be willing to
support the administration's posi­
tion on the steel industry and to
work for a settlement of the strike
problem.

Kennedy said the Democratic
candidates must be willing to
support the administration's posi­
tion on the steel industry and to
work for a settlement of the strike
problem.