Nine Mile Point Plant Permit Set

WASHINGTON - The Atomic Energy Commission on June 2 declared its intent to issue a 60-day provisional license for the Nine Mile Point Nuclear Power Company to proceed with construction of the first nuclear power plant in New York state.

The commission said it would hold a public hearing on the license beginning July 6 and would consider the license at its meeting next month.

The company, which has been planning the plant since 1961, was formed in 1965 by the state of New York. The plant is to be located on the shores of Lake Ontario, near Oswego. It is expected to be operational by 1972.

Black, White Impact Study Set

WASHINGTON - A study of the impact which black and white television will have on the psychological state of children in the United States was scheduled for completion in 1970.

The study, sponsored by the National Institute of Mental Health, will examine the effect of black and white television on children's behavior.
